BOWLING TOURNEY PROJECTED

Josephine Court Favors New Road

Grants Pass — The Josephine county court last week passed a resolution directed to the state highway department asking the commission to recommend a road from Selma to Gold Beach be made a part of the federal forest highway system.

The road has been proposed by the forest service from Selma in the Illinois valley to Gold Beach by way of the Illinois and Rogue river canyons and the town of Agness.

The resolution pointed out that a natural water grade exists on the route from Gold Beach on Highway 101 upstream along the Rogue river to Agness, thence up the Illinois river to Selma on the Redwood highway.

The road would serve as an access road to millions of board feet of timber, for fire protection and harvest and would serve to open up mining as well as desirable recreation areas and a facility for national defense.

The Curry county court recently passed a similar resolution, which also pointed out that Curry county is practically without roads except for Highway 101. The proposal is the same as one made by Rep. Charles O. Porter, which has received some recognition by forest service officials.

Publisher Says '58 Good Business Year

Roseburg — Roch Bradshaw, publisher of Crow's Lumber Digest, said Friday the general public is likely to upset the business forecasters' apple cart in 1958, boosting lumber and housing to higher levels than most economists expect.

Bradshaw spoke at a meeting of the Umpqua chapter, Society of American Foresters.

He said public highway building will be stepped up, and the defense budget will be boosted sharply, both of which will stimulate all business. He added that public excitement over the Russian situation could easily "generate something like a war psychology, and this could lead the people to go on a buying binge through fear of shortages."

Bradshaw urged that reinventories of public timber be speeded up so the industry and people will know the real extent of the basic resource on which northwest business and jobs depend.

Congress Is Aim Of GOP Campaign

Washington — President Eisenhower will lead the Republican party tonight in the official kickoff of an uphill GOP campaign to recapture control of Congress.

Starting his sixth year in the White House, the President will speak from a dinner at Chicago, Vice President Richard M. Nixon from New York, and other party bigwigs at cities throughout the country.

The occasion will be the fifth anniversary of Mr. Eisenhower's first inauguration. The purpose will be to raise money for the 1958 campaign in which all 435 house seats and 32 of the 96 senate seats will be at stake.

With the presidency not at stake this year, Republican chances of winning control of congress look even more bleak than in 1956.

Present lineups show 232 Democrats, 197 Republicans and six vacancies in the House and 49 Democrats, 46 Republicans and one vacancy in the Senate, the latter caused today by the death of Matthew M. Neely (D-W. Va.).

Historically, the party holding the White House normally loses seats in elections like this one in the middle of a presidential term.

Usually realistic Democrats are predicting pickups ranging from healthy gains to landslide victories.

The Martin girl was pinned beneath the wreckage and died instantly, police reported.

Mrs. Lester Chase underwent major surgery in the Yreka general hospital Monday morning.

Several friends of Mrs. Henry De Clerck called at her home Thursday afternoon to honor her on her birthday. They were Mrs. Donovan Ward, Mrs. Victor Van de Weghe and Mrs. Dick Williams.

Railroad Relief Needed Florida Senator Says

Washington — Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.), says Congress must grant some relief to the nation's hard-hit railroads and "the time for constructive action is now."

A Senate commerce subcommittee headed by Smathers was in recess Saturday after hearing a score of railroad officials testify during the past week on the "deteriorating railroad situation."

Before recessing the hearings Friday, Smathers said the testimony indicated that the railways, once the backbone of American transportation, "have lost all of their pre-eminence, some of their importance, and most, if not all, of their profits."

"Attention by the congress looking toward relief of at least some of the pressures and restrictions of the railroads is imperative," Smathers said.

Apparently Wall Street believed the Senate hearings meant something would be done. On the New York Stock market this week, rail stocks registered their widest gain in more than two years.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield struck back at testimony that inadequate mail payments contributed to the railroads' financial woes. He wrote Smathers that "the real causes of declining mail payments have been the abandonment of lines by the railroads, and excessive rates which have forced the transfer of mail to trucks."
