

AP PICKS HOWARD MORRIS AS LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN

Howard Morris, Linfield college guard, who in high school starred for Crater of Central Point, has been named to the Associated Press Little All-American football team.

He was one of two west coast players chosen for the first team. The other was Dick Huston, Eastern Washington college. Selection was made on the recommendations of Associated Press's regional boards of coaches.

Morris, a senior, has been a varsity regular throughout his four years at Linfield. A 190-pounder, he stands 5 feet 10 inches and is 21 years of age. He was regarded as the anchor in the line of a Wildcat team which has won two consecutive Northwest conference championships.

Inspirational
The ex-Crater player has topped Linfield's most inspirational ball for three consecutive seasons. This year he and Dwight Umbarger, Portland, a back, tied for the honor. Morris at a Tuesday banquet was named honorary captain and Linfield's best downfield blocker.

The All-American is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Morris, 2514 Country Club dr. They operate the Fish Lake resort.

Morris played basketball and baseball as well as football at Crater and has been a catcher for Medford Cheney Lumber company teams in semi-pro baseball.

Others on the small college first eleven were Howard Clark, Chattanooga, and Peter Kasson, Ripon, ends; Bruce Hartman, Luther and Dudley Meredith, Dudley Tech, tackles; Dave Young, Randolph-Macon, guard, and Dan Nolan, Lehigh, Charles Bradshaw, Wofford, Leonard Lyles, Louisville, and Norman Jarock, St. Norberts, backs.

Honorable mentions included Bill Long, center, and Vic Backlund, back, Willamette, and Vic Fox, guard, and Ron Parrish, back, Linfield.

Portland's Pilots Face Oregon State

Oregon State College, Corvallis—Oregon State's varsity basketball team, a 60-55 winner over Oregon Tuesday at Eugene, makes its home debut tonight at Gill coliseum against the lightning University of Portland Pilots.

Al Negretti's speedy quintet also has an opening game victory to its credit, having defeated Portland State, 84-54, in a rout Monday. Oregon State Coach Slate Gill figures Portland U. may well be one of the toughest teams the Beavers will face all season.

The Pilots probably will start an all-variant team composed of Dick Jolly and Jim Altenhofen, forwards; Red Bloedel, center; and Jim Armstrong and Dick Panel, guards. In the opener, Armstrong led the scoring with 21, while Jolly had 17 and Altenhofen 11.

Gamboge Leads
Oregon State, as usual, was led by veteran Dave Gamboge against Oregon. The defending Pacific Coast Conference scoring titlist hit six field goals and eight out of 11 free throw attempts for 20 points, but had good help from Ken Nanson, who collected 13, and Lee Harman, with 10. Jim Anderson and Wayne Moss round out the Beaver starting brigade.

The Portland U. encounter is the first of several important exhibition tussles for OSC against the top independent teams of the Pacific Northwest. Before heading into the second annual Far West classic here on Dec. 27 and 28, the Beavers must take on Portland U., Seattle U., and Gonzaga U.

Gill, while pleased that his team got off to a winning start Tuesday, asserted again that the Beavers still lack good bench strength for the tougher games coming up. His regulars scored all but six points in the Oregon triumph at Eugene.

On Saturday, the Beavers play a return game at Hudson Bay high school in Vancouver against the same Pilots.

Midget Wrestlers Still Being Waited; No Program Monday

Word of the arrival in Oregon of a group of midget wrestlers was still awaited here today. Promoter Harry Chipman said he has been expecting the midgets for several days.

In the meantime, there will be no wrestling next Monday night at the Esquire theater auditorium. The promoter said he would keep the auditorium closed until he is able to present a "top quality" card featuring the little fellows.

Braves Obtain Rush; Minors End Session After Stormy Week

Havana, Cuba — Minnie Minoso admitted today he "was surprised" when the White Sox traded him to the Cleveland Indians "because I thought I was one of Chicago's untouchables."

The 35-year-old outfielder, who is playing for Mariano in the Cuban Winter league, said he learned of the trade while listening to a news broadcast on his car radio.

