

Behaviour Topic For Session

The emphasis was on good manners, courtesy and correct behaviour at home and in public at the January session of the Girl Scout Charm School held recently at the Roosevelt gym. Mrs. Hanley Hefferman spoke to the girls on the art of being a good hostess and a welcome guest. Mrs. Hugh Collins gave them rules to follow to be good conversationalists, how to make introductions correctly, and manners at home and in public.

Mrs. Anna Wirkkula, from Lawrence's Jewelry store, spoke on correct table settings for different occasions and showed sample table settings to illustrate. On display were table settings for a formal dinner which would be served by a waitress, an informal dinner or luncheon setting, and a breakfast table. Also on display in the room were two tables and a buffet table; one of the tea tables was very elaborate, set with silver tea and coffee service, while the other was simple, being set with ceramic tea service.

Each table also had an appropriate flower arrangement; on the buffet table was of natural dried flowers and roadside weeds and cones; all of the flower arrangements were done by Mrs. L. G. Gentner. Mrs. Gentner also instructed a group of the Scouts in how to arrange flowers. The table settings for the teas and buffet were done by the girls of Troop 25, led by Mrs. R. P. Knight.

Three skits were presented to illustrate the art of introductions and correct and incorrect manners at a tea party. Three girls from the Senior troop led by Mrs. Al Carrara, demonstrated three types of introductions; taking part in this were Carol Valente, Ann Manno, and Carol Doyle. The skits on correct and incorrect manners were presented by members of Troop 116, led by Mrs. Lorene Babcock. Also in the skits were Madeline Buonocore and Vickie Clark from Troop 1. Members of Troop 116 taking part were Linda Nelson, Laurie Beth Buonocore, Judy Foiler, Linda Nash, Pat Borough, Pat Harris, Cheryl Champion, Sheila Franklin, Linda Young, Pamela Miller and Kay Fields.

The traveling trophy for good grooming and good posture was won at this session by the fifth grade troop of St. Mary's neighborhood. Troop 181 is led by Mrs. George Gitzen.

Community singing was led by Susan Grey. Mrs. Carrara and Mrs. Raymond Reter are in charge of planning and presenting each session of the charm school. Mrs. Carrara acted as mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. O. A. Eden assisted in the planning of the January session.

Two Give Party At Ellis Home

Mrs. Francis Widmer, Whitman avenue, Medford, was honored at a shower January 16 at the home of Mrs. Robert Ellis, Whitman avenue. Co-hostess was Mrs. James Welch. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Robert Middleton and Mrs. George Henney.

Invited were Mrs. E. W. Ingram, Mrs. David Doran, Mrs. Louis Martin, Mrs. Homer Sullivan, Mrs. Ada Cronmet, Mrs. L. E. Johnson, Miss Rose Widmer, Mrs. Xavier Widmer, Mrs. Lyle Jarmen, Mrs. James Valentine, Mrs. James Asher, Mrs. Edward Cooper, all Medford; Miss Violet Strahan, Mrs. John Strahan, Mrs. Donald Dillingham, all Grants Pass; Mrs. Reed Gross, Canyonville.

Lone Pine PTA Hears Discussion

"Where Is Johnny Going" was the topic discussed by a panel at the last meeting of Lone Pine Parent-Teacher association. The Rev. Richard Jones, Miss Frances Clink, Clifford McGinty and Mrs. Kay Crowell were panel members. Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter served as moderator and Mrs. Scott Wickersham as inquiring parent.

There was a lengthy and informative discussion on the resources the community has to offer youth. Mrs. Walter Stroup, unit president, conducted a business meeting. The proposed budget was adopted, and the unit voted to sponsor a Boy Scout troop.

Mrs. Frank Groves announced that Mrs. Rachel Scheel's third grade won the room count.

Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria by the seventh-grade room parents, Mrs. R. E. Heysell and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Childers.

District Four Nurses Join In Nation-Wide Roll Call

Nurses of District 4, Oregon Nurses' association, are joining with nurses throughout Oregon this week in the nation-wide membership roll call of the American Nurses' association according to Mrs. Christine C. Bates, R.N., district president. The roll call dates are January 20 through 31. The association works to improve standards of nursing practice, promote the welfare of nurses and meet the increasing demands for nursing services.

There are 200 registered nurses in Jackson county; 69 are enrolled with the Oregon Nurses' association.

Nurse members are contacting prospective members to tell them about the American Nurses' association's continuing efforts in behalf of the well-being of nurses and for the protection of the health of the people of Oregon.

Nurses are being urged to join to help in the advancement of the programs of the association, among which are: (1) Legislation to upgrade nursing practice and protect the public; (2) Economic welfare of nurses; (3) Scholarships and loan funds for graduate and student nurses; (4) Professional counseling and placement services; (5) Cooperation with other groups in planning for health promotion and better patient care. Honoring "Professional Nurses of Oregon," Gov. Robert D. Holmes has proclaimed Wednesday, January 22, 1958, as "American Nurses' Association Day."

Sewing Class Set For 4-H Leaders

A series of classes for 4-H leaders who plan to teach sewing will start at the Singer Sewing center Wednesday, January 22, at 9:30 a.m. until 12 noon. The four classes, to be held four consecutive Wednesday mornings, are sponsored by the local Singer Sewing center and the county extension service.

