Milburn-Rawstern Ceremony Held in Methodist Chapel

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Daulton Milburn, whose wedding was an event of October 5 at Meeker Memorial chapel, First Methodist church, are now living at 727½ West Fourth street, Medford. The bride is the former Margaret Joan Rawstern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Ambrose, 870 Ross lane, Medford, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville O. Milburn, Sweet Home, Ore.

About 110 guests attended the ceremony, performed by the Rev. George Roseberry of First Methodist church, Medford, and the Rev. Ross Knotts, First Methodist church, Ashland. Mrs. Gerald Sherman played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of rose point lace over nylon tulle and satin and carried a lavender orchid encircled with white carnations.

Miss Ellen Rawstern was her sister's attendant. She wore a frock of geranium colored crystal, ballerina length, and carried a cascade of white pompon chrysanthemums. Her headress was of these same flowers.

Byron S. Milburn, Portland, was best man for his brother and Bernard N. Rawstern, Seattle, Wash., brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Basket arrangements of pastel gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums and tapers in candelabra decorated the chapel.

The reception which followed was held at the home of the bride's parents, with about 80 guests attending. Serving were Central Point — Mrs. Mary Wallis Edwards, Route 2, Box 156, Central Point, became the bride of Michael Bruce Hayes, Eagle Point, in a ceremony held Saturday, October 12, at six o'clock in the evening at the First Christian church, Medford.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. J. A. Wallis, Malvern, Ark., and the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Mildred Hayes, Glendale, Ore.

The Rev. William C. Piper officiated at the double ring ceremony. White chrysanthemums decorated the church for the wedding.

The bride wore a ballerina length frock of shrimp colored nylon lace with silver and velvet accents. Her accessories were silver and she carried a bouquet of white roses and a white Bible. She was given in marriage by Roy E. Allen, Central Point.

Mrs. Allen was matron of honor and Miss Jean Bonney, niece of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Allen wore a ballerina length blue nylon lace frock with matching bolero jacket. Miss Bonney wore a frock of pink nylon lace. They both carried bouquets of pink carnations.

David Harbison, Eagle Point, served as best man and ushers were Ernest Himmelman, Eagle Point, Roger Schroeder, Central Point, and Art Besaw, Eagle Point.

At the close of the ceremony Penny Kay Hayes, daughter of the bridegroom, and the bride exchanged mother-daughter vows.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the church by members of the Lamplighters Sunday school class of the church.

The bride attended Malvern, Ark., schools and business college. She made her home in Wilmington, Calif., prior to moving to Central Point. The bridegroom attended Southern Oregon college and is employed by Snider's Dairy. The newlyweds are making their home at 416 South B street, Eagle Point.

World Religions
The chief tenets and teachings of Christianity, Judaism, Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism and Islam are outlined in a new book, "The World's Great Religions," published by Life Magazine. Hundreds of photographs, both in color and black and white, are included in the volume, which has been added to the Medford Public library.

One of the recent large social events in the valley was the annual fall party of Jackson County Shrine club, held at Rogue Valley Country club. About 200 attended. Pictured during the dinner are (left to right) Jack Walker, chairman of the party, and Mrs.

Walker: William Schei, president of the Shrine club and Mrs. Schei; Eugene Favell, Lakeview, Ore., potentate of Hillah temple of the Shrine and Mrs. Favell. Music for dancing was provided by Noble Louis Olker and his Shrine band from Chico, Calif.

British Give Splashy Party For Queen and Prince Philip

Washington — The Queen shook hands 16 a minute while the champagne flowed and flowed.

At the close of the ceremony Penny Kay Hayes, daughter of the bridegroom, and the bride exchanged mother-daughter vows.

The beautiful monarch stood in the chandelier lighted embassy ballroom receiving guests for more than two hours with only two breaks for a cup of tea.

At the same time, thousands of partygoers milled about the tent-covered garden, chatting and sipping cooling beverages.

Three bars manned by 11 bartenders dispensed champagne, scotch, bourbon, gin and in some isolated cases ice water and orange juice.

"Champagne and scotch are the favorites," a veteran bartender said. "Champagne and scotch for precedents and queens."

The Queen received the guests standing in front of a marble fireplace. Prince Philip stood beside her.

The guests at a formal dinner for Queen Elizabeth II held their
