

Marshfield Defeats Tornado 12-0 To Claim Prep Record

Coos Bay—Marshfield high's Golden Pirates, outfought by a slender edge in the opening half, mounted third and fourth quarter touchdowns here Friday night to overcome the Black Tornado of Medford 12-0 and lay claim to a record unbeaten string.

It was the 39th game without defeat for the Buccaneers. Ties with South Salem and Medford only keep the mark from being a victory streak. Thirty nine frays without a loss is one better than the record of Medford clubs of 1924 into early 1929. But incomplete information on the Tornado's 1923 season somewhat clouds the Marshfield claim.

Outcome Friday left the Pirates unscathed upon in four conflicts this season.

Medford outnetted Marshfield 82 to 66 in scrimmage yardage in the first half. But the host aggregation for this non-district fust rolled up 164 yards over the last two periods while the Black Tornado netted but 14.

Marshfield moved out right at the start of the second half, marching 63 yards to the goal after the kick-off. Poggie Baker made the last five yards to the end zone on a keeper play. Second TD came on the first play of the fourth panel, ending a 40-yard drive launched when Walt Hunter fell on a Medford fumble. Larry Bick took a pitchout from Quarterback Baker and went six yards to cross the goal.

Hardy Spurgeon, 204-pound fullback was the workhorse of the first Marshfield scoring push. But a 14-yard pack by Bick and a pass from Baker to Spurgeon were important gainers in the drive. It took nine plays. The backs pretty well divided the duties on 10 carries on the way to the second touchdown. Bad center passes hurt the extra point tries. Spurgeon was unable to get a kick away after the first TD. The boot was wide on the second try.

Only big Tornado threat came in the second quarter when the Medfordites gained to the Marshfield 26. They lost the ball on downs. Three of Medford's four first downs were in the opening half. Each club gained 90 yards in the first and second quarters. Medford threw the Pirates for losses totalling 24 while losing eight, itself.

Medford had the defense stand-out of the night for both clubs. Jim Funston, Tornado linebacker, recorded 24 tackles. Spurgeon and Tim Bullard topped the Pirates with nine and eight stops, respectively. Tom Merton had six for Medford and Bick six and Bill Conchane five for Marshfield.

Rain fell through the first half of the encounter of the game matching the 1936 foes in the A-1 state championship finals. Only chance for the two clubs to meet again this season would be in state finals. Medford in District 6 and Marshfield in District 5 in the lower bracket.

"They stayed right in there all the time," Coach Fred Spiegelberg said concerning the Black Tornado after the game. "The kids did a real good job and tackled well," he said, adding that Spurgeon of the Pirates was probably the difference. Spiegelberg pointed to Jim Funston's play all over the field, to Merton's performance in "one of his better games" and to the work of Tom Hamlin.

He said that he felt that Bobby Gee and the other backs ran well but with penalties coming along at times to stop the offense.

The Tornado came through without injury, according to the head mentor. He said that Tackle Albert, who sprained his ankle two weeks ago, did not see action.

Caveman Gridsters Down Crater 20-13

Grants Pass — Grants Pass became the first winner in 1937 District 6 A-1 and Southern Oregon conference football by trimming a ruggedly resisting Crater eleven 20 to 13 here Friday night on a sloppy, rain-drenched turf.

The Cavemen and Comets of Central Point ushered in the league campaign while the other three members of the district were still engaged in non-conference. In the non-loopers Ashland tripped Lakeview 13 to 7, Medford fell to Marshfield 12 to 0 and Klamath Falls was battered by Springfield 31 to 0.

Grants Pass, ranked No. 7 in one of Oregon's prep polls last week paved the way for victory with two first half touchdowns while holding the Comets scoreless. Crater, strictly untried, showed its disdain for pollsters in the second half, outscoring the Cavemen 13 to 7, although out-yarded.

Smith To Sparlin
Touchdowns on a 12-yard pass play, Jim Smith to Mike Sparlin, in the first quarter and on a 15-yard cut by Dean in the second stanza plus Dewart Gurule's kicked conversion after the first TD gave the GP club its 13 to 0 midway spread. Crater fought back in the third quarter with Wayne Allen smashing the end zone on a one-yard sneak and pitching to Bob Fowler for the extra point.

Grants Pass made it 20 to 7 in the fourth quarter when Don Lewellyn crossed the goal from a yard out and Gurule booted his second bonus. The Comets closed out the point production on a five-yard aerial, Allen to Jerry Kime, in the waning moments.

A pass interception by Richard Condray gave the Cavemen their first opportunity to reach the Crater end zone. He snared the toss by Allen on the Comet 30 yard line and four plays later Grants Pass had its touchdown. Dean made gains of three and six yards and Mike Rose gained nine yards for a first down on the 12. Then Smith connected with his favorite target, Sparlin, behind the goal.

In the middle of the second chukker with the Comets on their 15-yard line, Allen punted to the Crater 44. Sparlin took the kick and in an arching run down the field made it to the goal. But a Caveman clipping penalty was flagged, nullifying the dash and putting GP on its own 45.

Penalties Help
That set the stage for a 55-yard goalward drive. Grants Pass made it in seven plays aided by penalties of 15 yards, for pass interference, and of five yards against the Comets. Dean's 13-yard poke started off the march. Gurule's point after touchdown kick was good but both clubs were offside. Glenn Cote blocked the second try.