Eight leaders have signed for the course, according to Miss Marilou Garner, 4-H county agent for girls, who will assist Mrs. Geneva M. Neill in the teaching of the classes.

Nurses who are on committees in charge of the membership roll call here include Mrs. Loree Phillips, chairman; Mrs. Phyllis Schroeder, Mrs. Cleo Kent and Mrs. Margaret Jacobs.

Dr. Donald McGeary was guest speaker at the January meeting of District 4 held at Sacred Heart hospital, Mrs. Bates presided.

Further plans were made for observance of the roll call. A short program will be presented over KBES-TV by the association Thursday, January 23 at 5:50 p.m. Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Phillips, membership chairman, Miss Harriet Johnson and Miss Frances Clink will take part.

Grand Guardian Bethel Visitor

Central Point — Mrs. J. W. McGill, Beaverton, Ore., grand guardian of International Order of Job's Daughters in Oregon, was a visitor at a meeting of Bethel 38 held last week. Miss Kay Askwith, new queen, conducted her first meeting since installation.

Miss Gail Collins, grand inner guard of Oregon; Mrs. C. D. Elhart, past grand guardian; Lem Manning, outer guard of the grand council; Mrs. A. M. Setness and Mrs. Richard Stratton, past guardians, and Miss Helen Hood, junior past queen, were introduced.

Miss Sharon Anderson, chaplain, and Miss Ellen Ward, third messenger, were installed into office. Refreshments were served by the Misses Donna Burnett, Arlene Chausee, June Hopkins and their mothers.

The past queen's banquet honoring Miss Hood was held January 14. Thirty attended. Miss Colleen Hope's dancers presented entertainment. The theme of the evening was "My Special Angels" and decorations were pink and green.

Thursday Club

Phoenix — Phoenix Thursday club will meet at the home of Mrs. Alton Anderson, 2607 Eastover Terrace, Medford, January 24, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Jesse Wilson and Mrs. Inez Hayse will assist.

Mothers Elect Year's Officers

Mrs. James Cech was re-elected president of Medford group of Blue Star Mothers at the monthly meeting held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Note on Hamilton street. Other officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Helen Watson, vice president; Mrs. Mary Note, secretary; Mrs. Olaf Severson, treasurer; chaplain, Mrs. Jennie Pitts; hospital visitation chairman, Mrs. Fred Middlebush; publicity, Mrs. Rosa Lack; daisy sales chairman, Mrs. Frank Gleaves; legislative, Mrs. Clyde Wilson.

A new member was taken into the organization, Mrs. C. O. Lack, recently a Blue Star member from Dillard. Mrs. Middlebush gave an interesting summary of the recent meeting of the VAVS. Final plans were made for the group to sponsor a birthday party for the wheelchair members of the Camp White domiciliary, Friday, January 24.

At the close of the business session a birthday cake was presented to Mrs. Cech which was made and decorated by Mrs. Annie Wilson. The hostess served refreshments. Installation of officers will be held at the February 20 meeting in the home of Mrs. Frank Gleaves on McAndrews road. This meeting will be a potluck luncheon at 12 o'clock with Blue Star Mothers of Grants Pass as guests.

Home Safety Topic For Extension Unit

Reese Creek — Mrs. Fred Carlson gave a talk on "Safety in the Home" at the last meeting of Reese Creek Extension unit, held at the home of Mrs. Ronald Mattheisen.

Mrs. D. L. Stephenson reported on Associated Country Women of the World, and members made plans to correspond with country women in other parts of the world. Luncheon, served by Mrs. Ralph Humphrey and Mrs. Mattheisen, featured Chinese dishes.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Merle McGraw, Crater Lake highway, at 10:30 a.m. February 4. Mrs. McGraw and Mrs. James Martenson will be leaders for the lesson, "Pastry and Pies." All women in the community are invited to attend.

"Carnival of Animals" On Program for Concert

Saint-Saens imaginative composition "Carnival of the Animals" will be the final number on the program to be presented by the Philharmonic Society of Southern Oregon in the concert set for Sunday, January 26, at Medford High school auditorium. Curtain time is 3 p.m.

The "Carnival" was written for two solo pianos and small orchestra; many of the instruments, including the pianos, imitate the animals. Piano soloists will be Miss Helene Robinson, Southern Oregon college faculty member, and Bruno Pellegrini, both well known musicians who will play incidental solos include Bernard Windt, cellist, playing "The Swan"; Mrs. Irma Kyle playing the xylophone solo in "Fossils"; Harry Meyers, who will do a bass solo in "Elephants" and Ronald Bartlett, who will play the clarinet solo in the finale.

Rounding out the number will be ballet numbers to be staged by Miss Colleen Hope, Medford dance instructor. Miss Hope has studied in both Mexico and Paris as well as in this country and has operated a school of dance here for many years.

"The Carnival of Animals" has been a favorite with audiences since first produced. Written by Saint-Saens as a musical joke to be enjoyed by himself and his friends, the composer would not allow it to be played in public or to be published during his lifetime.

Sunday's program will also include "The Blessed Damozel," written by Claude Debussy for women's chorus and soprano and contralto soloists and Beethoven's "Symphony No. 1 in C major."

Tickets will be on sale at the box office.
