Wheel of Fortune Lois Williams Stein

MAKE THIS WHEEL of fortune you will need a piece of cardboard eight inches square, a circle of cardboard six inches in diameter, a small nail, and two pieces of cork.

Make a hole in the center of the circle and cut blades in the wheel as shown in Fig. 1. Print a fortune on each blade. Make a large arrow on the square piece. Find its exact center and push the nail through from underneath. Push one piece of cork onto the nail (to hold the wheel away from the cardboard square), then put the wheel on the nail. Be sure the hole in the wheel is large enough so it spins easily. Put the other piece of cork on the nail point. Spin the wheel, and the arrow will tell your fortune.

Trap the Fox Nat Bradford

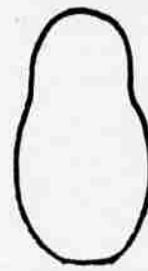

All the players, who are traps, stand in a row facing a wall with their hands together and palms open. In each hand is a peanut or a piece of candy for bait.

The foxes come stealing in and try to grab the bait before the traps reach out and grab them. If the fox manages to wiggle out of the trap before the count of ten that trap is sprung and can't play till the next game. The foxes caught are out until the next game too.

The last fox and the last trap sprung then choose sides for the next game.

Let's Draw A Bear

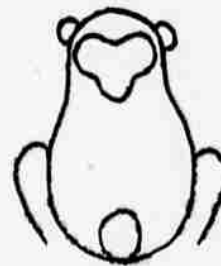

Ann Davidow

Bruin Bear with a big fat tummy
Starts out like an Egyptian mummy.

A three-leafed clover and an egg
Will give the space for head and leg.

On haunches of the rounded hind,
He sits quite solidly behind.

Honeycombs will go to ruin
In the clutch of Big Bear Bruin.
