

Pros Meet in Bowl Today; Parker, Wilson Renew Feud

By HENRY RIEGER

Los Angeles — A fast Memorial Coliseum turf was assured today by the weather man to strengthen the speedy West squad's role as a three-point choice to win the eighth annual pro-Bowl game.

Crisp winds whipped across the floor of the giant saucer last night to quickly dry a grid dampened earlier in the day by intermittent showers.

Already the favorite, assurance of a firm underfooting and near-perfect weather was to the West's liking in its drive to take its fifth all-star contest.

Some 60,000 plus fans were expected to sit in on the contest between the heavier, star-studded East team and the faster West team. Another million or so were expected to view the National (NBC) telecast of the charity tilt.

The game was to be played in the usual rock-and-sock pro tempo, but in the spirit of "harmony" following the settlement of a summer-to-January feud between coaches George Wilson of the West and Buddy Parker of the East.

The two headmen puffed last August when Parker quit as Detroit Lion coach, in a huff over contract terms, and Wilson, then his assistant, was named to replace him. Parker moved on to Pittsburgh to continue the feud on the grid later in the season.

A peace session was held at a pre-game luncheon on Thursday. The two met there, shook hands and made up. Both clubs are in top physical condition, with neither suffering any training camp ailments. The 31-men making up each squad were pronounced ready to go.

SOUTHERN OREGON CONFERENCE STANDINGS (As of Friday)

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Klamath Falls	2	1	.667
Crater	2	1	.667
Ashland	1	2	.333
Medford	1	2	.333
Grants Pass	0	1	.000

Klamath Falls posted its third Southern Oregon conference basketball victory against no losses Friday night while Crater high took over unshared second place.

The tall Pelicans of Klamath piled up their margin at the free throw stripe to subdue Ashland 46 to 34. Crater's hustling Comets slipped by Grants Pass 42 to 40.

Ashland outhit Klamath from the field 15 to 14 but the Pels had an 18 to 4 difference in gifter tallies. Glenn Moore was the big reason for Pelican triumph with 26 points. He made 10 of 11 free heave tries. KF was ahead at all quarterly stops 14 to 10, 27 to 20 and 36 to 24.

Bennett plunked in two foul tosses with seven seconds left in the extra stanza for the Comet decision at Central Point. Score at the end of the regular playing time in the close-fought encounter was 40-40.

Crater headed 32 to 31 after three chukkers but Grants Pass was on top 38 to 34 with three minutes to play. Joe Teeter and Wayne Allen knotted the fracas with field buckets. But Dick Hayes hit a driver for 40 to 38 GP lead, with 1 1/4 minutes to go Allen fired in a one-hand push shot for 40-41. Both clubs got their hands on the ball in the keep away final moments of the game.

After Bennett's two gifters Jim Smith of Grants Pass missed on a desperation try 40 feet out from the hoop.

Grants Pass led at the quarter and the clubs were tied 22-22 at the half. Teeter had 16 points and Allen 13 for Crater and Mike Sparlin was tops for the Cavemen with 11. As they did for Klamath, free throws provided Crater's scoring margin. The Comets had 14 and Grants Pass eight free markers. The Cavemen had 16 to 14 better of it from the field.

Bill Maurer with 12 was high man for the home team in the other game at Ashland. Grants Pass won the jayvee prelim at Central Point 34 to 30 although the Comet club turned in its best fray of the season. Caveman height helped.

FAVORITE SPURTS TO WIN

Coral Gables, Fla. — The gleaming gray favorite, St. Amour II, spurted out of the pack in the stretch Saturday for a decisive victory in the $64,100 Tropical handicap at Tropical park before a crowd of 15,926.

SKIING CONDITIONS

The Crater Lake Ranger station reports that skiing is good with deep powder snow this weekend at Crater Lake park.

There was three inches of new snow recorded by 4 p.m. Saturday to bring the ground total to 98. All roads to the rim and the rim road are open but chains are required. The warming hut will be open on Sunday, it was reported.

The high temperature at noon Saturday was listed at 27 degrees. It has been snowing since early Friday morning and showed no signs of letting up Saturday evening, according to the ranger station.

NBA Says Bout Will Set Finals

Philadelphia — The National Boxing association announced Saturday the winner of next Wednesday's Gil Turner-Vince Martinez fight here would meet Isaac Logart for the vacated welterweight title.

The NBA's executive committee said the Turner-Martinez winner must sign to fight Logart for the middleweight championship Carmen Basilo left behind within 60 days. The NBA further decreed that the new champion defend his title within three months.

The NBA said that the Turner-Martinez winner and Logart would be required to post $10,000 each upon signing for the title bout.

