The Navy-Rice game features a pair of excellent quarterbacks in Tom Forrestal and King Hill. Forrestal heads a Navy team which has good balance in all departments, plus its confusing "jitterbug" defensive alignment. Hill is as resourceful as Forrestal and has a favorite passing target in end Buddy Dial, the nation's leading pass receiver.

Both coaches are looking for a break in the Mississippi-Texas game. Ole Miss 8-1-1 never has lost to a Southwest Conference team in a bowl game and is picked by 2½ points. The Longhorns, who wound up second Orinda, Calif.—Frankly, I don't know how much Washington will improve over last year's eighth-place finish but I'm sure of this—we'll win at least 10 more games.

I think our pitching should improve now that Camilo Pascual is resting his arm this winter instead of playing in Cuba. Our infield is in fair shape, we have good catchers and Roy

Rossi-Busso Fight Slated Fourth Time

New York—After four postponements, lightweight contenders Paolo Rosi and Johnny Busso are slated again to fight at Madison Square Garden Friday night in the featured bout on this week's light holiday boxing schedule.

Baldish Rosi, formerly of Italy, but now fighting out of New York is favored at 8-5 their nationally televised and broadcast 10-rounder (NBC).

Illnesses and injuries caused the four postponements of this fight in which 29-year-old Rosi and 23-year-old Busso will try to advance toward a shot at the 135-pound crown. Rosi, the harder puncher, is rated fifth; Busso, 10th.

Boardman Quits Fancy-Dan Style For Slam-Banging

New York—There'll be big changes in 1948 for lightweight Larry Boardman, who made his last fight of this year a farewell to "Fancy-Dan's" and knocked out Pete Schmidt in the sixth round of their TV bout.

Young Boardman of Marlboro, Conn., quit trying to be a fancy-dan boxer Monday night at St. Nicholas arena and returned to his old slam-bang fighting style in his savage brawl with Larry of New York.

Larry's kayo victory at 1:03 of the sixth broke his losing streak at three straight. He explained today, "I lost those three bouts to Tony DeMarco, Johnny Busso and Cecil Shorts because I was trying to be a boxer instead of a fighter. But, no more fancy-dan stuff from now on."

Pacific Coast college hoop squads took it easy today as most schools awaited the start of their regular conference and independent slates next Friday.

While most teams had the night off Monday night, two Pacific Coast conference squads saw action on their home courts while California and independent Seattle were defeated in the Holiday Festival tournament at Madison Square garden.

Mays Thinks SF Move Will Help Ball Club, To Miss New York Fans

By MILTON RICHMAN
New York—A satisfied smile settled over Willie Mays' features as he draped himself in an easy chair, cocked an ear to a Billy Eckstine recording and told how the Giants' new San Francisco ball park should prove a personal boon to him.

"Man, that fella can really sing, you know it?" Mays said, hanging intently on every note.

Willie listened in rapt silence for some time, then drifted back to San Francisco and the Giants.
"I think Seals' Stadium is gonna be a better place for me to hit than the Polo Grounds," he said. "I played two games there this year on our barnstorming trip and I did pretty good."
As usual, Willie was understating.

Giants Sign Pitcher to Club for '58

San Francisco—The Giants today plucked southpaw pitcher Richard LeMay off the Michigan campus and signed him for what a club spokesman described as "a sizeable chunk."

LeMay is 19, stands 6-3 and weighs 190. He was a star pitcher at Withrow High school of Cincinnati.

Monday manager Bill Rigney asked eight veterans and two rookies to attend a special pre-conditioning session in February before regular training opens.

Those expected to attend the special workouts which start Feb. 13 at the Buckhorn Spa, near Mesa, Ariz., are pitchers Johnny Antonelli, Marv Grissom, Curt Barclay, Allen Worthington; outfielders Hoi, Auer, Bobby Thomson and Dusty Rhodes; third baseman Ray Jablonski and catchers Roger McCordell and Bob Schmidt. The latter pair were at Sioux City and Minneapolis last year, respectively.

Reserved Seats For PAL Fights Placed on Sale

Reserve seats for the Medford Police Athletic league's opening boxing card of the season went on sale today at Browns cafe and the city police station.

PAL mittmen will go against scrappers of the Talent Youth center on Wednesday, Jan. 8, in the fight arena at the Esquire theater. First bout will be at 8 p.m. and 12 contests are planned.

Fans have been clamoring for a return tussle ever since the youth center held its card earlier this month. Jim Zack, PAL coach, Frank Dupree, the Talent mentor, plan to match their charges in a way that will provide the best card possible. It is hoped that, with their efforts and the rivalry generated by the last card, the Jan. 8 encounter will overshadow the previous engagement.
Some of the top amateurs in southern Oregon will perform.

Skiing at Night Provides Thrills

Mount Shasta, Calif.—Holiday skiers are getting new thrills from Northern California's first nighttime skiing which had its debut Christmas day on Snowman's Hill near the foot of Mt. Shasta.

The event brought snow sports fans from Northern California and Southern Oregon.

"The lights are on from 5:30 to 10 p.m.," said manager Gordon Hart. "But we'll keep them on as long as the crowd wants them."

Hart said also he expected this week's storms would permit use of the T-bar. The course is now being operated both day and night with a rope tow on a snowpack of around 18 inches.

Dead Line on Classified Ads: 5:30 p.m. for following day, except 10 a.m. for Monday; for Sunday, noon Saturday.
