

News About Books From the Library

Among the people we envy are the catalog departments of mail order houses. They can say to their customers with assurance, "Your order should be here on Friday." Even when they say, "This item must be shipped from the factory; it may take two weeks," we envy them.

When a public library orders a book, it has no assurance that it will be received in five days, in five weeks, in five months. It may come by return mail if the wholesale jobber expects a great demand for it and has ordered a large supply of copies before publication. If, on the other hand, he has waited to order from the publisher until he gets an indication of the number of libraries and retail stores that will want copies, it may take some weeks to supply his customers, according to Miss Helen Webster, Medford librarian. Perhaps then the book may have exceeded all expectations in popularity, the publisher have depleted his own stock, and a new printing be required before the book can be shipped.

Only the very largest libraries order in sufficient quantity, or have sufficient order clerks, to enter into correspondence direct with the publishers concerning individual book orders; most libraries forward their orders each week or each month to book jobbers, who then consolidate orders and forward them to the various publishers. Then they wait; the libraries wait; and the readers wait.

The Medford library is now waiting for more than 800 titles, most of them ordered within the past six months, Miss Webster said. Meanwhile we continue to send in our weekly orders. All books on order are listed in the library's card catalog and will be reserved for you upon your request. You will then be notified when the book is available.

Gifts accounted for 104 of the 303 volumes added to the library during the past two weeks. Donors were Yetta R. Olson, Eagle Point, Mrs. Jo Mathiesen, Eagle Point, Arthur H. Thompson, E. P. Ireland, and Winifred Reich. The 92 new titles added to the adult collection are:

Medford Men Plan To Attend Meeting

Four Medford men are planning to attend the 38th annual convention of the Oregon Savings and Loan league scheduled in Portland Oct. 13, 14 and 15.

Robert F. Dyle Jr., of First Federal of Medford, John H. Pletsch, W. J. Warner and E. H. Singmaster, all of Jackson County Federal Savings and Loan, plan to attend the meeting.

The convention will be held in Portland's Congress hotel and will feature talks by experts in advertising, general business, thrift and home financing, accounting and budgeting procedures. The Monday night banquet speaker will be Dr. James Millar, director and lecturer for the Good Citizens Foundation.

Fur Coat Turns Up On Back of Refugee

Utica, Mich. — Two years ago Mrs. George Albrecht, wife of the mayor, sent a fur coat in a package to be distributed to the 'needy in Hungary. A few weeks ago Mrs. Albrecht's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jerome Black, of Detroit, spotted the coat on a refugee arriving in Windsor. Mrs. Black was working with a Hungarian refugee relief group. Mrs. Black told the Hungarian owner the history of the coat. The Hungarian bundled the coat up and sent it back to Hungary.
