

News About Books From the Library

The Medford and Jackson County Public Library is prepared to help readers keep their New Year's resolutions. No matter how they may decide to make 1958 a better year, there are helpful new books to inspire and encourage them.

Numerous guides are available for persons interested in happier attitudes and enriched personal lives. These include Leslie Wetherhead's "Prescription for Anxiety," a book of help for persons suffering from neuroses of the kind common today; "How to Live 365 Days a Year," by John Schindler, and "For People Under Pressure," by David Fink.

In Lin Yutang's "Looking Beyond," a modern philosopher shows mankind a way to the greater enjoyment of living; and in Krishnamurti's "Commentaries on Living," another discusses issues confronting every man and woman. Some of these are more specifically covered in Dorothy Pittkin's book, "And Live Alone," Dr. Marion Langer's "Learning to Live as a Widow," and Edgar Jackson's "Understanding Grief." Harry and Bonaro Overstreet, in "The Mind Goes Forth" show us how we can get through the walls of antagonism that rise between individuals to build creative confidence between ourselves and others.

Better Relations
Suggestions for better relations with others are made in "Meet More People," Faith Perkins' antidote to loneliness and unhappiness. Erich Fromm discusses love in all its aspects in "The Art of Loving," and family relationships are given particular guidance in Phillip Polatin's "Marriage in the Modern World." Frances Strain's "Marriage Is for Two," and John O'Brien's "Happy Marriage; a Guide for Catholics."

The person who has reached the retirement privilege will find suggestions for making the most of these "golden years" in Thomas Collins' "The Golden Years: an Invitation to Retirement," Ray Giles' "How to Retire and Enjoy It," and George Gleason's "Horizons for Older People."

To Lose Weight
For those resolving to lose weight, we suggest "Overweight is Curable," by Wilfred Dorfman, "Be Slim—

Stay Slim," by Thyra Winslow, and the "Slenderella Cookbook," by Myra Waldo. Other health resolves will be aided by Marvin Small's "Special Diet Cookbook," and "Food Becomes You," by Ruth Leverton. There are also aids to special problems, such as William Kitay's "Overcome Arthritis."

Hints on more adequate self-expression are offered by writers and speakers in the "Speechmaker's Complete Handbook," by E. L. Friedman, "Time to Speak Up," by Jessie Butler, "The Toastmaster's Handbook," by Herbert Prochnow, "How to be a Successful Emcee," by Le Roy Stahl, "How to Write and Sell Non-Fiction," by Hal Borland, and "The Magic Key to Successful Writing," by Maxine Lewis.

The library also has books on success, improving your memory, enlarging your vocabulary, finding and pursuing a hobby, and a variety of other subjects calculated to help make 1958 a better and happier new year for you.

Officers Elected For Musicians Local

New officers were elected at the Jan. 6 meeting of the Medford Musicians' Union local number 597.

Elected were Kenny Brew, president; Randy Huggahl, vice president; Bob Anderson, sergeant-at-arms; Blaine E. Trickett, delegate to the Jackson County Central Labor Council; and J. Vernon Marshall, secretary-treasurer and automatic delegate.

Marshall is also business agent of the local. Ally Maple was appointed to the 1958 executive board and Oiva A. Marolin was appointed as subordinate member to the board. The local lists 118 active members.

'SCALPED' INDIANS
Hollywood—The Wild West ain't what it used to be. Warner Bros. hired 200 Indians as extras in the Kanab, Utah, area for a western movie being filmed there. Then studio officials learned they would have to order 200 Indian-style wigs from Hollywood because most of the Indians had crew cuts.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Meadows Busy Beavers
A 4-H meeting in action was the theme of the program presented by the Meadows Busy Beavers at the Sams Valley PTA meeting Thursday at the Sams Valley school.

Bob McAllister, president of the Busy Beavers, conducted the meeting designed to give parents and PTA members an idea of the types of things the 4-H club is doing.

Pins and cards were presented by Richard Isaacs, manager of the Central Point Branch of the First National Bank of Portland, who spoke briefly on the merits of 4-H club programs.

Awards were presented to Dorothy Terry, Sharon Terry and Ruth Ellis, all second year; Carolyn Matteson, Shirley McAllister, Tommy Terry and Joe Terry, Bob McAllister, Sydney Maplesden and Pat Neal, all first year.

Safley Recognized by Insurance Company
Wayne H. Safley, 2111 Hillcrest rd., local representative of the Aetna Life Insurance company, has been recognized by winning membership in the company's national honorary organization, The Corps of Regionaires, before the mid-point of the qualifying year.

Safley will be awarded a citation at the annual regional meeting of the company's top salesmen in June at Santa Barbara, Calif.

Airline Pilots Approve Strike Plan

Chicago — The Air Line Pilots Association has announced a mail ballot strike vote of American Airline pilots was approved "by a wide margin approaching unanimity."

The ALPA said the vote was taken among 1,541 American Airline flying personnel after five-month long negotiations with the airline failed to result in a satisfactory agreement.

A 30-day cooling off period required under the railway labor act governing the airlines expires Jan. 16.

The union president said no strike date had been set.

DOESN'T LIKE HIS JOB

Memphis, Tenn.—One of two thugs who stole $968 from a bank Thursday apparently doesn't like his profession. While scooping bills from a cash drawer he turned to a woman clerk and said: "This is a hell of a way to make a living, isn't it?"

READY EXHIBIT

Jackson, Miss.—Dr. Felix Underwood, an official of the Mississippi Health Board, had a ready exhibit when he took the stand to testify in favor of fluoridation of Jackson's water supply. Underwood just pulled out his false teeth for the committee.
