

United States Must Become Full Baghdad Pact Member, Turkish Official Says

By RUSSELL JONES
United Press Correspondent
Ankara, Turkey — "The United States must become a full-fledged member of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact 'before peace can come to the Middle East,' a high-ranking Turkish government official said yesterday.

Fatin Rusut Zorlu, one of Turkey's three ministers of state, told the United Press.

"The United States must show the Middle East countries it has a real interest here. The only way to convince them is to join the Baghdad Pact as a full member."

The United States now is a member of the military and economic committees of the Baghdad Pact, which links Britain, Turkey, Pakistan, Iran and Iraq.

Zorlu said the Middle East countries "think America has no real interest—and no real policy."

He said the United States' full participation in the pact would have two major results:

"First, Jordan, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia would get over their fears and join, too."

"Second, anti-Communist elements in Syria would take courage and oust the present pro-Soviet regime."

Zorlu is a former foreign minister and is likely to regain the portfolio if the Democratic party wins the Oct. 27 general elections. He is now charged with overseeing the Turkish press and radio and tourists.

The minister said the U.S. lack of policy for the Middle East "became evident during the Suez affair."

"Although the British and French should have led the Israelis whip the Egyptians alone, you Americans should have stood by them after the mistake was made," he said.

"When the Arabs saw the Americans were unwilling to do anything they lost respect for the United States. The way to regain it is to announce the intention to keep peace in the Middle East, then back up the words by joining the Baghdad Pact."

Zorlu said "another American mistake" was in "wanting everyone to become democratic just because you are."

"We are a republic but we have good relations with Iran which is a kingdom. Even the old-fashioned monarchy is preferable to the Communist dictatorship which is your real enemy," the minister said.

Zorlu said Syria in itself posed no danger but as a Soviet base is a "danger to everyone with interests in the Middle East."

"Give the Soviets another six months or year to build bases there and Communist power will reach the Atlantic and take most of Africa," he said.

Zorlu laughed at reports that

Egypt had sent 15,000 troops into Syria.

"The figure is probably 1,500 or less," he said. "And who cares anyhow? Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser is just making more propaganda to show he is a big man in the Arab world."

Asked why Ankara newspapers completely ignored the Syrian situation, Zorlu said the elections are the "big news here."

"We are used to threats from Russia and are not worried what Syria says."

Southern Oregon College Sets New Enrollment Figure

Ashland — Southern Oregon college has again established an all-time record enrollment of 927 students compared to 911 for the preceding fall term, Dr. Elmo N. Stevenson, president, has announced.

Citing the new regional status of the college as outlined by Chancellor John R. Richards and the state board of higher education, as one of the main factors in its growth rate, SOC President Stevenson declared, "such a policy is a farsighted one and is designed to enable our college to better serve the higher education needs of our southern Oregon youth."

"Knowledge of our four year degree granting programs in general studies," he continued, "in secondary and elementary education, and of our broad offerings in preprofessional and semiprofessional areas of instruction, has been another factor, as has the added opportunity to obtain a master's degree in education."

Stevenson explained that the bachelor of science degree in general studies was offered in the areas of social science, humanities, and science-mathematics, and was a full four-year course.

Preprofessional curriculum offerings listed by Dr. Stevenson as appearing in the college catalog include those in agriculture; agricultural engineering; architecture and allied arts; art; bacteriology; botany; business administration; business education; chemistry; engineering (civil, electrical, mechanical); entomology; fish and game management; food technology; forestry; geology; home economics; industrial arts education; journalism; law; mathematics; medical technology; music; physical education; physics; premedical; premedicine; pre-nursing; pre-pharmacy; pre-veterinary medicine; range management; and zoology.

In the semiprofessional curriculum offerings, Dr. Stevenson mentioned courses for study for prospective medical and dental assistants, merchandising students and for those interested in secretarial science.

He expressed his appreciation for the fine cooperation shown by the citizens of southern Oregon in backing their regional college, ending with praise for "a faculty whose scholastic excellence, enthusiasm, and cooperation was outstanding in every way." Dr. Stevenson is beginning his 11th year at the helm of Southern Oregon college this fall.

BUTTE FALLS Several People Bag Deer

Butte Falls—Once again bright red and yellow hats are seen coming and going in Butte Falls accompanied either by frowning or smiling faces depending on the lucky and unlucky deer hunter.

Men working at Medford Corporation were off the first week of hunting season. Prior to this vacation week Medco men were shut down one week due to hot weather and low humidity.

Many Butte Falls people have gone to eastern Oregon hunting and valley people have been in this area for a try of luck. Many deer have been brought out of the Butte Falls area and with the last week end of hunting coming up more and more hunters are in this area.

One party of local people went into the Chilquin area the first week end of hunting and each member of the party came home with a mule deer. Hunters were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Price and son, Kenny, Les Price, Lloyd Boucy, Glenn Cathey and Bill Harris. Mrs. Price was the first

Clark Testifies At Maloney Trial

Portland—A Circuit court jury here Tuesday heard testimony in the conspiracy trial of Thomas E. Maloney after days of closed-door hearings over admission of tape recordings as evidence.