Colorado Springs, Colo.—Exuberant Fred Haney foresees another world championship for Milwaukee next year, and no one can argue much today in the face of a pitching staff that now includes Lew Burdette, Warren Spain and big Bob Rush, too.

"Happy. That ain't the word," grinned the little Milwaukee manager after acquiring Rush from the Cubs Thursday night in a five-player deal.

Along with the right-handed Rush, the Braves obtained another right-handed pitcher, Don Kaiser, plus outfielder Ed Haas.

To get those three, the Braves gave up southpaw Taylor Phillips and catcher Sam Taylor.

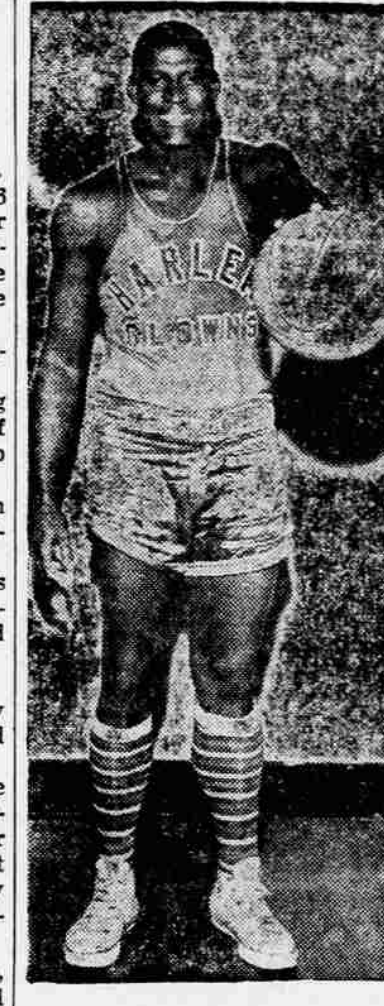

Some baseball men seemed to feel the Cubs were short-changed but General Manager John Holland, who swung the Chicago end of the deal, didn't think so.

Meanwhile the epoch-making minor league convention ended here today after one of the stormiest weeks in the history of baseball—and the prospects of more turbulence to come.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THIRTEEN

Belko Voices Some Degree Of Optimism About Ducks

BELKO—2-COL — SPT
(This is another in a series on the outlook of West Coast basketball teams.)

By HOWARD APPLIGATE Eugene, Ore.—Coach Steve Belko of the University of Oregon basketball team is optimistic about his team's chance for 1957-58. To a degree, that is.

"We can't go anyplace but up," says Belko who is trying to build Oregon back into the basketball power it once was.

Belko, a former University of Idaho star, is in his second season as head coach of the Web-foot team. His first season saw the Ducks come out on the losing end most of the time. The outlook is better this year, but Oregon cannot be considered a title contender or even a dark horse in the PCC race.

First Team About Set
Belko just about has his first team set with four starters tabbed tentatively and three men battling for one forward position.

Brightest spots in Oregon, picture are the return of two fine veterans and a promising crop of sophomores from last season's frosh team which won all of its 13 games.

Back at a forward position is Charlie Franklin, one of the top scorers in the loop. Franklin, a nimble-footed lad from Los Angeles, set an individual Oregon scoring record of 36 points in one game against Washington State last season.

Top Rebounder Back
In the center slot, Belko has 6-5 Hal Duffy, a rugged boy from Portland who topped the PCC in rebounds last season.

Outstanding sophomore prospect is Chuck Rask, also of Portland, whose brother Dick, a senior, plays for Washington State. Rask apparently has nailed down a starting guard spot along with Bud Kuykendall, a junior set-shot artist from Eugene.

Battling for the other forward spot in pre-season drills have been Stu Robinson, a 6-5 soph from Eugene and a pair of junior college transfers—Dameron, 6-4, and George Padovan, 6-2.

Wimp Hastings, a two-striper who started a lot of games last season, is back to bolster the guard slot.

