

Red Raiders, Wolves In Crucial at Ashland

Ashland—The Oregon Collegiate conference's two unbeaten teams contend here Saturday in what is expected to be the 1957 football championship decider. Southern Oregon college's Red Raiders of the Rogue are hosts on Fuller field to Oregon College of Education for this most important game to date in the OCC. Game time is 2 p.m. and the conflict will be the biggest event in annual homecoming festivities on the Ashland campus.

Victor in the clash will have a 3-0 record in the loop with just one ruckus left to play. On the basis of comparative scores and statistics the Wolves of OCE are slight favorites. OCE won the last game of the season which Southern Oregon edged by a conversion. But the Raiders will have the advantage of their home turf.

RAIDER HALFBACK—Delmar Brood, above, 160-pound sophomore, is among Southern Oregon college halfbacks who'll see service this Saturday in the Oregon Collegiate conference football game with Oregon College of Education. Brood was a high school standout at Phoenix. He transferred to SOC after attending Shasta Junior college. The OCC scrap will be at 2 p.m. on Southern Oregon's Fuller field in Ashland.

A vandalism incident in which the Fuller field turf was cut, an effigy hung and signs painted has served to increase the zeal of the Raiders although there is no proof that Wolves supporters were responsible.

As for starters the most unsettled spots for SOC are at the halfbacks. It's likely between Delmar Brood and Larry Maurer or George Jeweland at right half although Eldon Francis is defensive standout could be the right spot call. Others in the opening backfield may be Lance Locke, quarter and Ron Maurer fullback.

In the line two ex-Medfordites, Chuck Romine, tackle and Bud Brittsan, guard, may be side by side. Other likely linemen are Norm Oliva and Cy Perkins, ends; Troy Bellah, tackle, Modesto Jimenez, guard, and Phil Sword, center.

Bruins-Hornets Call Off Hassle

Phoenix — Brookings and Henley High schools have called off their District 8 A-2 football game by mutual consent. Phoenix school officials were informed today.

The Bruin-Hornets game was to have been played Saturday afternoon on the Phoenix gridiron. Sickness among players was given as reason for the action. The Eagle Point-Illinois Valley tussle in the Rogue league and southern division of the district previously was postponed.

Phoenix and Glendale will meet at Glendale tonight in the only loop fracas of the week end. It is an important engagement since each is unmarked in four league combats.

Golf Open Lead Held By Boynton

Hesperia, Calif. — Slim, blond Frank Boynton, youthful golfer from Orlando, Fla., went into the second round of the $15,000 Hesperia Open Friday leading some of the nation's top golfers.

The 21-year-old Rawlins college student showed the "old pros" how to do it Thursday by touring the 7,102-yard course with a six-under-par 66 in the opening round.

Boynton's 33-33-66, which included nine birdies, was a course record on this Mojave desert links introduced to the golfing world with a tournament featuring top golfers.

But, there were still three days to go for Boynton at the start of Friday's round and the field packed one and two strokes back of him was enough to frighten a youthful Ben Hogan.

At 67 were Gordon Jones, Alliance, Ohio; Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Babe Lichardus, Hillside, N.J.

Twelve Entered In Garden Stake

Camden, N.J. — At least a dozen classy two-year-old thoroughbreds are expected to be entered Friday for the $275,150 Garden State stakes — the world's richest horse race — which will have its fourth renewal Saturday at Garden State park.

The probable starters for racing's modern "gold rush" are Misty Flight, Yemen, Jewel's Reward, Martin's Rullah, Music Man Fox, Nadir, Isendu, Terra Firma, Rose Trellis, Chance It Tony, My Warrior and Ambitwixt.

However, the field for the mile and one-sixteenth classic may reach 13 starters if trainer Joe Kuliina decides to enter the Colonial Farms' Fairfield.

Alston, Reese Sign Contracts

Los Angeles — The Los Angeles Dodgers were on record today as the club that's out to win the National league pennant next year.

Dodge Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi told newsmen at the ball club's first press conference in their new home Thursday that Walt Alston had been signed for his fifth year as Dodger manager along with shortstop-captain PeeWee Reese.