OTI Owls Nab Verdict in OCC

Klamath Falls — Oregon Tech made it three in a row Friday night over an Oregon Collegiate conference opponent by defeating Eastern Oregon college 75-56. It was the third successive loss for EOC.

Heavies Plan Match in May, Claims Manager

Phoenix, Ariz. — Los Angeles matchmaker George Parnassus, representing the Olympic Boxing club, Saturday offered heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson a $200,000 guarantee to defend his title in Los Angeles in mid-May against second-ranked contender Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz.

Parnassus, a partner with Cal Eaton in the promotion of boxing in Los Angeles, made the offer while getting approval from Folley and his manager, Bill Swift, for the fight.

"Patterson can make as much as a million dollars on the fight," Parnassus said, "since he would stage the bout in Memorial Coliseum."

The matchmaker said in addition to the guarantee, he was offering Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, a percentage guarantee on attendance and movie, television and radio rights. He said he also would pay the champion's expenses to participate in the bout.

Swift and Folley said they would fight for free if necessary to get a crack at the heavyweight crown, Parnassus said.

Parnassus said he had talked with D'Amato about such a match three days ago but the manager was somewhat noncommittal. "I guess he wanted to see the offer in writing, so I'm sending a telegram to him with all details."

Youth Breaks Swimming Mark

Sydney, Australia — Jon Konrads, 15-year-old brother half of the amazing "Konrads Kids" swimming act, broke two world records Saturday in the 880-yard freestyle event of the New South Wales championships.

Jon swam the 880-yard distance in nine minutes, 17.7 seconds, breaking the listed world record of 9:19.2 set by America's George Breen last Oct. 27 at New Haven, Conn. Konrads also lowered the world record for 800 meters, which is about five yards shorter than 880 yards.

The youngster's feat left only one men's freestyle world record in non-Australian possession. That one is Breen's 1,500-meter mark of 17:52.8.

SLOW-MOVING ALCOHOL Birmingham, Ala. — Lanthus Whitesides landed in jail because he was driving too slowly.

A highway patrolman who stopped Whitesides found 175 gallons of bootleg whiskey in his car.

Top Quints Matched in MIBL Tilt

Big Y Market and once-beaten Myron Root Company looms as the highlight conflict this week in the Medford Independent Basketball league.

The two collided in the second fracas at McLoughlin gymnasium. Foes in the Tuesday 7 p. m. starter will be Hawkins Tire Tread and Headquarters Company of the National Guard.

Big Y has Monday night action, meeting Company A of the Guard at 7 p. m. Standard Stations and Hawkins's are rivals in the second mix of the night. Myron Root and Headquarters will on Wednesday with Company A and Standard completing the evening.

Casper Moves Fast to Make 3-Way Golf Tie

Pebble Beach, Calif. — Billy Casper overcame a five-stroke deficit with a three-under-par 69 at Pebble Beach to gain a third round tie with Bobby Rosburg in the $50,000 Bing Crosby National Pro and Amateur golf tournament Saturday.

Climaxing, with a 20-foot birdie putt on the last hole, Casper caught Rosburg, who faded to a 74. They each now have a 54 hole total of 206.

Rosburg had started the day with a 132 score against 137 for Casper and apparently was playing a conservative game on the Pebble Beach course.

Seattle Netter Posts Victory In Coast Tests

St. Petersburg, Fla. — Bill Quillian of Seattle switched to rushing the net in the fifth set Saturday to beat Tony Vincent of New York, 6-6, 2-6, 6-0, 1-6, 6-4, in the semi-finals of the West Coast Tennis championships.

Quillian meets Bernard (Tut) Bartzten of Dallas in the finals tomorrow. Bartzten eliminated Ivo Pimentel of Venezuela, 6-4, 6-0, 6-2.

Quillian ran up 5-0 lead in the final set but Vincent broke Quillian's service twice and made it 5-4. But Quillian saved his own service in the deciding game and beat Vincent by rushing the net. The new tactics caught Vincent unprepared and made him hit out several times.

Miceli Stopped By Tombstone

New York — Charles (Tombstone) Smith, who made an impressive eastern debut Friday night, said today, "I'll certainly remember to warm up before my next fight," probably with Sugar Hart late next month.

Smith, lanky Los Angeles welterweight contender, stopped New York's Joe Miceli in the seventh round of their return bout at Madison Square garden. Each scaled 149 pounds.

But 24-year-old Tombstone was so excited before his first national network TV appearance that he forgot to warm up in the dressing room. As a result, he took a pasting from Miceli in the first three rounds, "before I got hot," he explained.

None of the three ring officials gave Smith a single round until the fourth.

There were no knockdowns but when Miceli went to his corner at the close of action in the seventh, he was "in no condition to continue," according to Dr. Alexander Schiff, who advised referee Al Berl to stop the fight.

