REMOVE WASTE-NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's a secret millions have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the wonderfully different chewing-gum laxative.

FEEN-A-MINT is different because you chew it. It's different, too, because it removes mostly waste—not good food! FEEN-A-MINT does not work in the stomach, where food is being digested. That's why it does not take away a lot of the good food you need for energy.

Doctors know that FEEN-A-MINT works chiefly in the lower bowel...removes mostly waste, not good food! And it's non-irritating, too.

So to feel like a million, chew delicious FEEN-A-MINT. 16 tablets, 35¢—also small and economy sizes.

Pirate Puppet

Here is how to make a pirate puppet. Make this figure after pasting it on a piece of cardboard. Make holes big enough to poke two fingers through. These make the pirate's legs and with them you can make the pirate walk, run, hop, or dance. You could cut out a picture in a magazine and make others like this.

Bunny's Bunk by Nat Bradford

It takes a lot of players to play this game. Try it in your schoolyard or at a party. The players stand with clasped hands in groups of fours. In the center of each circle (or bunk) stands a bunny. The one "It" is Bowser, the dog. One bunny is without a bunk. When Bowser chases him he tries to get into a bunk before he is tagged. If he gets in, the bunny already there must run out and be chased. If caught, the bunny becomes Bowser. The game keeps on until each player has had a chance to be bunny, Bowser, and the bunk. It's fun!

WHAT BIRD IS IT? Ruth Dixon

Here is a tropical sea bird that is a pirate. He hides behind coconut trees in the evening when gulls, gannets, and terns come home bringing their fish. He grabs these birds by the tail and shakes the fish from their beaks. Then he gets the fish! This ten-foot bird with his stout hooked beak, long wings, tiny legs, webbed feet, and bright-colored air sac (at mating time) builds his nest on the ground or on a high ledge. His sweet-hearts cry, "Wow-wow-wow-wow!" when they come courting.

His bones are so light he can float high in the sky for hours, and spiral, too. FREGATA AQUILE is his scientific name. What's his everyday one?

Let's Draw a Reindeer

Ann Davidow

From a bracket it is said,
You can draw a reindeer's
head

Just like the one whose brothers fly
In Santa's team across the sky,

Roof to rooftop with the sled
Holding high his treetop
head.

This reindeer's proud, you can believe,
He pulled for Santa
Christmas Eve.