"They will lead us to a National league pennant next year," Bavasi said proudly.

Jersey City, N.J. — Parks Commissioner Bernard J. Berry said Wednesday that the Philadelphia Phillies have turned down an invitation to play eight of their games next season at Roosevelt Stadium. Berry said the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Redlegs also had been invited but had not yet replied.

Webfoots, Cougars Toss Weight Around

By SCOTT BAILLIE

San Francisco — Oregon and Washington State, who used to starve in the Pacific Coast Conference Garrett, were set to throw their weight around with a vengeance Saturday as the bizarre West Coast football season ground into the second half of play.

Oregon's Ducks, a team which hasn't been asked to the Rose Bowl in 37 years, were a one-touchdown choice over one-haughty California in a game at Eugene. A victory over the Bears, who have lost four out of five, might all but wrap up the Pasadena bid.

Oregon sports a 3-0 conference record for a one game lead in the race and its nearest pursuer among what is left of the Bowl eligibles is Washington State, who was nipped 14-13 by the Ducks in last week's "crucial."

The Cougars — who with Oregon, California and Stanford represent the only teams left in the PCC who qualify for the Rose Bowl — were in the slightly delirious position of being one point choices over fallen Southern California.

Time was when the mighty Trojans specialized in murdering Washington State as a season opener. But this is a year of revolutionary changes in football as well as guided missiles.

Southern California, along with UCLA, watched all its seniors get drummed out of the varsity corps as an upshot of excessive aid to the boys and remains winless in four attempts.

UCLA is at Stanford in another Coast Conference game but the Bruins are favored even if they don't have any fourth-year men either. Crafty Red Sanders guided his Bruins to a shocking 26-7 triumph over Oregon State last Saturday while Stanford had to rally to keep Washington starving, 21-14.

The Huskies, 0-4-1 in the books, host an Oregon State team that went back to fundamentals after being stunned by UCLA. Odds-makers expect the Beavers to bounce back after suffering their first loss in five games. Washington has lost four in a row after tying Colorado, 6-6, in the lidlifter.

COP Meets Cincinnati
College of the Pacific, which remains undefeated thanks to a brace of ties during the last two week ends, goes after its fourth triumph when it invades Cincinnati. The Bearcats, 3-1-1, defeated Marquette last week while COP came from behind to deadlock Idaho, 7-7.

The doughy Vandals, who have looked great losing and own a big upset over Utah, take on a Fresno State team which has failed to live up to its potential.

San Jose State, which belted San Diego State 46-0 last Saturday night, meets tougher opposition in the Eagles of North Texas State. The Texans are fresh from downing Tulsa, 14-12.

Undefeated and untied Chico State goes after victory number six in an invasion of Los Angeles State Friday night.

Top regional games find Texas Tech at Arizona and Arizona Tempe State at San Diego State.

Ashland, Crater Mix In Fray of Have-Nots

Central Point — "Have nots" of the Southern Oregon conference fight for a "have" here tonight.

Ashland and Crater high football aggregations continue the spirited athletic competition which has existed in recent years between the two schools. Each will be after its first victory in District 6 A-1 and the conference. Crater has dropped two loop tilts and Ashland bowed in the only one it has played.

Hope of the Crater Comets is to maintain their success of the past two seasons. Contention between the two schools has always been close but not until 1955 did Crater score its first triumph on the gridiron over the Grizzlies. The Comets won impressively again last year.

The fullback spot is the most "hurtling" for the Comets. Kermon Bennett may get the call if it appears his knee will take it. Otherwise sophomore Don Gillespie may be the selection.

Other possible starters for Crater are Wayne Allen, quarter; Bob Fowler and Allen Barnes, halfbacks; Paul Beach and Jerry Kime, ends; Doug Davis and Dave Brown, tackles; Tom Turner and George Hunt, guards, and Randy Campbell, center.

