Rainy Weather Worries Klamath County Growers
Klamath Falls — Rainy weather and soggy fields today caused concern in Klamath county for the fate of the onion and potato crops.
Sandlot potato growers are fairing better than those whose potatoes are growing in the black bottom land soil across the state line near Tulelake, Calif.
County Agent Charles Henderson said if the potatoes are dug when the ground is too wet earth sticks to the tubers and rot is likely to develop when the potatoes "warm up" in the cellars.
Using Lighter Equipment
Between 11,000 and 12,000 carloads of potatoes are shipped annually from the Klamath basin and normally the harvest would be in full swing by now. Soggy ground prevents use of heavy equipment in much of the Klamath basin but some growers are cleaning off one field at a time, using lighter equipment and hand diggers.
The basin this year has an estimated 600 to 700 acres of onions and less than half of them have been harvested. Growers reported some rot has been encountered.

Selling Drives Send Stocks To New Lows

New York — Two selling drives today sent stocks to new lows for exactly two years. The first burst of unloading came shortly after noon accompanied by a late ticker. A short rally was followed by a new break which at its lows recorded a loss in paper values of all listed issues of nearly $4 billion dollars.
That four billion drop brought the dollar loss since the market made its 1957 highs July 12 to around $38 billion.

Neuberger Urges McCall Choice for Civil Rights Post

Portland — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) today urged the consideration of Tom Lawson McCall, Portland radio and television news commentator, as executive director of the President's Civil Rights Commission.

McCall, a Republican, has long been active in the civil rights field in Oregon. In 1954 he was a candidate for Congress but was defeated by Edith Green, his Democratic opponent. Neuberger wrote to Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. recommending McCall's appointment. The Democratic Senator pointed out that the director of the new Civil Rights Commission should be beyond partisan considerations.

"The economic matters on which I disagree with Mr. McCall are not at stake in this situation," Neuberger wrote. He concluded, "While I naturally cannot speak for any other member of the Senate except myself, I think I can promise you safely that no major projects would develop against Mr. McCall on the part of Senators who were active supporters of the recent civil rights bill enacted at the federal level."
McCall, while administrative aide to then Gov. Douglas McKay, was active in pressing for enactment of Oregon's fair employment practices act and later worked for passage of the Oregon civil rights law to safeguard equal access to public accommodations.

Buffalo Offered Cut Up or Live To Buyers in U.S.

Washington — Uncle Sam's special of the month: Fancy fresh killed buffalo, 30 cents a pound.
The Fish and Wildlife Service said today it has 250 buffaloes for sale at its Wichita Mountains Wildlife refuge in Oklahoma.
William E. Ackernecht of the Wildlife Refuge Office said the government is offering the buffalo in four low-money categories:
—For $180 the refuge will ship to your door prepaid an entire frozen buffalo butchered into handy barbecue-size cuts.
—For $160 you can get the same frozen buffalo shipped to you prepaid but it will have been cut only in quarters.
—For $140 you can get the same quartered buffalo FOB Wichita. In this case, the buffalo will not be frozen; only cold.
—For $125 to $150 you can get the same buffalo FOB Wichita on the hoof.
Ackernecht said if you want one on the hoof you will have to be investigated first.
"We won't sell them to just anybody," he said. "A buyer must have the proper facilities and capabilities to care for one."
Ackernecht said the refuge had to sell off the buffaloes to keep the 1,000-head herd down to the right size for its grazing land.

CARRIER WORK DELAYED
Washington — Completion of the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk may be delayed "by several months," the Navy has announced. It blamed the delay on installation of equipment to handle and launch guided missiles and incorporation of "improved facilities" to handle aviation fuel. A fixed date for completing the carrier has not been established, but it may not be ready for sea until late 1959.
The Kitty Hawk, fifth of the Forrestal class, is being built by the New York Ship-building Corp., Camden, N.J.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THIRTEEN

Grange Notes

Upper Applegate Grange
Upper Applegate Grange members were reminded of the familiar words of Shakespeare, "How far that little candle sheds its beams," when there was a power failure during their meeting Tuesday evening and the only light remaining in the room was the Home Economics Flame of Friendship candle. This was supplemented by numerous flashlights so the meeting could proceed, and lights, heat, and water were restored to the hall an hour later with resumption of electrical service.
Candidates Florence Lance of Medford, Ernest and Ella Dorn of Jacksonville, and Charles and Ivy DeShazo of Upper Applegate were obligated in the third and fourth degrees of the order by Worthy Master Menno Bachmann.
Home Economics Chairman Edna Sawyer reported a total of $70 cleared on the two-day rummage sale held in Medford last week. Of this sum, $60 was turned over to the Grange treasury and the balance invested in flavoring extracts for resale.
Grange members participating in the canning contest were instructed to bring their entries to the next meeting or to take them to Sister Sawyer's home as judging on the county level will occur at Pomona Grange in Phoenix soon.
A gift of $25 from the Upper Applegate Home Extension unit was received, and permission was granted unit members to use the American flag owned by the Grange for their pledge of allegiance during meetings of the organization which are held in the Grange hall.
Permission was also granted the civil defense organization to use the Grange hall in case of emergency.
An invitation to send representatives from the Grange to a meeting of the Jackson County Planning committee in its office in the court house at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 28, was read. All recommendations of the Grange in regard to the proposed county planning ordinance at that time are to be presented in writing for further consideration and study by the committee, it was stated.
Contributions totaling $12.45 were received by the treasurer to purchase an engraved plaque to be presented by the Grange to the community 4-H club organization.
Final arrangements were completed and floor work rehearsed for Grange Open House and Booster Night to be held at 8 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 11, and for the formal dedication of the new Grange hall on Sunday, Oct. 13, at 2 p.m. Both will be open meetings to which the public is invited. Responses received from other Granges in Jackson and Josephine counties to which invitations had been sent, indicated a probable attendance of more than 90 visiting Grangers at the dedication ceremonies to be conducted by State Master Elmer McClure.
Refreshments were served by members of the Home Economics committee following adjournment.

Crewmen Removed From Tanker on Reef in Pacific

Honolulu — The Navy announced today that all 45 crewmen successfully abandoned the Mission San Miguel when the tanker began listing dangerously and threatened to capsize on Maro Reef, 750 miles northwest of Honolulu.
The civilian crew was transferred to the LST 664, which had been standing by the Navy-chartered 22,000-ton vessel during part of its 22-hour ordeal on the reef.
The tanker ran aground at top speed of 15 knots Tuesday night. The cargo tanks were split, the engine room was flooded and the ship listed dangerously to port.
To Attempt Salvage
The Navy said the LST would remain on the scene until rescue ships could reach Maro to attempt salvage. Then the survivors will be brought to Pearl Harbor.
In its original distress message, the tanker radioed it had run aground on Laysan Reef. However, search planes found nothing at Laysan.
About 12 hours later, the ship was located on Maro Island, about 45 miles northwest of Laysan.
Capt. Perry J. Countryman, Long Beach, Calif., said the tanker had been running without a navigational fix for 56 hours due to overcast skies.
The captain hoped to keep his crew aboard until salvage ships could reach the scene, but when darkness neared and the list became more critical, he ordered his men to abandon the stricken tanker.
The ship, under charter to the Military Sea Transport Service, was en route in ballast from Guam to Seattle for inactivation when it ran aground.
