

Did Somebody Forget To Check Casanova Bowl Game Records?

San Francisco—University of Oregon has no more chance to beat Ohio State in the Rose Bowl than the proverbial snowball in the hot place—if you can believe the pigskin pundits.

The Webfoots, with a spotty over-all record of seven wins and three losses, are supposed to be the biggest push-over in Rose Bowl history. Already the gamblers have made the Buckeyes 19-point favorites.

"Ohio State will win—and by a big score," says Alex Karras, the All-American lineman from Iowa.

"West Coast football players just aren't as rugged as they are in the Big Ten," says Eddie Sobczak, current San Jose State baseball coach and former great Michigan State end.

Casanova Record Impressive However, there is the possibility that somebody forgot to look at the Casanova record—and check up on Rose Bowl upsets.

Len Casanova has made appearances in three bowl games—two as an assistant coach under Buck Shaw and one as head coach.

In 1949 he took a Santa Clara Bronco grid club to the Orange Bowl against a supposedly invincible Kentucky team. The Broncos were one touchdown underdogs. Final score: Santa Clara 21, Kentucky 13.

In 1937 and 1938 he was an assistant coach on Bronco clubs that defeated Louisiana State 21-13 and 6-0 in the Sugar bowl.

"You must not overlook the fact that Oregon has a real solid ball club," says Coach Tommy Prothro of Oregon State. "The Ducks make very few errors. They won't beat themselves. The other team will have to beat them."

Makes Most of Talent Casanova is rated as one of the finest teachers with the talent available in the country. A few years ago he developed one of the top aerial games in the country when he had the brilliant George Shaw as quarterback.

But when he ran out of top-rank passers, he switched to a running game and the last two years his clubs have been the No. 1 rushing teams on the West Coast.

In line with Prothro's statement that the Ducks don't beat themselves, the official Pacific Coast conference statistics show that Oregon lost the ball on fumbles only six times this year, compared with 13 times for their opponents.

The Webfoots may get whipped by the Buckeyes, but don't look for one of those 49-0 debacles.

Crater Frosh Nip Ashland

Central Point—Denny Edwards' three points in the second overtime last night gave the Crater high freshmen a 31 to 28 basketball decision over Ashland at Ashland.

Score was tied at 26 each after the four regular quarters and 28-28 after an extra session. Edwards put in a free shot, then a field goal in the sudden death overtime. Under the rules first club to tally two points in a sudden death period is winner.

Three Foul Out In addition to his vital points Edwards headed his club with 16 of its 44 rebounds. Crater dominated the backboard in which Ashland got 23 retrieves. The Comets were handicapped when they lost Loyal Higginbotham, a top scorer for the quint, on fouls in the second quarter and then lost Bryson LaCasse and Dave Foote on infractions later on.

First quarter count was knotted at 7 apiece. Crater led at the half and the game was tied again 20-20 at the third period rest.

Coach Don Miller of the Comet frosh said he is looking for Dec. 27 and 28 preliminary game action for his club.

Dons Clash In Kentucky Tournament

By UNITED PRESS

The University of San Francisco a 50-49 upset victim at the hands of Stanford which wasn't figured to go very far this season, tries to get back on the rails tonight at the Blue Grass tournament in Louisville, Ky.

Coach Phil Woolpert's Dons will open against Seattle in a tourney that embraces the host-ing Cardinals, and Army.

Seattle and San Francisco are only a few of the West Coast teams which have hit the road for a final shakedown before plunging into January's activities.

Stanford is in the Rockies for games at Utah tonight followed by titls with Denver and Colorado Saturday and Monday. California battles Kansas State tonight, Kansas Saturday and then leaves with Seattle for the Holiday Festival next weekend in New York.