For Ashland the line-up could be Kip Lombard and Vern Speers, ends; Frank Conley and Mike Kearns, tackles; Gerry Troxel and Larry Glines, guards; Jerry Tepper, center; Don Simmons, quarterback; Al South and Wayne Collum, halfbacks, and Al McKinnis, fullback. Both clubs have had sickness and injury troubles.

Humboldt State Has Substitute Opponent

San Francisco — Two week end football games involving Northern California teams were cancelled Thursday because of the flu.

Humboldt State college was supposed to meet Western Washington in Bellingham, but the game was called off because of flu on the Northwest team. However, the Lumberjacks immediately scheduled a game with the Hamilton Field Flyers to be played in Arcata, Calif.

Sierra Junior College was hit with the flu germ and forced to cancel tonight's game in Auburn, Calif., with the San Jose State freshmen.

Little NCAA Schools Led By Piasecki

New York — Steve Piasecki of North Dakota, picking up most of his yardage on passes, has moved into first place among the total offense leaders in the small college football ranks.

According to the latest figures released by the NCAA Service Bureau, Piasecki totaled 1,010 yards in his first six games to open a big lead over his rivals. Bob Webb of St. Ambrose was second with 884 yards, four more than Jay Forlen of Pepperdine, while Norm Jarock of St. Norbert slipped from first to fourth with 872 yards.

Piasecki completed nine of 17 passes against North Dakota State last Saturday to maintain his lead in the pitching department. He has completed 62 passes for 992 yards and 10 touchdowns. Teammate Bob Herick was tops among the pass receivers with 29 receptions.

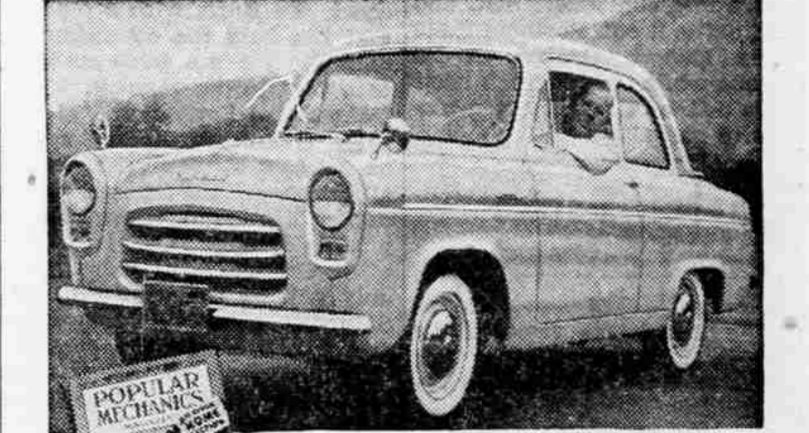

Although he did not play last week, Jarock still led the rushers with 700 yards gained. Don Polkinton of Washington, St. Louis, was tops in punting with a 47.8-yard average, and Leonard Lyles of Louisville was the highest individual scorer with 11 touchdowns and four conversions for 70 points.

In the team statistics, Grambling, La., led in total offense with an average of 470 yards gained per game; Florida A&M yielded only 44.5 yards per contest to lead in total defense; Mississippi Vocational was tops in passing with a 189-yard average, and Florida A&M was the rushing leader with a 398-yard mark.

DEPARTMENT HEAD — New head of the Southern Oregon college business department is Arnold D. Wolfe, former secretary of the Spokane Retail Trade Bureau and Chamber of Commerce office manager there. Originally from Nebraska, he was also president and general manager of Inland K-F Motors in Spokane and secretary-treasurer of Teters motors. He holds a master's degree from the University of Nebraska and has taught at Grand Coulee and Lincoln, Neb. He is living in Ashland with his wife and two children.

"An efficient, economical car with good handling characteristics," sums up Floyd Clymer, veteran test driver.

