

Neuberger Advised Private Firms Seek Klamath Timber

Portland—(AP)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) says he has been advised private business interests would like to buy at least part of the pine timber on the Klamath Indian reservation.

Neuberger appeared Wednesday before the Legislative Interim Committee on Indian Problems.

He said he was asked last month about the possibility of his support for sale of some four billion board feet of pine timber, or part of the timber, to a combination of private companies.

He said he did not like the plan as well as he would federal purchase of the reservation property.

Bill Introduced
Neuberger and Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) have introduced a bill calling for federal purchase of the reservation after federal control ends in 1958.

He said he thought the federal purchase bill had an "outside chance of passing the Senate" but was not optimistic about its chances in the house.

Also appearing was Gov. Robert D. Holmes and Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.).

Mrs. Green said she believed there was only a "remote chance" the federal government would pay the appraised purchase price.

Neuberger suggested the state of Oregon might profitably issue bonds to purchase the timber.

Rep. Sam Wilderman, a Republican, said he doubted the Legislature would approve a $100 million bond issue for it.

Gov. Holmes said it might "if it's the right kind of a Legislature."

Nuclear Plant in Alaska To Supply Power, Electricity

Portland—(AP)—The Army said today it plans to proceed with construction of its first operating steam model nuclear power plant, to be located in Alaska as the answer to a difficult problem of supplying conventional fuel in a remote area.

The Corps of Engineers' Alaska District Engineer at Anchorage will soon be instructed through Col. Allen F. Clark Jr., North Pacific Division Engineer in Portland, to proceed with necessary action to obtain the contract for building the plant at Fort Greeley, 60 miles south of Fairbanks on the Alaska Highway.

Available To Military
The plant will generate both electricity and heat for the post and will be modeled after the prototype plant in operation at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Power furnished by nuclear fuel will be available to the military commander for the operation of motors, weapons and other equipment, even though normal supply lines should be disrupted by enemy action.

One loading of nuclear fuel will operate the reactor for an extended period, while conventional power plants require thousands of tons of fuel for a comparable period of operation.

Congress has authorized a total expenditure of $6,675,000 for the project.

The Fort Greeley reactor will produce 42 million British thermal units per hour in steam for space heating and about 1,700 kilowatts of electricity.
