

Livestock Tags Are Available in Area

Salem — Livestock producer tags are available from Kizzie Edmondson, box 164, Butte Falls, according to Chester Liechty of the animal industry division, state department of agriculture. The tags are issued free.

The department reminded farmers and ranchers that they need to attach a tag to each animal carcass transported or sold. If only part of a carcass is sold or hauled, it, too, should have a tag attached.

The tags are required by law as part of the state livestock theft prevention program. It is illegal either to sell or receive carcasses without the state tag attached.

Friday the 13th Is Somewhat Black for Grants Pass Family

Grants Pass — Friday the 13th turned out to be sort of a black day in the Schoenleber home here.

Sgt. William Schoenleber of the Grants Pass police department was checking parking meters on H st. Friday morning. One of the cars looked familiar. It was his, parked there by his wife.

The sergeant wrote out a ticket for over-parking and stuck it on the windshield. "I couldn't do anything else," he said. "I didn't have a nickel to put in the meter."

Sgt. Schoenleber had a feeling that things might be even blacker when he arrived home Friday evening.

Stewart Installed Master of Lodge

Robert Stewart was installed worshipful master of the Warren Lodge 10 AF&AM of Jacksonville recently.

Other officers installed included Fred M. Gardner, senior warden; Virgil Wilkes, junior warden; Donald Lue, treasurer; Roger Westerfield, secretary; Gail Buffington, senior deacon; George Redhead, junior deacon; Donald Wendt, chaplain; George Mero, marshal; Donald Shores, senior steward; Clarence Williams, junior steward; and Earl Millhouse, Tyler.

Installing officers were Edwin Taylor, officer; Lloyd Hamlin, chaplain; and George Mero, marshal.

Pedestrian Safety Stressed by Council

The Medford Safety Council is stressing pedestrian safety in its annual Christmas safety campaign, the Council has announced.

The Council noted longer hours of darkness, Christmas shopping, haste, and holiday drinking by both pedestrians and motorists increases the usual pedestrian hazards.

A special study of 501 Christmas holiday accidents shows that one-third of the pedestrians killed contributed to their own deaths by crossing between intersections, stepping from behind a parked car or walking along a roadway. Four out of 10 of the victims were 65 years old or older, the Council said. To avoid being hit, the Council urged pedestrians to (1) cross streets only at intersections and to stay within crosswalks, (2) obey traffic signals, signs, regulations and directions of traffic officers, (3) do not dash into the street or walk from locations where parked cars or buildings obstruct the view, (4) be sure there is time to cross safely before stepping from the curb, and (5) walk to the left, facing traffic if there are no sidewalks.

STILL ALIVE

Indianapolis, Ind. — Mortician John Cales went to the home of Mrs. Delia Kelley, 83, to prepare her for burial and found that reports of her death were somewhat exaggerated. Although suffering from exposure and inhalation of gas fumes, Mrs. Kelly was still alive.
