

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Bullis, 134 High street, Ashland, were honored on their 60th wedding anniversary at a dinner attended by Ashland and Medford family members. Married in Minneapolis in 1897, Mr. and Mrs. Bullis have lived in Oregon since 1903.

Sixtieth Anniversary Observed

Ashland—Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Bullis, 134 High street, Ashland, observed their 60th wedding anniversary October 19. Mr. and Mrs. Bullis are both 79 years of age. They were married October 19, 1897 in Minneapolis, Minn. They moved to Corvallis, Ore. in 1903 and Mr. Bullis was in business in Corvallis until 1933 when they moved to Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullis have three daughters and two sons, six grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Sunday, October 20 Mr. and Mrs. Bullis were entertained at a dinner given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bert Freeman, Ashland. Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Gardner, Teresa and Brian, Medford. Mrs. Fred M. Gardner, a granddaughter, assisted Mrs. Fred H. Gardner in making the anniversary cake.

Many messages, cards and gifts were received by the honored couple from relatives and friends.

Dad's Night Held by Bethel

Shady Cove — International Order of Job's Daughters, Shady Cove, observed Dad's night and Friendship night October 17 with a potluck dinner meeting. A large number of fathers and friends attended.

Visitors included Miss Linda Orr, honored queen from Grants Pass, Bethel, and nine Bethel members; Elmer Miller, associate guardian; Mrs. Miller and W. S. Orr, all of Grants Pass.

William Massey, past master of Cascade lodge, and Allen Rodgers, past associate guardian, Shady Cove, were introduced. Serving committee members were Miss Deborah Dunlap, Miss Mary Anne Hubbard, and Miss Kathy Snyder, assisted by their mothers.

Serving committee members for the next meeting November 7, when Masonic and Eastern Star night will be observed, are Misses Suzie and Sally McKillop and Miss Roma Shafer.

Transportation Club Holds Dance-Supper

The Rogue Valley Transportation club entertained its members at a party Saturday evening, Oct. 19, at the Robert Ruhl summer home on the Rogue river.

About twenty couples were present for dancing and a buffet supper.

Robert Toomey and Robert Burnett were chairman of the evening's entertainment committee.

In-Laws Need Not Be Out-Laws!
"I have the best mother-in-law east or west of the Rockies," announced Grace O. "She is helpful, she doesn't try to run my house, and she treats me like a friend. I like my mother-in-law!"

The Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club paused in an unbelieveing surprise. Mothers-in-law had been under fire for the past half hour, and Janie B., whose running account had featured arguments with her in-law over child discipline, finances, and division of household, had just brought out the heavy artillery of her latest dispute over politics and religion.

The club, one and all, had contributed tales of skirmishes with in-laws—all except Grace. Her defense stunned them into incredulous silence.

"A good in-law?" Phyllis C. finally asked. "Maybe there are good witches, too, but I don't believe it. Prove it, Grace!"

"Rob's mother treats us like friends," said Grace, "so we try to return her courtesy. She helps with the children, but we try not to ask her too often and we pay her as we would a baby-sitter. We're glad to have her help—and we know she can use the extra money. In turn, I take her shopping, but she never imposes upon me. We work out a schedule which suits us both. We are friends, but we don't trade on our relationships and ask unreasonable favors. That way we remain friends!"

In-laws are traditionally out-laws. Stories show them as jealous, domineering, selfish folk, understandably unwelcome. Some undoubtedly, fulfill this picture. The majority do not. Most in-laws honestly try to be friendly and reasonable. If they

Noon Prayer Meeting Announced by Group

The monthly noon prayer fellowship of Christian Business and Professional Women will be held Monday, October 28, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the annex of the First Baptist church. Those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch; hot coffee will be served.

Monday, November 4, installation of new officers will be combined with a dinner meeting to be held at the Hotel Jackson at 6 p.m.

Called "Decorative Tin-Can Craft," the bulletin points out that inexpensive tin cans are useful for artistic and creative decorative items. Tin is lightweight and easy to bend and cut into a variety of shapes. Only a few simple tools are needed to create tin craft items shown.

Corsage Preparation Discussed by Club

Prospect—Preparation of corsages was discussed by Mrs. Evelyn Tice in a talk to the Prospect Garden club October 22 at the home of Mrs. Paul R. Doe. Mrs. John Davidson and Mrs. John Gartman were hostesses.

The group selected Mrs. Robert Conger and Mrs. C. E. Sargent as delegates to the Siskiyou district convention.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Ira Fitzgerald and Mrs. Otto Nagel.

The new clothes are without a "period" influence, other than that of the 1930s. The "free" silhouette has supplanted the moulded empire sheath and the soft "fair lady" draping. Designer Mollie Parnis called the new trend one of "back to nature," because the clothes usually follow the natural figure.

Adult Halloween Party Told For Teachers at IOOF Hall

Gold Hill—The annual community "adult" Halloween party for teachers and personnel of Crater High, Patrick and Hanby schools will be held Wednesday, October 30, at 8 p.m. in the Odd Fellows hall.

The theme for the costumes this year will be "nursery rhyme," but costumes are not mandatory. Mrs. Walter McLean, chairman, stated that all adults in the community are invited to attend. Each woman member is asked to furnish a pie. The teacher's reception, which is sponsored annually by the Amethyst Rebekah lodge, is one of the largest social affairs held in Gold Hill each year.

Several organizations have planned skits for the program which will be presented during the evening.

The following organizations have named entertainment committee chairmen. Amethyst Rebekah lodge, Mrs. Paul Molloy and Mrs. Lester Parker; Mrs. Paul Molloy will also be for the Gold Hill Health unit, Gold Hill Parent-Teacher association, and Amethyst Rebekah Friendship club; Mrs. A. A. Walker, Gold Hill grange; and Mrs. Mike Taylor and Mrs. James Martin, Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary.

The decorating committee will meet at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, October 30, at the IOOF hall to decorate the tables and hall for the occasion. Those in charge of decorating will be Mrs. Paul Thompson, Amethyst Rebekah lodge; Mr. and Mrs. Hal Bishop and Mrs. McLean, Gold Hill Grange; Mrs. Nancy Robinson, Gold Hill PTA; Mrs. Mike Taylor and Mrs. James Martin, VFW auxiliary; Mrs. Clyde Kell, Amethyst Rebekah Friendship club; Mrs. George Dorman and Mrs. J. G. Kofahl, Gold Hill Health unit.

Serving chairmen include Mrs. Helen Steilman Shoemaker, VFW auxiliary; Mrs. Wilbur Martin, Gold Hill Grange; Mrs. Clarence Parsley, Amethyst Rebekah lodge; and Mrs. Jerry Herrington, Friendship club.

Organizations which will assist the sponsoring group this year as host to the teacher's party are the Odd Fellows lodge, Gold Hill Grange, Gold Hill Health unit, Gold Hill Parent Teacher association, Gold Hill VFW post and auxiliary, Gold Hill Lions club, Amethyst Rebekah Friendship club and the Gold Hill Garden club.

Mrs. Ann Weigant, OSC extension recreation specialist and author of the publication, shows how star medallions, small Christmas trees, stars, deer, candleholders, angels and bells of Sarna can be made from tin cans. Various size cans and lids are used. Decorative touches are provided with beads, buttons, sequins, etc.