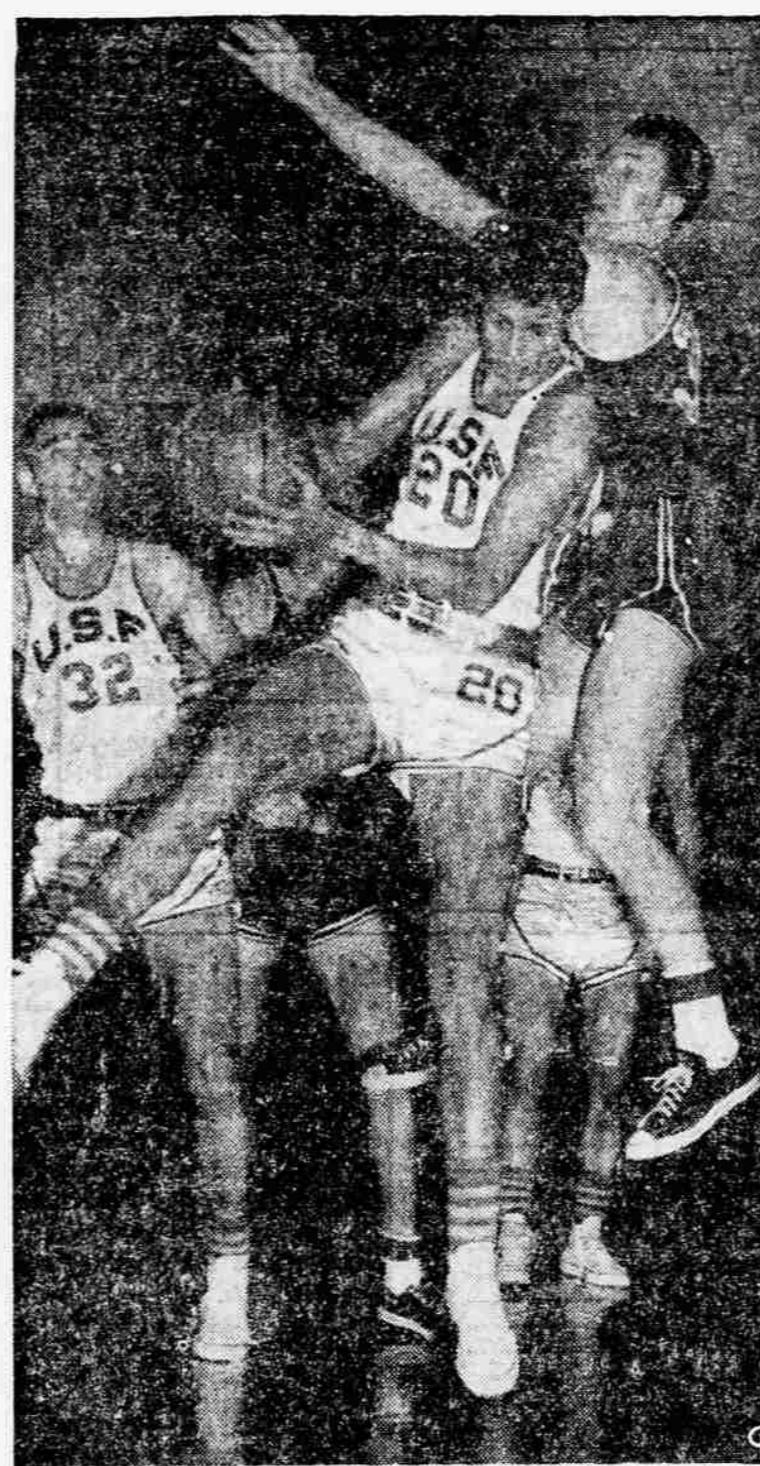

UCLA at Bradley UCLA, which was scorched by Wichita on Wednesday night 83-68 is at tough Bradley tonight.

St. Mary's, which upset Evansville Monday to highlight a tough road trip, dropped a 79-66 decision to Indiana Thursday night and next meets Washington of St. Louis on Saturday.

Oregon State visits Iowa Saturday afternoon and Indiana Monday night before going home to host the Far West Classic Dec. 27-28. Oregon plays at Brigham Young Saturday and Monday.

Washington and Washington State also are on the road. The Huskies play at Kansas tonight and Kansas State Saturday night. Washington State is at Utah Saturday and Monday.

Southern California is at Arizona Saturday. The Trojans won a 62-63 victory from Arizona State (Tempe) Thursday night.

Sport Parade

New York—Fraleley's Folies and absolutely the final football selections of the year—the bowl game "winners" which will prove, if you bet on 'em, that it is better to give than to receive.

Without further ado, or even any more nonsense, here they are:
Rose Bowl—Ohio State over Oregon.
Sugar Bowl—Texas over Mississippi.
Cotton Bowl—Navy over Rice.
Orange Bowl—Oklahoma over Duke.
Gator Bowl—Texas Aggies over Tennessee.

Game by game, it shapes up this way:
Rose Bowl
Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State is acting like a man with the seven year itch who bites his fingernails. A man who calls a shovel a gold-durned spade, he talked himself into a mess on the coast a couple of years back and nobody has forgotten or forgiven. Including Woody.

The insinuation was that Western teams didn't make it smell like a Rose Bowl and, to prove it again, Woody is insisting that his muscular marvels kick the attar out of poor little Oregon. Ohio State is a 17 point choice—or maybe the word "cherce" now is more acceptable in the Los Angeles area—and it is doubtful if Hayes will settle for less.

Oregon lost three games by a total of only 13 points and a good defense may hold down the score for the first three quarters. But watch those Buckeyes run in the final heat after crunching the resistance out of Oregon for the first 45 minutes.

Sugar Bowl
This is a game which proves that education really has survived in college, even for football players. Texas got off slowly because it is loaded with sophomores. The pore li'l fellers had to learn—and did. Their late surge gave them all A's in first aid. Ole Miss is faster than a blue tick hound surprised by a pair of coons. Seven former backs make the line as mobile as a Sherman tank and there are three 10-second sprinters in the backfield. But I got to go for education in a pick 'em ball game.

Cotton Bowl
This Navy team hits like a bunch of grogged-up gobs in an Arch St. saloon. Rice has a diversified attack but the Middle figure to handle it with a "jitterbug" defense which is really something to see.

There ought to be a law against guys like that Reifsnider. The opposition could wind up in the stands and somebody might get hurt. Navy is only a two-point favorite yet from here it looks like money in the bank from San Diego to Singapore.

Orange Bowl
Oklahoma loses a ball game, after chalking up 47 in a row, and right away they're a bunch of stiff. Notre Dame's line played a whale of a game to pull off that miracle and Duke has a forward wall which won't take sass from anybody.