Annual Shoot At Ashland

Ashland — The Ashland Gun club will hold its sixth annual smallbore rifle match in the Ashland armory on Dec. 7 and 8.

Shooting will begin Saturday at 6 p.m. and at 8 a.m. Sunday. There is a program for the many junior shooters which are sometimes stiff competition for the seniors. Visitors are welcome. People of the community are urged to come to see what the club is doing.

There is a limit of 20 participants on Saturday with match workers having preference. Post entries will be taken up to 8 a.m. Sunday up to a maximum of 50 competitors.

Matches of 20 shots prone, 20 sitting, 20 kneeling and 20 standing are scheduled. Scores of the four events will be used to determine individual, aggregate and team scores.

SURE SHOT KEN—That's what the Harlem Clowns call Ken McBride, their 6-4 forward. He's to be seen in action Thursday, Dec. 12, when the Clowns meet the Harlem Globetrotters at 8 p.m. in the Hedrick Junior High school gymnasium here. The local share of the proceeds goes to the Medford high athletic fund. McBride averaged 20 points in games for the Clowns last season. He played college ball at Maryland State and was with the Harlem Globetrotters before making his present affiliation. This is his third season with the Clowns and is a fine score from "out."

B Leaguers Hold Jamboree At Crusader Gym Tonight

Jackson County B league followers get a general look at four-fifths of the membership this evening.

The occasion is the annual jamboree for the B clubs at St. Mary's high gym in Medford. Participants are Butte Falls, Prospect, Jacksonville and host St. Mary's. Talent, fifth member of the loop, is not a participant.

Prospect and Butte Falls will lead off the action at 6:30 p.m. with other eight-minute contests slated on the half hour. There will be six periods or 1 1/2 games with each team meeting each of the other three.

Other pairings in order, are Jacksonville vs. St. Mary's, Butte Falls vs. Jacksonville, Prospect vs. St. Mary's, Butte Falls vs. St. Mary's and Prospect vs. Jacksonville.

A dance for students of participating schools will be held after the jamboree. There will be no charge for admission.

Coach Bill McKibbin said that St. Mary's will not have Terry Cooper in the lineup tonight. The sophomore tore ankle ligaments and is out of action likely for a couple of weeks.

The Crusaders may open with Jerry Flakus, center, Mike King and Gary Miksche, forwards, and Bob Evans and John Kerr at guards. Slated for quite a bit of action are Rick Colver, Dick Hayes and Ron Daley.

Jacksonville's opening five may be Doyle Branson and Eldson Smith, forwards, Ron Davis and Ken Perreard, guards, and Marion Dowell or Clint

Hearing on PCC Meeting Sought By Assemblyman

Los Angeles — A "disappointed" Southern California assemblyman plans to subpoena the presidents of four Pacific Coast conference schools in California to explain what happened at the PCC meeting in San Francisco.

Assemblyman Frank Bonelli (D-Huntington Park) said Thursday he would call the presidents of California, Stanford, UCLA and SC to a meeting of his assembly subcommittee on state universities here Jan. 6, 7 and 8.

The lawmaker, who held meetings on the PCC in San Francisco and Los Angeles earlier this year, said he was "very disappointed" with the San Francisco meeting.

Can't Understand
"The meeting of faculty advisers this week in San Francisco has accomplished very little of what the public had hoped would be accomplished," Bonelli said. "I can't understand how our schools can continually be outvoted. I can't understand why they back down on the program they have decided upon."

"My committee wants these answers. We don't want a run-around, so we're going right to the top to insure satisfactory replies to questions about the round-robin scheduling, ineligibility of seniors and aid programs."

SAHARA OIL TO FLOW

Paris — Petroleum from the potentially vast oil fields of the Sahara Desert may start flowing into France early next year, officials said today. French prospectors in the Sahara hope within the next week to start pumping oil from the Hassi Messaoud field 450 miles southeast of Algiers to Touggourt. From there it will be shipped by rail and tanker to refineries at Marseilles.
