

Salvation Army Women's League Has Guest Dinner

The Ladies' Home league of the Salvation Army held a dinner in Junior hall, 236 North Bartlett street, November 14, to introduce the league program to guests. Each member brought a guest, and each was presented by her hostess of the evening. Purpose of the dinner was to interest more women in the work of the league.

Following the dinner Mrs. William Ricken, wife of the Salvation Army captain, introduced the league secretary, Mrs. C. E. Naffziger, who conducted a business meeting. Three members gave resumes of the league's work. Mrs. Ricken outlined the function of the league and told of the part it plays in the church program.

She stated that the aim of the league is four-fold. It strives to educate women to be more skillful in home management, it endeavors to promote spiritual experience believing that "if the beauty of a house is order, the crown of a house is godliness." It endeavors to provide fellowship at a weekly meeting "which is more than a happy get-together but a time when heart can speak to heart of household chores, of worries and hopes" and promotes a spirit of service because "no one is more ready than a woman to show her love by serving others."

Mrs. Dorothy Smith sang, and Mrs. Ricken conducted devotions. Later the group was entertained with a series of quizzes, also conducted by Mrs. Ricken. The gathering was closed with song and prayer.

The dinner took the place of the usual work meeting, held every Thursday night at Junior hall with the exception of the last Thursday night when a family potluck dinner for members and guests is held.
