

Movies Pitched At Teenage Fans For Quick Dollar

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Correspondent
Hollywood — More and more movies are being pitched to teen-agers as producers hustle to claim the dollar that the crew cut and pony tail set spends at the boxoffice.

Like it or not, the following stories have been filed with the title registration bureau of the Motion Picture association of America:

"I Was A Teen Age Geisha Girl," "I Was A Teen Age Gangster," "Teen Age Gangs," "Teen Age Party Girls," "Girl Gang Confidential."

Inspired by Quickies
Inspiration for these gems were two successful "quickies" titled "I Was A Teen Age Werewolf" and "Bop Girl Goes Calypso."

These lulus are cheap to make, require no big name stars and escape being reviewed by newspaper and magazine critics. Still, they make money.

Most movie bigwigs shrug their shoulders and hope it is a phase. But until the teen age movie runs its course here are a few suggested titles:

- Suggested Titles
"I Was A Teen Age Alcoholic,"
"Switchblade Love" musical.
"I Grew A Ducktail For The FBI,"
"Bonjour Benzadrine," melodrama.
"Teen For Two,"
"Duel In The Schoolyard,"
"I Kicked The Rock 'N' Roll Habit," Documentary.
"Teen Age Tong War,"
"Teen Age Vampire,"
"Son Of Teen Age Vampire Strikes Back," sequel.
"The Teen Age Thing From Outer Space,"
"He Had A Teen Age Monkey On His Back,"
"The Zipgun And I,"
"Sideburns And Sympathy,"
"Gunfight At The O.K. Drive-In," western.
"I Was A Teen Age Grave Robber,"
"Drag Strip Dracula,"
"Hub Caps At Midnight."

MEMORRHAGE FATAL

Walpole, N. H. — George Stiles Harris, 70, dean emeritus of Rutgers Law school, died in nearby Keene of a cerebral hemorrhage early Sunday. A graduate of the University of Vermont, Harris taught high school English 13 years before he was admitted to the New Jersey bar in 1922. He served successfully as law dean of the New Jersey law school in Newark, the University of Newark and Rutgers University until his retirement.

ILLINOIS VALLEY Flu Hits Valley Schools

BL HELEN BOTTEL
Cave Junction — O'Brien, in the south end of the valley, is hardest hit by flu and other respiratory ailments last week. Almost one-third of the 33 students were absent Thursday morning, according to Principal Eileen Orton.

Evergreen school in Cave Junction still maintains its one-fourth absentee status, with 23 home out of an enrollment of near 100.

At Kerby grade school, 77 out of 363 were absent Thursday, slightly more than was reported Wednesday.

The Illinois Valley high school is almost back to normal, with only 17 out Thursday.

Paul Glines, city recorder and municipal judge, and Laurence Cushing, city attorney, returned from the League of Oregon Cities meeting at Salem Tuesday.

The conclave was attended by some 1,000 representatives of Oregon cities and towns.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Smith is Mrs. Smith's aunt, Mrs. Raymond Rammage of South Pasadena, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey H. Morris, formerly of the Caves highway and more recently of Yakima, have purchased a home on Northwest D street in Grants Pass and moved there this week.

Mrs. Ruth Wendt was presented with a farewell gift a milk glass bowl, at the Marguerite Rebekah Lodge meeting Wednesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Wendt, long time residents of the valley have purchased a home in the Fruitdale district and will move around November 1.

The Wesley Vahrenwalds are currently visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wells and family at Burley, Idaho. They hope to bring back an elk.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Immanuel Methodist church announces a turkey dinner for Friday, Nov. 1 from 5:30 until 8 p.m. at the church.

In charge of dinner arrangements are Mrs. Arthur Kellert and Mrs. Bud Hoskins. Mrs. Robert Kingsbury, ticket sale chairman, says prices are $1 for grown-ups and high school student, 50 cents for grade school children while no charge will be made for pre-school tots.

A taffy pull is planned for the intermediate Methodist Youth Fellowship Saturday, Nov. 2 at 7 p.m. at Immanuel church. Leader Mrs. Ron Prather is in charge of the affair.

Former Selma residents Mr. and Mrs. Pete Blue have purchased property at Rivera, Calif., where they plan to locate. They left the valley early this year, and had been living near Long Beach, Calif.

Guests at the homes of Mr. Mrs. Roy Waldron and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Broeffle last week were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Eastbrook of Arcadia, Calif. The Easterbrooks will move from their home in southern California to the newly purchased Broeffle ranch around January 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sargent (the former Susan Radcliffe of Selma) are parents of a daughter, Patricia Ann, born Sept. 29, at San Diego, Calif. Mr. Wilbur Stire of Grants Pass is the baby's grandmother.