Crater pushed 54 yards in 10 plays for its initial TD. Fowler, Allen Barnes and Lee Gossett made the short gainers and a Wayne Allen to Fowler pass for 27 yards put the ball on the one yard line, setting up Allen's final sneak.

Grants Pass took the kick off and went 63 yards in 12 plays for its final TD. Big gain was a 31-yard pass, Smith to Sparlin, and Dean had 11 and nine-yard cracks. A 15-yard holding penalty marred the drive.

Punt Blocked
A partially blocked punt gave Crater the ball on the GP 32. The Comets were put back to the 47 for holding but picked up 22 yards to the 25 on an Allen to Paul Beach pass. Seven plays later they scored. Long run of the march was 14 yards around right end by Kerman Bennett.

Barnes on the kick-off tried two outsiders. He practically missed the ball on the first try. The Comets were penalized five yards and on the second kick Grants Pass recovered and took possession on the Crater 42. GP had the ball on the Crater 30 as the final signal sounded.

Gossett may have been lost to the Comets for the season. He suffered a knee injury when a GP player fell on his leg in the fourth quarter. The Comet went through the line on a fine fake and was tackled by two Cavemen who were deceived into thinking he had the ball.

Crater outdid the highly regarded Cavemen passing attack with its own aerial thrusts. Wayne Allen's tosses gained 83 yards to 64 for those of Sparlin. Smith completed three of nine throws and Allen six of 11. The figures don't include two pass interference infractions called on Crater.

MSU Downs California's Bears, 19-0

Berkeley — Michigan State, which normally grinds its foes into the ground with line plays, took to the air Saturday to score all three touchdowns today as it ran up a solid 19-0 victory.

Stopped cold on the ground by a rugged defense when with in scoring distance, quarterback Jim Ninowski tossed two touchdowns passes to ends Dave Kaiser and Sam Williams in the first and second quarters. And for top dressing in the last period quarterback Mike Panitch tossed to halfback Art Johnson for the final score.

McLoughlin, Hedrick Cop Grid Tilts

Medford junior high ninth grade football team won their season opener on Friday. Hedrick bounced Grants Pass 14 to 6 and McLoughlin whipped the Crater freshmen 18 to 7.

Kenny Morris got both touchdowns for Hedrick, on each in the first and second quarters on runs of about 26 yards each. Don Sieg and Morris ran the extra points. The TDs ended 90 and 80-yard marches with one final run around end and the other up the middle.

Bud Hathaway wound up a 65-yard Grants Pass scoring drive with a five yard jaunt to the end zone in the third quarter.

The Hornets, who drew praise from Coach Barney Riggs for their teamwork, controlled the ball during the first half.

McLoughlin crossed the Crater goal in the first, second and third quarters and the Comets scored in the fourth.

A 20-yard end run by Mike Hood ended a 60-yard drive for touchdown No. 1. Al Funston crunched the last yard in the second quarter after Dennis Bauman gained the last TD from 12 yards out. Loyal Higinbotham passed to Wayne Martin for the Crater touchdown.

A 92-yard run to the goal by Hood was called back because of clipping and holding infractions by McLoughlin. Terry Earl, guard, Phil Baird, defensive tackles, and Phil Humphreys, defensive end, were line standouts.

In a Thursday night game McLoughlin eighth grade tied Ashland 7 to 7.

Panthers Tip Jacksonville In 5B Scrap

Jacksonville — Chiloquin's Panthers spotted the Redskins two touchdowns here Friday, got their own offense running late in the second quarter and came back to overtake Jacksonville high 19 to 13 in a District 5B football brush.

It was Chiloquin's second victory in three loop scuffles and Jacksonville's third setback in as many games. The Redskins tabulated their first touchdowns of the season.

Rain fell throughout the hassle but did not keep the clubs from taking to the air. All five touchdowns of the afternoon were scored on passes.

For the winning touchdown the Panthers had to go almost the length of the field in the final canto. After getting the ball on a punt on their own four-yard line they were penalized to the one for delay of game. That made it 99 yards to the Redskins goal.

Chiloquin moved relentlessly with a pass play, Richard Ochoa to Bruce Parazoo, eating up 30 yards and putting the ball on the nine. Munson Sandoval gained to the six but lost to the seven. Then Ochoa hit Parazoo with a flat pass for the TD. Ochoa's buck for the extra was short.

The Ochoa to Parazoo combination paid off for the other two touchdowns. Chiloquin went from its own 27 to tally in the fading moments of the first half. A seven-yard aerial got the goal. Jim Ochoa's kick try for a bonus failed. In the third quarter a 45-yard pass play got the touchdown. Sandoval swept the left side for the extra counter.

Dennis Caird heaved to Eldon Smith for both Jacksonville touchdowns. Both were 20 yard plays and were in the second panel. The first followed a blocked punt in which Smith and Marion Dowell converged on kicker Richard Ochoa.

In the only other District 5B fracas Friday Malin dropped Bonanza 13 to 0 fir its third win in the loop against no losses. Two other week end B games were called off because of flu. St. Mary's at Sacred Heart and Talent at Merrill. Talent and Merrill are unmarred in two tussles.