AMERICANS LOSE MATCH Perth, Australia — Barry MacKay and Ron Holmberg, the American youngsters left behind in Australia to gain tournament experience, lost another bout with Aussie stars Saturday when they were beaten by Neale Fraser and Mal Anderson in the doubles final of the West Australia championships.

Phil Lowry To Talk to Waltonians

State Sen. Philip Lowry will be speaking at the regular monthly meeting of the Jackson county chapter of the Izaak Walton league at 8 p. m. Monday, Jan. 13, in the Pioneer room at the Jackson hotel.

Members of the chapter will also observe the 34th anniversary of the league. Kenneth G. Denman, state game commission chairman and a charter member of the Jackson chapter, will discuss the formation of the local group on Nov. 11, 1944. At least 19 of the charter members are still active in the organization. The national founding date was Jan. 14, 1924.

Attendance of all charter members is desired at the meeting.

Phoenix, Glendale Grab Rogue League Verdicts; Bruins Top Eagle Point

Phoenix and Glendale recorded one-sided victories Friday in Rogue league basketball inaugurals and Brookings came from behind in the final quarter to take its starter.

Phoenix whipped Illinois Valley 62 to 35. Glendale outtraced Rogue River 69 to 38 and Brookings won over Eagle Point 49 to 39.

Hitting well from the outside to establish their lead, the Pirates then got their fast break working to pull away from the IV Cougars. Jim Stout, high scorer with 15 points and Doug Witte contributed good work on the backboards and Jim Heath contributed some stellar floor work and many assists.

Paper Says Myers 'In' At A&M

Bryan, Tex. — Jim Myers, head football coach at Iowa State, will definitely be named head coach at Texas A&M, the Bryan Daily Eagle said Friday.

The Bryan newspaper, located only three miles from College Station, Tex., site of the A&M campus, said Myers had been on the verge of withdrawing his name from consideration Thursday until he received a call from A&M officials Friday.

The Eagle said Myers was a solid favorite of members of the board, especially those who were not present at the meeting held between Myers and board members in Dallas Tuesday, and that the athletic board was divided on his appointment just as it was on the appointment of Red Sanders of UCLA.

Sanders came to College Station for an interview, then withdrew his name after a lengthy delay without an offer.

THROWER STAMPED

Lawrence, Kan. — Discus thrower Al Oerter of Kansas, who lives in New Hyde Park, N.Y., has his likeness on a new Dominican Republic airmail stamp. The country issued the stamp in conjunction with its new Olympic theme in stamps. Oerter, a senior at Kansas, won the discus gold medal for the U.S. in the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne, Australia with a toss of 184 feet, 10 1/2 inches.

Smith To Run For Governor

Portland — Wiley W. Smith, Multnomah county assessor, said Saturday he will soon make a formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Already in the gubernatorial race on the Democratic side are Gov. Robert D. Holmes and Lew Wallace.

Baseball Anti-Trust Bills Dropped by 2 Congressmen

By ERNEST BARCELLA
Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—Two key congressmen disclosed tonight that they have abandoned their efforts to bring baseball under the anti-trust laws.

The two — Reps. Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.) and Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif.) — said in a United Press interview that they now favor legislation that would exempt all but the purely business aspects of all professional team sports from anti-trust regulation.

Celler disclosed that a compromise bill to that effect, applying to baseball, football, hockey and basketball, is being drafted by the house judiciary committee of which Celler is chairman and Hillings a top-ranking Republican member.

Such legislation, if enacted by congress, would rescue professional football from last February's supreme court decision making that sport subject to the anti-trust laws.

Smith To Run For Governor

Portland — Wiley W. Smith, Multnomah county assessor, said Saturday he will soon make a formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Already in the gubernatorial race on the Democratic side are Gov. Robert D. Holmes and Lew Wallace.

Modified Stand

Hillings said he modified his original stand because "baseball has shown good faith in coming up with programs and actions indicating that they have the interests of the public at heart." Among the actions, he listed the transfer of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants to Los Angeles and San Francisco. Hillings was influential in the major league move to the West coast.

Hillings is author of another bill that would grant baseball certain exemptions from anti-trust laws, similar to those listed in Keating's bill. But it would clamp a five-year limitation on application of the reserve clause to individual players. He said, while he has not abandoned that bill, he could "go along in essence" with the compromise being drafted by the committee.

He said the compromise represents a "moving toward a middle ground to bring both relief and protection" to professional team sports.

Keating said his approach to sports legislation is "the only one with a ghost of a chance." He said he has held informal discussions with Celler on the kind of bill to be brought out by the committee.

"I'm ready to act when we call a meeting," Keating said.
