Bachelor Farmer Confesses Killing; Arraigned Today

Plainfield, Wis.—The newly butchered body of a neighbor woman and the skulls of seven other persons were found Sunday night in the house of a 51 year-old bachelor farmer.

Police said the man, Ed Gein, had confessed killing Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58.

He was to be arraigned today on an undefined felony charge pending further investigation of a nine-room house.

Waushara County District Attorney Earl Killen said, "It appears to be cannibalism."

Clippings Found

Newspaper clippings about the disappearance or unsolved slayings of a number of Wisconsin women were found in Gein's house along with a child's clothing. Police said Mrs. Worden's disappearance Saturday from the hardware store she operated was similar to the unsolved disappearance three years ago of Mary Hogan, a tavern operator in nearby Pine Grove.

Portage County Sheriff Herbert Wanserski said Gein told a conflicting story and at one time said he "robbed graves" to get the skulls and bones in the house.

Places Gein in Store

Mrs. Worden's son, Frank, a deputy sheriff, said Gein had come into the hardware store Saturday and invited Mrs. Worden to go roller skating with him. He said his mother said she hadn't been skating "for years" and refused.

Worden said he then went out and returned to find the store spattered with blood and both his mother and the cash register missing.

Deer hunters later reported seeing Gein driving Mrs. Worden's pickup truck. He was arrested at the home of a neighboring farmer.

Uranium 235 sold for about $11,350 a pound during parts of 1956.

AN ADDITION

Nashville, Tenn. — The mother of Mrs. J. H. Jones chased a chicken hawk away from a hen and her chicks, then found she had more chickens than before the hawk dropped in. Seems the hawk had dropped a neighbor's chicken in with the others when it fled.
