

PTA Scholarship Program To Be Topic of Meeting

Value of the tuition scholarship program of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers will be explained by Mrs. John Carter, committee chairman, in a workshop at the Jackson County Council Parent Teacher meeting, Wednesday, January 15. The council will meet in the Medford YMCA social hall from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The scholarship program was started in 1946 when the Congress wanted one full four-year scholarship for tuition costs to an elementary teacher trainee. Units from throughout the state now participate in the scholarship program, many contributing the amount for one year's tuition each budget year. The scholarships are awarded to students enrolled in elementary teacher training at Eastern Oregon college, La Grande; Southern Oregon college, Ashland; Oregon College of Education, Monmouth; Oregon State college, Corvallis; University of Oregon, Eugene; and Portland State college.

This year 151 scholarships were granted, including nine for the summer session. Some local units could grant one-year scholarships to students from their own area, but would find it financially impossible to carry the students through the full four-year course. Recipients of OCPT scholarships are chosen by a committee representative of the eight regions of the state.

During the business meeting, the committee to nominate officers for 1958-59 will be elected. The committee consists of three members and two alternates elected from the four regions of Jackson county. Mrs. Owen Kunkel, council president, will report from the Board of Managers meeting which she attended January 9 in Portland.

Medford Police Chief Charles P. Champlin will be present with a safety display of interest to all parents of school age children. Additional workshops will include: (1) Youth groups, with Floyd Taylor, Gold Hill, Mrs. Ray Stagers, Mrs. George Simmons and Mrs. Furl Moore. Mrs. Clorin Moore cut the cake.

Butte Falls Club Voted Donation For State School

Butte Falls — Drawing of names for "secret pals" highlighted the January meeting of Butte Falls Lion auxiliary at Scotties cafe.

Mrs. Glenn Cathey, president, announced that $44.50 was the profit derived from the Christmas basket. Members voted to send this amount plus an additional $15 from the general fund as the club's contribution to the Oregon School for the Blind this year. However, this money is to be placed in a fund toward treatment of four mentally deranged blind children. Doctors have offered their services at $120 per child in the hopes that the outcome will be that these four children will show enough improvement to qualify them to enter the school for blind, it is stated.

A Lion's party will be held Saturday night, January 25 at Union hall at 7:30 p.m. Profits of this night's entertainment have been earmarked for the March of Dimes.

Charter night for the new auxiliary in Jacksonville, sponsored by the Medford Lion auxiliary, will be held this month. Members voted to send a small check and congratulations to the new auxiliary.

Wednesday evening, January 22, a potluck dinner for Lion families in Butte Falls is planned. Hostesses for the event are Mrs. Page Stauffer and Mrs. Andrew Hamstra. Mrs. Bruce Pingle, program chairman, will plan entertainment.

Next regular meeting will be Monday night, February 3 at Scotties cafe. Following this meeting, the auxiliary will return to its Tuesday night schedule.

American University Women Accredits Ashland College

Ashland — Southern Oregon college has become the eighth college in Oregon to be recognized and approved by the American Association of University Women, according to Dr. Elmo N. Stevenson, president of the college who received the announcement last week from Dr. Eunice Roberts.

The approval carries with it eligibility for association membership for women graduates of the college. Degrees approved were: Bachelor of science in elementary education; bachelor of science in secondary education and bachelor of science in general studies. Approval is given for degrees which show adequate curricular balance in the fields of social science, science, the humanities, and professional courses.
