HIGHWAY LITTER

Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—New York state pays more than $1,000,000 a yeear to clean up the mess left by motorists who litter the highways.

Is That So?

By EUGENE BURNS
Ranger-Naturalist

(Editor's Note: This is the concluding article on the new trail foods by Ranger Gene Burns.)

All right, you've made your selection of dehydrated and condensed foods: First the main essentials, potatoes, milk, eggs, onions, flour. Now, let's see what combinations that will lead us into.

As for the potatoes. Soaked for 20 minutes and then boiled for 10-12, you can have them with butter or gravy, baked with milk, made into a potato salad, or fried in bacon fat.

So you think you've got variety. Look, there are many other things to do with potatoes. Fry chopped bacon into the pan. Add onion flakes which have been soaked for 20 minutes. When they are golden brown, add your potatoes. That in itself makes a good dish when seasoned with salt and pepper. But if you want a whole meal, add eggs which have been mixed with milk. Catsup makes good flavoring.

Go Into Stew

Those same potatoes would go good in a stew and soup. Simply add them dry.

About dried eggs. They make a good omelet. If you want to add touches: fry bits of bacon first. Then add a little soaked onion. Dump in the eggs mixed with milk. Season with black pepper and salt. Some like a touch of hot tabasco sauce. If you want to go fancy, roll the omelet into some soaked, fried mushrooms. You see what possibilities are available?

About the dried milk. When mixed with water, it is difficult to distinguish from fresh milk. And you can mix it instantly; even with ice-cold water the powder doesn't lump or float.

For simple use, powdered cream can be stirred directly into tea or coffee, or mixed with water it can be used with cereal or fruit and puddings. For a special treat carry it when wild berries are in season.

And you'll want the dried milk to mix into omelets, directly into pankcake and bannock mixes. And I might add, milk doesn't make a bad drink either.

To bake bread, biscuits and pancakes and dried milk and powdered eggs. Gives it a touch of authority — and adds substance. These same mixes, I might add, arre good for powdering fish and thickening gravy.

Many lightweight foods are available—one outfitter offers 50 kinds today—enough, you'd think, to fill the bill, however exacting your taste and requirements. But hold on: one outfit puts out a whole full-course breakfast, lunch and dinner. With it, you can whip up a chicken pot pie with biscuit break, potato pancakes, jambalaya, scrambled eggs, de luxe, etc. etc. simply by opening an envelope and adding water according to directions. But somehow this seems too synthetic. I still like to wield a frying pan when I get into the woods.

Free: By special arrangement with the editors of the Encyclopedia Americana, my panel of judges will award each week to the reader who sends me the best true-life nature adventure, the best nature observation, or the best question on nature and wildlife, a complete 30-volume set of this world-famous reference in a handsome Sealcraft binding.

Each week new submissions will be considered. Sorry, I simply can't answer your many friendly letters. Please address your letter to: IS THAT SO! c/o Medford Mail Tribune, box 575, Sausalito, Calif.

If you like fighting words, your vocabulary should include "morton's" and "eveready."

That's a salt and battery.