"Cheap to operate, easy to handle and park!"
say owners of English-built Fords

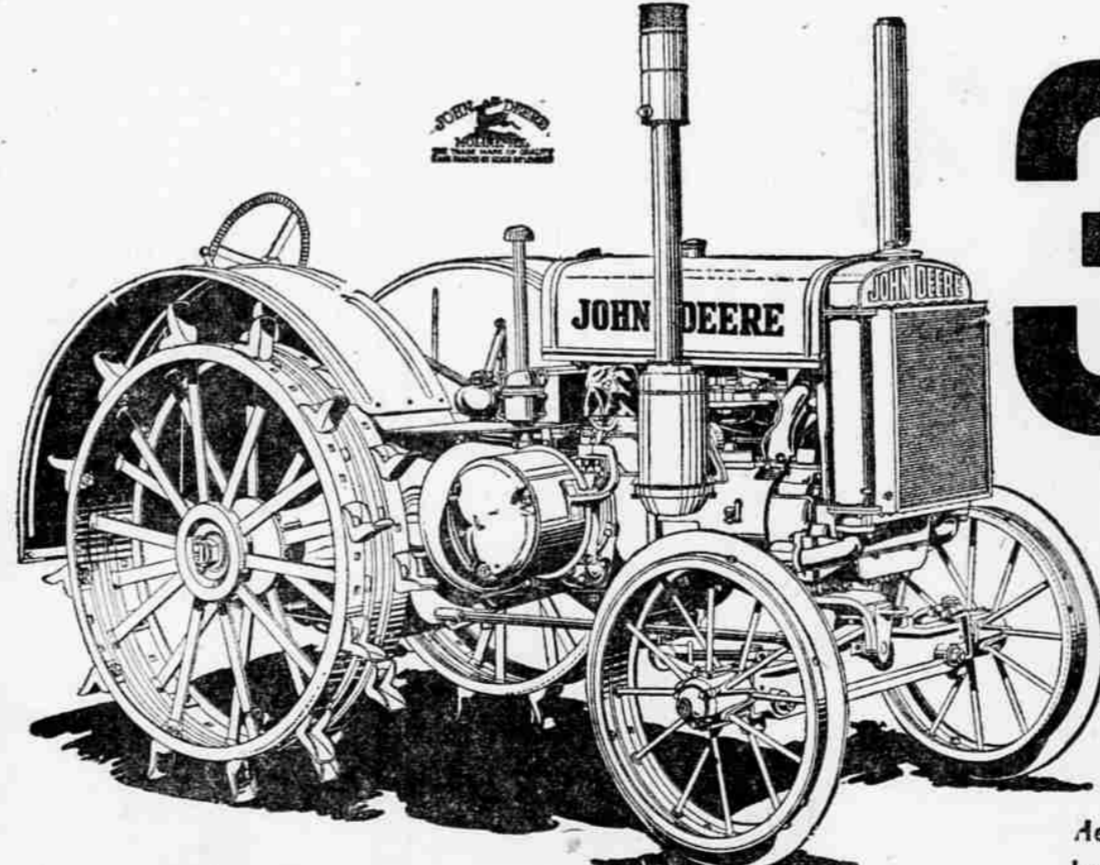

October Popular Mechanics reports interviews with hundreds of owners of English-built Fords, plus engineer's technical analysis and veteran driver's impressions. Read EVERY word of this informative article before you buy any car!

Here's what the expert says:
Floyd Clymer found that the English-built Ford...
...cruises nicely at 55 to 60 miles per hour... excellent suspension and corners well... Doors have a solid feel and the handles operate easily. The all-steel body has an integral construction that reduces squeaks and rattles... Brakes are excellent... It has a three-speed transmission of standard shift.

Here's what the owners say:
"My old car cost me around $35 a month for gas and oil. The British Ford costs only $15 a month, including lubrication and oil change."
"We made a 6422-mile trip and our car expenses were only $59.26."
"I go into parking spaces forwards."
"I like the joy of parking in spaces not big enough for regular cars."
"What I like most is its low purchase price."

33 YEARS...

... of Continuous Service Right Here In Jackson County!

Here is an artist's sketch of one of the FIRST HUNDRED tractors made by John Deere — No. 70-Model D—which was purchased by Arnold Bohnert back in 1924. Twenty years later it was bought by Claude Sneed and is in operation NOW, pumping water in the Lake Creek district! That's 33 years of continuous, dependable service.
