Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A BOATLOAD of sardines arrived in port, and was duly sold to a food broker for $50,000. The broker turned them over for $80,000, and after changing hands several times more, the load fetched the nice round sum of $150,000. Finally the sardines reached the consumers, who found them inedible. The complaints were relayed from the last broker all the way back to the captain of the boat that had brought them into port. "So what?" he complained a grilly. "Those sardines were for selling—not eating!"

Home Furnishings Manufacturers Voice Cautious Optimism

Chicago (AP)—Home furnishings manufacturers expressed cautious optimism today toward the industry's overall sales outlook for 1958 but they agreed there'll be a real scramble among themselves for the homemaker's dollar.

Seven prominent manufacturers, who were here for the International Home Furnishings Market, generally agreed that business will be as good or better in 1959 as it was in 1957 and that it will be improving at year's end.

However, they told a news conference at the American Furniture Mart that buying will be more selective this year and that manufacturers who fail to keep pace style-wise are likely to feel the pinch of the current business recession.

Jack Hubbell, sales vice president of the Simmons Company, New York City, said "1958 will be a year for fighting—for more aggressive merchandising."

Nathan Ancell, president of Baumrater Co., Inc., New York, said any "pessimism and negativism" that exists in the furniture industry today is "largely due to the realization that we have to work for a living again."

Paul Broyles, president of Broyles Furniture Factories, Lenoir, N. C., said furniture sales in the first half of this year probably will be "slightly behind" the same period a year ago but that the last six months of the year should find business "progressively better."

"I'd rather be going into this year than last year," he said.

Ancell said 1958 volume should be "at least as good as in 1957, maybe better." And he said 1957 was the best profit year in his company's history.

Monthly Master Point Play Held

Forty players participated in the first monthly master point event conducted by Riverside Bridge club in 1958. North-south winners were Mrs. Jack Mitchell and Mrs. Howard Boyd, first; Mrs. Sam Richardson and Mrs. Sam Van Dyke, second; Mrs. Richard Finch and Mrs. William Knope, third; Mrs. Richard Milestone and Mrs. Paul Hatton, fourth.

Winning east-west were Mrs. Yvonne Dalen and Mrs. Myrtle Herman, first; Mrs. C. L. Howard and Mrs. A. W. Lingaas, second; Mrs. F. R. Baker and Mrs. B. B. Hughes, third; Mrs. Thomas Randall and Mrs. B. H. Todd tied with Mrs. Fred Rehling and Mrs. Van Gilbert for fourth.

Local Painting In Special Show

An oil painting by Warren Wolf, instructor in art at Medford High school, has been accepted for showing in the annual New York exhibit of Art Expositions Inc. The show, termed Art USA: '58, opens Jan. 17 and continues through Jan. 26 at Madison Square Garden in New York City.

The exhibition, open to all living American artists, is entered by many established and well known artists. Mr. Wolf's entry, an abstraction, is titled "And Three Survive."

Jurors for the show are Stewart Klonis, executive director of the Art Students' league, chairman; William Zorach, sculptor; Ogden M. Pleissner, artist; Jonathan Marshall, publisher and editor of "Arts," and George L. K. Morris, painter. The jury selected the works to be shown, and also will choose works for $5,000 in awards.

Mr. Wolf, who has been on the faculty of Medford schools for the past six years and at Medford High school five years, holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Oregon and a master of arts from the Kansas State Art institute.
