Northern Plains Due for Snowfall

By UNITED PRESS

A new blast of cold air is expected to spread snow over portions of the northern Plains and northern Rockies today, but continued clear and balmy weather was seen in the East for the second game of the World Series.

The cold, Canadian air swept into the northwest Wednesday night, dropping temperatures an average of 10 to 15 degrees. The cold air ranged from the Washington and Oregon coasts east to Montana.

Nearly a half inch of rain accompanied the cold air advance in Grangeville, Idaho, and Baker, Ore., and snow fell at Mullen Pass, Idaho, during the night as readings dipped below freezing.

The cooler weather is expected to push east into the Dakotas today with the pattern of scattered showers changing to snow in parts of the northern Plains and Rockies. Continued rain is expected in the southeast.

Somewhat warmer weather is seen for the northern Great Lakes region where readings plunged to 26 degrees at Grand Marais, Mich., early today.

Mercury, Rain Above, Normal in September

Warm temperatures in the early part of the month and the rain near the end made September temperatures and precipitation slightly above normal, according to the weather bureau summary.

Temperature average for the month was 67.4 degrees, three degrees above normal. Rainfall totalled .80 of an inch for September which was .15 over the norm.

Highest temperature during the month was 96 degrees, occurring on three days, Sept. 9, 14 and 20. Lowest was 38 on Sept. 19.

No measurable precipitation was recorded until Sept. 26. Of the total rainfall .79 fell in a 24-hour period.

River Level Being Lowered for Work

Grants Pass—The level of the Rogue river at Savage Rapids dam is being lowered preparatory to placing fish screens at the dam, a U. S. bureau of reclamation official here said Wednesday.

The screens are to be placed over the turbine inlets on the north side of the dam. The screens are expected to be shipped from California in six months, it was reported. The irrigation season was ended Friday.

Installation cost of the screens is estimated at $128,000. Peter Kiewit and Sons' Construction company with offices in Medford is the contractor. Purchase contract for the screens is estimated at $17,000, the bureau man said.

Work on replacement of a revetment below Pearce riffle by the U. S. corps of Army engineers is scheduled to start Oct. 14, he added. Bids for the work are to be opened Oct. 8. Some patch-work was done on the revetment a year ago.

Man Arrested Here Wanted in Florida

Jimmie Leon Malone, 22, last known address Spokane, Wash., was arrested by Medford city police Tuesday afternoon and lodged in city jail for two traffic citations. Police later learned he was wanted by Florida authorities for parole violation.

Malone, who was driving a car registered in the name of a Spokane man, was cited by police for failure to display vehicle registration and an operator's license.

He was transferred to Jackson county jail Wednesday morning pending investigation by city police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and the arrival of Florida authorities.

REDS SHELL QUEMOY

Taipeth, Formosa — Communist Chinese artillery on Hiao Teng Island shelled the Nationalist Chinese-held offshore island of Quemoy Wednesday afternoon, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said today. The shelling caused no casualties and little damage, the announcement said. It was the first Communist shelling since Aug. 31.

Gas Rates in Area Raised October 1 About 10 Per Cent

Starting Tuesday, Oct. 1, gas rates in the Southern Oregon area went up an average of 10 per cent, according to officials of the California-Pacific Utilities company.

Local officials said the company received substantially the same per cent of increase it had requested from the Public Utilities commission April 29. A 9 per cent increase was granted for domestic users while commercial users will receive a 11 per cent increase.

The boost in rates will give the company 6.13 per cent return of its investment which is 1.75 per cent more than last year's return of 4.38 per cent. The company said the increase was necessary to finance approximately 6 per cent on an investment, a local official said.

Expansion Planned
The company has earmarked $133,373 for expansion and improvement of facilities in the coming year.

Medford, Ashland, Klamath Falls, Roseburg and Grants Pass are served by the California-Pacific Utilities company. There are more than 6,000 customers in this area, which will be affected by the boost in prices, the company said.

Bottled or tank gas users will not be affected by the rate raise, according to Public Utility Commissioner Howard Morgan.

Astoria Bridge Steps Exhausted

Astoria—Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.) told the Astoria Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night that he had exhausted every possible avenue of federal aid for the proposed Astoria bridge across the Columbia river and that reliance would have to be placed on the state highway programs of Oregon and Washington.

"The Reconstruction Finance Corporation might have been in a position to lend us the necessary sums," Norblad said, "but after its dissolution a few years ago it was replaced by the Small Business Administration which has neither the legal right nor the funds to lend to such a project."

"While I shall continue to scour every federal agency which might be of some possible assistance to us, I don't want to hold out any false hopes of help from Washington, D.C., in building our bridge."

British TV Audiences Given 'Naked' Truth

London — British television audiences saw the naked truth about nudism Wednesday night.

Interviewer Daniel Farson visited "Spielplatz" playground nudist colony north of London for a 15 minute program in which nudists cavorted about in the all together.

One view showed pretty Mrs. Isult Kelly sitting by a swimming pool while other nudists played tennis, ping pong and volleyball in the background. A few children strolled by with their mothers.

But any views of complete torsos were taken from a comfortable distance which obscured anatomical details. Closeups concentrated on heads and shoulders.

The Independent Television Authority said no one called in to complain but that one man called in to congratulate Farson for his objective interviewing.

Marlon Brando Hurt In Fall During Movie

Hollywood — Actor Marlon Brando rested at his home today after suffering a dislocated shoulder when he fell down a grade while filming a movie on location in Angeles National Forest.

Brando Wednesday requested that he be permitted to do his final scene in the movie "The Young Lions." The scene had called for Brando's stand-in to fall down the grade.

As Brando fell, he injured his right shoulder. His physician said the actor would have to wear a cast for at least three weeks.
