

Annual World Community Day Observance Set For Friday

Final arrangements have been made for the annual World Community day observance scheduled for tomorrow, Friday, November 1, in First Methodist church under the sponsorship of Medford Council of United Church Women.

Chairman for the afternoon program is Mrs. Wilbur Arnold, who has announced the program numbers. They include vocal duets by Mrs. Ralph Matlack and Mrs. Robert Reeves, and a second duet by Miss Colleen Barr and Miss Rosemary Doolen.

The theme for the day "Bread, Freedom and Dignity" will be stressed by the Rev. John Reynolds, First Presbyterian church, who will be the afternoon speaker.

Adding a colorful touch to the program will be the appearance of Miss Margaret A. Larsson, exchange student from Sweden, who is attending Medford High school.

Election of new officers will be held during the morning business session over which Mrs. Samuel Earhart will preside.

The Rev. Raymond Hurn will install the new officers in the early afternoon and other ministers assisting during the day's devotional periods will include Dr. George Roseberry, Pastor Clynton Crisman, the Rev. Escler Heiser, the Rev. G. H. Hillerman, the Rev. Melvin Dixon and the Rev. Robert T. Bridge.

Ushers for the afternoon will be women of the hostess church

New Yorker Markets Odd Items

By VIVIAN SANDE United Press Correspondent
New York—Got a yen for the unusual? Say an ivory toothbrush with its bristles tailored to your choppers?

A young New Yorker in a hurry has combed the markets of Europe and Asia to make available the brush, plus other items "never before seen in this country."

Seven months ago Elliott Glasser, a busy man of 26 with reddish blond hair, set himself up as a company he calls "Panther International," to do a wholesale and mail order business in new or unusual products from abroad.

Backscratcher To Radios
A whirlwind 80-day trip to Europe and the Far East resulted in a collection of everything from backscratchers with springs to a Japanese transistor radio with pillow attachment.

Glasser, who got the name "Panther" from a restless character in Ernest Hemingway's "Snows of Kilimanjaro," sells his "discoveries" through 50 to 60 stores across the country.

He also distributes a telephone attachment that plays music to the person waiting at the other end of the line; another that tape records conversations; a mad money charm made of 15-cent subway tokens framed in solid gold, with the token mounted so it can be removed in case of emergency; black star sapphires; cultured pearls; playing cards made like mahjong sets; shell place mats set in lead squares, and all manner of toys and underwater fishing equipment.

Can't Bypass Unusual
"I just can't pass up anything unusual," said Glasser. But he did turn down offers to import cement mixing machines and shrunken heads.

Glasser, born in New York and reared in Wichita, Kan., studied finance at Columbia university. He got his early business experience buying and selling precious and semi-precious stones for his father, and merchandising cosmetics and jewelry for a couple of New York retail stores.

In his office, a big loft-like place, Glasser also black-dyes about 100 thousand pearls a month—claiming "we're the only people who can." He manufactures fishing flies, baby charms and novelty items for adults.

Glasser said he hopes his business will be of service to small firms, who don't want to and can't afford the time and money of shopping abroad.

Coming Events
Planned by Club
Camp White—Coming events of the Camp White Veterans Bridge club include master point play November 1, and a mixed pairs tournament on two evenings, November 8 and 15.

Guests for the last session were Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Kimzey from California.

North-south winners for the last meeting were Mrs. Frank Baker and Mrs. George Rode, first, 100½ points; William Hickey and Mr. Rode, second, 95½; Mrs. Sam Van Dyke and Mrs. J. J. Dougherty, third, 89½.

West winners were Mrs. Fred Rehling and Mrs. Alto Pruitt, first, 96; the Berg Martens, second, 92; Mrs. E. K. Ricker and Walter Grow tied with Mrs. Yvonne Dalen and Richard House for third and fourth places with 83½ points.

Students Explain Halloween Project

Two Jackson school students visited each room of the school yesterday and gave talks to explain the meaning of tonight's UNICEF Halloween project. Making the talks were Margaret Doolen, president of the student body, and Thomas Le Faive, vice president. Both are in the sixth grade, and both wrote the talks which they gave. They were illustrated with pamphlets and pictures carried from room to room for display.

The UNICEF project, themed to "The Trick is to Treat," is planned to collect funds for the children's program of the United Nations. As they call at homes in traditional Halloween fashion, children will ask householders to contribute to the fund and the money will be collected in cartons provided for that purpose and bearing the UNICEF design.

Collection headquarters will be the elementary school in the various sections of the city.

German Soprano To Be Soloist

Portland—The Portland Symphony will present its second concert of the season at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the public auditorium, with German soprano Elizabeth Schwarzkopf featured as guest artist.

Conducting will be Theodore Bloomfield.

Miss Schwarzkopf will present three songs by Strauss: "Weigenlied", "Morgen" and "Staedchen", and two Mozart arias, "Bella Mia Fiamma" and "Nehmt Meinen Dank".

Orchestral selections will include Dvorak's "Symphony No. 4" and Roussel's "Bacchus et Ariane, Suite No. 2".

Tickets will be on sale Monday at the J. K. Gill box office, and Monday night at the auditorium.

Family Arrives From Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sams and two children, Robert and Michael, arrived yesterday from Denver, Colo., to visit their parents and other relatives and friends in the valley.

Mr. Sams will continue on to Chicago, where he has been transferred by United Airlines, and Mrs. Sams and the children will remain here with her mother, Mrs. Robert Stokes, Foothills road, for about three weeks.

Java is said to be the most densely populated area.

GRANDVIEW-LONE PINE PTA Membership Drive Set

By LILLIAN KNIGHT
Grandview-Lone Pine — The Lone Pine PTA will sponsor a combination hard times ball and membership drive Friday, Nov. 1, at 7 p.m. in the school gymnasium. There will be entertainment and prizes for the children. Prizes for costumes in the various age groups will be given. Coffee and pie will be available during the evening in the cafeteria.

Other guests attending the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Huntley, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hoover of Central Point, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Copley of Eagle Point.

Mrs. Frank Grover substituted as leader for Mrs. W. A. Strawn's Brownie troop when they held their meeting at the school Wednesday. Attendance was better than last week as most of the girls had recovered from the flu.

Mrs. George Ketchums' Brownie troop met at the school Wednesday and made Halloween masks. Attendance was about two-thirds of the troop due to flu.

Clarence Childers and son, Tom, brought back a deer apiece during the hunting season.

John Chisholm and Richard Hart are near Burns elk hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hedges of Los Angeles were guests at the Richard Hart home several days last week. Mrs. Hedges is a sister of Hart.

Mrs. Lois Pope of Eugene is making an extended visit with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Grafton.

If anyone who has not made their contribution to the football field still wishes to do so it is not too late. The contribution may be sent to Mrs. Robert Stokes, Foothills rd., Medford.

Mrs. William Lowery, Mrs. C. C. Hoover, and Mrs. Ernest Lathrop went to Grants Pass Tuesday to attend the Siskiyou Garden club meeting. They are members of the Roxie Garden club.

James O'Donahue of Klamath Falls showed slides on wild life and Mark Astrup showed slides entitled "Landscaping With Nature."

Slide Danger Forces Snoqualmie Pass Closure
Olympia — Dangers of a possible new slide led to closure of Snoqualmie Pass Wednesday only eight hours after its reopening.

W. A. Bugge, state highways director, said a decision on a new reopening of the Cascade Mountain route could not be made until engineers examine rock formations.
