

Diversity of Activities Helps Make 1957 Memorable Sports Year

Tournaments, Stadium Boost Fan Enthusiasm; Achievements Recorded

A wide diversity of events and activities, including a number of major tournaments, which stimulated fan interest, and in some cases created new appeal, joined with numerous team and individual achievements to make 1957 a banner and memorable year in Medford and Rogue river valley sports history.

First annual Oregon Water Ski championships at Garden lake 16 miles northeast of Medford was the particular example of new enthusiasm and appeal as hundreds of spectators gathered on the shore for the two day tournament. The women's state bowling tourney was held here for the first time and with the 387 consecutive game marathon achievement of Dennis Dunham bolstered interest in the ball and pin sport at Medford lanes.

Hudson Cup matches between the top pros and amateurs of the northwest rivaled the annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament for enthusiasm at Rogue Valley Country club. Interest in drag racing continued to grow as Southern Oregon Timing association staged periodic events at its strip at Camp White and climaxed with the Northwest Gasoline championships and the fabulous Glass Slipper.

In addition there was the usual run of major tournaments such as the Rogue Valley Retriever club field trial, the Western Speedboat association races at Emigrant lake, the Southern Oregon Bowling handicap and the Southern Oregon Kennel club show. Hardtop auto races continued to attract although on a lesser scale than past years.

Construction of a small but attractive stadium at the Veterans Administration domiciliary was a boost to both softball and baseball, particularly revitalizing the Jackson County Softball association and providing a home for a semi-pro baseball club and the popular Rogue Valley Dairy-Maids girls' softball nine.

Naming the No. 1 athletic achievement of 1957 could provoke considerable debate. It may seem that the perennial success of the Medford high track and field team is a matter of routine. But certainly the tremendous performance of the 1957 thinned squad rates with the top ranking.

With a record breaking score, the Black Tornado won an unprecedented fifth state crown for Medford. The team claimed first honors in the Rogue and Hayward relays and the district meet along with victories in lesser conflicts. Wally Larson, Neil Plumley and Jerry Close took state meet firsts. The state meet marked the end of Bob Newland's Medford coaching tenure with nine championships in 10 years. He left a tremendous debt for his successor, Dean Benson.

Sharing track laurels with Medford were the Eagle Point Eagles. They won the Rogue league and A-2 district meets and the Little Rogue relays and Wayne Christian and Jack Greb scored 40 points between them to give EP the state A-2 title.

High individual honors went to Howard Morris, Terry Maddox and Neil Plumley. Morris, ex-Crater, Central Point, won Little American, a first team berth as a Linfield college football player. Maddox, ex-Medford high, was named second team All-American as a University of Oregon baseball outfielder. Plumley, Medford high grid tackle, was named to the Wigwam Wiseman All-American second team (for 1956).

Jack Morris and Norm Chapman, a pair of ex-Medford high men on the University of Oregon team which won a Rose Bowl berth, were named second team all-coast. A number of other athletes from the valley made their marks in college athletics. Significance was the group of athletes from this area at Southern Oregon college which was on the upsurge. Tom Findlay of the Ashland school took a coast wrestling title.

On the prep scene Jim Funston, Medford high center, made two all-state teams. Basilio Visits Visit to Medford of a world pro boxing champion, Carmen Basilio, welterweight, was one of the big events of the year, although his exhibition was poorly attended. Attendance was better when fight fans jammed the Craterian for first theater television of boxing in Medford. They saw Basilio take the middleweight crown from Ray Robinson. Prep wrestling with Klamath Falls taking the toga, started off the round of league or area titles decided during the year. In basketball Klamath Falls, Eagle Point, Phoenix and Butte Falls high schools and Mutual of Omaha independents took crowns. Mrs. Audrey Swoape was a local winner in the state bowling meet with her third all-events trophy. In tennis Jim Gordon, Medford, was district singles champion and Klamath had the top high school team.

In track St. Mary's was the county B and district champ and third in the state B meet. Crater was second and Ashland third in Class A Hayward relays. YMCA women of Medford won the Rogue Valley Volleyball tournament.

Studs Dominate Baseball titles went to Grants Pass, Glendale and Prospect high schools and the Medford Cheney Studs dominated the Southern Oregon semi-pro scene with one of the best teams in the state. Jackson county softball title was won by Parsons Motors after Crater Lake Motors had been unbeaten in regular season.

Great West Life beat Crater Lake in a district play-off. Phil Getchell, Medford, won the Southern Oregon golf championship after several years of trying; Marj Fillis, Salt Lake City, was women's champ, and Marv Clark, Grants Pass, senior winner. Sue DeVoe, Medford, set a RVCC course record, and Helen Davies, also of Medford, won a new mark at Reames club, Klamath.

Rod Sampson was overall men's winner in the Oregon water ski tourney and leaped a surprising 104 feet in the jump event.

In football Southern Oregon added the Oregon Collegiate conference to its title in golf and second places in basketball and baseball. Medford and Grants Pass tied in the A-1 district (title game and Medford got the vote as district representative. Glendale and Merrill took the other prep district titles.

Wayne Lemley was season points champion in Valley View track hardtop auto racing.
