Men More Daring Cooks Than Women

Chicago — Mrs. Evelyn Brinkman, professor of home economics at the Illinois Institute of Technology, recently noted that "men are much more daring in their approach to cooking." They enjoy experimenting, she said, and they obtain interesting and unusual flavors in dishes. "Creative cooking has found new disciples among the stronger sex," she added. Men long have been chefs in hotels, Mrs. Brinkman pointed out, but only recently has the growth of chefs in home kitchens "mushroomed."

Cook books are being prepared for men, newspapers carry special articles for the male gourmet, and special equipment is being manufactured with the man in mind, Mrs. Brinkman said. What has caused this rapid growth in the number of men cooks? Mrs. Brinkman said that since many wives work outside the home, perhaps the husband was forced into the kitchen. Or maybe he just wanted to help out his busy wife. An outgrowth of outdoor meals where fishermen and hunters cook their kill also may be part of the explanation. And, back-yard grill cooking where hubby is chef has been a factor. Cooking is a means of self-expression, she said, and it permits "escape," too. "Men suffer no loss of pride as does the woman when a creative effort fails," Mrs. Brinkman concluded.

New Wall Switch Gives Householder Lighting Effects

New York — A new wall switch enables the homemaker to change lighting effects in much the same fashion that a director creates an atmosphere to play up a star's performance on stage. The new switch, called "Dim-a-lite," provides four levels of illumination at the turn of a dial. In the dim stage, only six per cent of the available wattage is used. Other stages are soft, moderate and bright. The switch operates on ordinary household voltage, the manufacturer said.

Teenagers Should Eat More For Breakfast

Chicago — Teen-agers don't eat enough for breakfast, a recent survey by the Illinois Institute of Technology shows. Dr. Louise Mojonnier, chairman of the institute's home economics department, said that more than 75 per cent of the boys and girls interviewed at a Chicago high school ate poor breakfasts or none at all. Miss Mojonnier said her conclusions correspond with data collected in other surveys in various parts of the nation. Approximately 6 per cent of the boys and 24 per cent of the girls ate no breakfast at all.

THISTLES DELAY FILM
Hollywood — The filming of Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms" was delayed recently when producer Don Hartman discovered that the ground carpet at the elm-shaded filming location consisted mainly of thistles. It was made known today.

"This practice of skipping breakfast is particularly alarming," Miss Mojonnier said, "because teenagers, growing rapidly, require more nutrients at that age than at any other time in their lives." Other meals during the day do not make up for the lack of breakfast, she said, because the total need of nutrients, such as proteins, calories and minerals is too high.

BOSS MOVES OUT
Akron, Ohio — It's a rare boss who will move out of his office and let his secretary take over, even for a day. But it happened when Jeannette Hammel celebrated her 45th anniversary with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. Her boss, vice-president John J. Shea, with the firm nearly 50 years moved out so Miss Hammel could enjoy the event without business interruptions.

Women Makeup For Men
New York — Women consult men about their looks. A survey by one beauty firm showed women first want the approval of husband or boy friend. Women friends rank second; then co-workers, if the woman is a working gal. Approval of children rated fourth.