Aileen Prather, president of the Kerby Parent-Teachers Association announces Saturday, Nov. 2 as the new date for the annual Kerby carnival. Canceled because of the flu, the carnival was originally planned for October 26.

Fugitive Faces Possible Kidnap, Assault Charges

Pocatello, Idaho — A young Montana State prison fugitive faced possible kidnap and assault charges today for abducting and raping a young housewife before a long distance telephone call to his mother induced him to end a 24-hour crime spree.

The convict, Willard Arthur Brown, 23, also abducted two young Canadian men and held an elderly man and three children as hostages in a farmhouse before his mother in Jamestown, N.Y., talked him out of a vow that he never would be taken alive.

Prison Record Good
Authorities said Brown escaped Saturday night from the prison at Deer Lodge, Mont., where his record had been so good that he was a trusty and would have been eligible for parole next year from a four-year sentence for burglary.

He surrendered meekly to a state policeman and a deputy sheriff near Lava Hot Springs, Idaho, after being assured he would not be executed when returned to prison. He was brought here for questioning by the FBI.

Two hours after he escaped, Brown stole a state-owned car and a 30-30 rifle, then broke into the home of Mrs. Laura Shafford, 24, Galen, Mont.

Mrs. Shafford said he forced her to drive him toward the Idaho border and raped her before releasing her some eight hours later when his car ran out of gas.

After freeing the young housewife, Brown flagged down a car driven by Gordon Hunter, 21, and Fred Helsel, 20, both of Moose Jaw, Sask., who were enroute to California seeking jobs.

Ordered to Stop
Hunter and Helsel said he forced them to drive through Idaho but ordered them to stop near Downey, 40 miles north of the Utah border. The Canadians said he made them enter a lean-to and tied them with shirts before fleeing in their car. The men escaped and notified police.

When he heard over the car radio that he was the object of a two-state search, Brown sought refuge in a farmhouse where J. R. Maughan, 72, was baby sitting with his three grandchildren.

While officers converged on the farmhouse on the information furnished by the two Canadians and an unidentified motorist, Brown called his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Wilczek, in Jamestown, 2,800 miles away. He said she talked him into surrendering.

Anastasia Gets Quiet Burial

New York — Albert Anastasia, reputed mastermind of at least 63 gangland executions by Murder, Inc., was to be buried quietly today with none of the splash of the underworld funerals that marked the roaring 20s when he was getting his start as a waterfront punk.

The 55-year-old gangster, who was shot down Friday in the grimy efficient Murder, Inc., manner, was interred in a simple $900 casket in non-denominational Greenwood cemetery in Brooklyn, where he and his brother, "Tough Tony" Anastasia, ruled the crime-ridden docks.

The sweeping investigation touched off by the assassination in the barbershop of the Park Sheraton Hotel brought only one arrest.

Anastasia's bodyguard, Anthony Coppola, 49, was held under $50,000 bond on a vagrancy charge after he refused to tell police why he was not at the boss mobster's side when two silent gunmen strode into the barbershop, hit Anastasia with five of 10 shots and then disappeared into the sidewalk crowds.

Negroes comprise about 10 per cent of the U.S. population.

Nautilus Travels Over, 1,000 Miles Under Arctic Ice

San Francisco — The atomic-powered submarine Nautilus recently traveled more than 1,000 miles under the Arctic ice pack in five and one-half days in an eerie underwater cruise to obtain scientific data.

Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. disclosed the cruise Sunday on his arrival on the West Coast to speak to Republican money-raising groups. He speaks tonight in San Jose and Tuesday night in Oakland.

"The Nautilus has scored another first," Gates said.

"Just recently, she has completed an Arctic cruise to enable scientific and operational personnel to obtain data on under-ice conditions, oceanographic studies of currents and cold weather operations of equipment and machinery.

Five And A Half Days
"The Nautilus spent a total of five and one-half days under the Arctic ice pack, traveling over a thousand miles while gathering these scientific data."

Gates said the sub entered the Arctic from the Atlantic Ocean, but gave no further details.

Gates said the Nautilus' feat in the Arctic shows that the submarine will displace the depth charge as the anti-submarine weapon.

"We are producing better depth charges," Gates said. "We tested an atomic one a few days ago. But increased speeds and sonar equipment, such as that carried by the Nautilus, means that it will be sub against sub."