Raymond F. Clark, an employee of racketeer James B. Elkins, took the witness stand to detail to the jury the methods he used when he claimed to have wired the Maloney apartment in swank King Towers with microphones, amplifiers and recorders.

Maloney is accused of conspiring to profit from gambling operations in Portland. He is known in Seattle and Spokane as a confidant of racketeer and cardroom figures.

Both Clark and Elkins had previously used the fifth amendment to avoid testifying during pretrial hearings on a move by defense counsel Howard Loneran to suppress the tape recordings.

The jury had heard no testimony previous to Clark's since being sworn in last Thursday. Court sessions were all held in the chambers of Judge Martin Hawkins who still has not ruled whether he will allow admission of the tapes as evidence.

Old World Recipe Wins $25,000 Prize

Beverly Hills, Calif.—An old world recipe with a new twist won $25,000 for a French-born commercial artist in Pillsbury's Grand National Bake-Off.

The grand prize winner was Mrs. Gerda D. Roderer of Berkeley, Calif., who used a family recipe from Strassbourg, France, to create shortbread-flavored butter cookies called "Accordion Treats."

Mrs. Roderer, a resident of this country for four years, got the name from the accordion-pleated aluminum foil which she used as a baking vessel when she was unable to find the type of utensil used in Europe. The cookies were shaped like grapefruit slices.

TECHNICAL PLANT OPENED
St. Petersburg, Fla.—The Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company, whose devices will guide Sputnik's American counterpart into outer space, formally opened a $4½ million plant here Tuesday. The facility, which employs 450 persons and is engaged in orders totaling $3 million, is believed to be the first in this country specifically designed to produce inertial guidance systems for unmanned missiles and aircraft.

to get her buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith went into the Bly area and were joined the same day by Clyde Moore and Walter Frey. No luck was reported by this group of hunters. Since this trip Don has killed his buck, a four-point in the Butte Falls area.

Another group of hunters camped out the first week end of hunting at Four Mile lake. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rodgers and children of Butte Falls and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Meadows of Medford. No deer was reported by this group either. Since this trip Bill has killed a four-point and Meadows a three-point in the Butte Falls area.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rozell of Medford were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William (Doc) Bowen and family recently. Rozell and Bowen went hunting and Rozell came back with a three-point.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Arnold and daughters, Risa and Cheryl, of San Pablo, Calif., spent a week's vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Arnold. Mrs. Edwin Arnold's brother, Orrin Johnson, of Eugene and her mother, Mrs. Hattie Johnson, of Salem, were also guests here for several days. Orrin returned to his work and Mrs. Johnson accompanied the Arnolds home for a month's vacation with them and a son, Carroll Butts, now of Chico, formerly of Medford. Other visitors at the Jim Arnold home were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Greer and children of Medford and Harold Arnold of Pendleton. Harold is a son of the Jim Arnolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Page Stauffer recently visited in Klamath Falls with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stauffer and baby. Harry is a nephew of Page. The Harry Stauffers visited in Butte Falls the following week with the Page Stauffers while here on a business trip.

Miss Jeanette Capello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Red) Capello suffered head injuries last month when she fell from the back of a pickup truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Forest and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller and daughters of Medford were week end hunting guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Irwin. Mrs. Irwin and Mrs. Miller are sisters. This was the Forests' first hunting expedition. This party reported no luck.

Mrs. Jim Rodgers has moved to Medford and is living near her son, Ron Rodgers. Jim Rodgers died this past month. They had been residents of Butte Falls for the past 20 years. Jim Rodgers had officially retired in August after working for Medco 20 years.

Ted Reddell, a choker setter for Medford Corporation, recently suffered mouth injuries when he was hit by a limb. Ted had several cuts in his lip, one tooth removed and several others jarred loose. Gene Irwin, a cat-skinner for Medco recently had a similar accident to his mouth.

Recent overnight guests in the Donald (Porky) Smith home were Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Giles. Giles is the father of Mrs. Smith. The Giles are making plans to move to California before winter.

Miss Jeannie Clymer celebrated her sixth birthday at a party given in her honor at her home recently. Jeannie is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William (Doc) Bowen.

Guests attending were Kathy Conley, Terry and Suzie Mac Donald, Lana Perkins, Sherry Tygart, Nancy Smith, Steve and Mike Winters, Vanessa Facey, Carl and Pauline Clymer.

Parents attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Winters, Mrs. Don (Porky) Smith, Mrs. Burrell Facey and Mrs. Bowen, hostess.

Both schools opened this year with new hours. School starts at 8:45 a.m. and closes at 3:30 p.m.

Teachers in the high school this year are George Bray, superintendent; Dean Boggan, Robert Cupples and Mrs. Kenneth Knackstedt.

Teachers in the grade school are Mrs. Lorraine Backus, first grade; Mrs. Roger Harris, second grade; Mrs. Claude Curtis, third and fourth grades; Robert Sparks fifth and sixth grades; Charles L. Stratton, seventh and eighth grades and principal.
