

Rocket Look Promised This Year

By MARY PRIME
United Press Correspondent
New York — Fashion points the way to the "rocket" look for 1958. We'll be as sleek and shiny as a guided missile from the tips of our hats to the pointed toes of our shoes.

"The sack will be the main silhouette in '58, but it will look like a rocket instead of a rag," said Eleanor Lambert, spokeswoman for the New York Couture Group.

"Chemises still will have a loose hanging line, but with a smooth, built-up shape. You may think it's a revival of the 1920's, but it's only super-related. Fashion history doesn't repeat itself," Miss Lambert said.

Besides the chemise, semi-fitted and full-skirted styles will be seen. "But the petticoat is dead. Skirts will be tightly fashed at the waist but not flared as much," she predicted.

Coats are expected to be straight and narrow or full and swinging, but not fitted. Hemlines will go up to at least 16 inches from the floor. (Last year they got as high as 15 inches).

Taller Hats
Hats will get taller. "With skirts shorter, hats must go up," reported the Milinery Institute of America. "When you wear a chemise, you need good legs, a good face, and a good hat to frame the face."

There's a 1920's look to new bonnets — high crowns, deep brims. Turbans will measure as high as 10 inches at the crown. Top styles will be turbans, rollers, and Watteau types with brims rising sharply at the back.

More color will show in hats, from mossy green to citrus shades. But black, navy and the neutrals also will find favor.

Fabric hats will still be good, but straws will predominate, either in rough or fine, smooth textures. Veils add a new patterned look to straws around the hat and tied at the throat.

Colored hosiery gets the nod again this year. Spring shades include, crushed mint, blue chip, navy, pink and turquoise.

No Spikes
The pointed-toe shoe is another hold-over from 1957. This year, heels will be even lower for evening as well as daytime.

"And no spiked heels," said the National Shoe Institute. "We'll see the T-strap in new forms: multi-colored on a basic color shoe, looped, or with vamp strips across the T."

The open-toed shoe also will be back "because the nail polish people have put sex on toenails. The shoe industry can't fight it," said Helene O'Hara, fashion director of a leather company (Alled Kid).

Look for lots of color in shoes, the two-color shoe, painted vamps, white soles, colored linings and "red in everything."

Jewelry will be less clunky and heavy. The single strand necklace is expected to come back.

Hair will be bright and small, loose waves. Watch for more tints, fewer bleaches. Top hair chades will be soft blonde, red, and bright gold.

Family Leaves After Visit Here

Phoenix — Mr. and Mrs. Gene Chambers and small daughter left Medford last Friday for California after spending the holidays here with Mr. Chambers' mother, Mrs. Garland Lorton, and Mr. Lorton, 507 Church street, Phoenix. Mr. Chambers, a specialist second class in the Army, and his family recently arrived in this country from Japan where he has been assigned to duty.

In California he reported for duty at Ft. Baker, near San Francisco.

Student Returns To University; Is Bridesmaid

Miss Susan DeVoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. DeVoe, Woodlawn drive, has returned to her studies at the University of Oregon after spending the holidays with her parents. Miss DeVoe is a member of Phi Beta Phi sorority at the university.

Part of the vacation was spent in Portland where Miss DeVoe was a bridesmaid for Miss Elizabeth Adele Bullock when she was married to James Cedric Roberts. The wedding took place at St. Barnabas Episcopal church in Portland.

Also in the wedding party from Medford was Miss Mary Milne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Milne, Hillcrest road, who was a junior bridesmaid. For the wedding the attendants wore red taffeta ballerina frocks and carried bouquets of holly.

Among the wedding guests from Medford were the DeVoes, Mr. and Mrs. Milne and Mr. and Mrs. Reese Alexander.

Romania President Dies in Bucharest

London — Dr. Petru Groza, the president of Communist Romania, died in Bucharest today, according to a Soviet Tass news agency report.

He was 73. Groza had been ailing for some time and it was unofficially reported from Bucharest he was suffering from intestinal cancer.

An official announcement on his worsening condition broadcast by Bucharest Radio Jan. 4 said he was suffering from a stoppage of the bowels.

He had a serious operation last November. Groza, who was elected president in 1952, came from an old and wealthy landowning family. He was born in 1884 in Baciu, Transylvania.

Groza was the man who gave ex-King Michael of Romania "notice to quit."

Salem — State Agriculture Director Robert Steward and animal division chief M. E. Knickerbocker are in Oklahoma City for the meeting of the National Cattlemen's Association.
