Study of Conduct Code Started at McLoughlin

An organizational meeting to set up a pattern of study among the parents of students of McLoughlin Junior High school to determine the acceptance and parent support of a "code of social conduct" for the students will be held Wednesday, January 29th, from 1 to 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. John Schroeder, 413 No. Columbus street.

This study is being sponsored by the McLoughlin Junior High Parent-Teacher group and is under the direction of Mrs. Schroeder, president of the association. Committee members to aid Mrs. Schroeder in this study are Mrs. Clayton Ruhl and Mrs. Roy Elmgren, co-chairmen; Mrs. Jack White, Mrs. Bill Rambo, Mrs. L. P. Crocker and Mrs. Roland Holmes. It has been decided that the committee originally appointed for the study group combine their efforts with other committee members to further the study on the code of conduct.

All interested parents of McLoughlin Junior High school students are urged by the president to attend this meeting, and those who are unable to attend are invited to express their views by calling any of the committee members.

In a series of meetings under the direction of the principal, Glenn Linn, students of the school will discuss and evaluate a code of social conduct acceptable to them. It is emphasized to parents and students that to be a success, the essence of the code of conduct must be set forth by the students themselves. They must see the need of a spirit of cooperation and feel the sense of responsibility to each other, their schools, homes and their community; they must recognize the fact that their character and reputation depends upon good behavior at all times, it is said.

The code of social conduct will probably fall under the general classifications of dating, time to be home, going steady, home parties, parent, responsibility, telephone conduct and others.

Parents and the students will meet separately to discuss fully the problems each generation feels should be reviewed. Both groups will suggest recommendations that seem feasible for such a code of social conduct. Then, the two groups will meet together and arrive at a code that will be acceptable to both parents and students.

Parents and teachers are convinced that, while a code of conduct will not bring a general remedy for all teenage problems, it will represent a constructive step in the right direction and will lessen the teen-agers cry of everybody else can, and why can't I? Mrs. Schroeder states. With a code in the hands of each parent and student, everyone will know exactly what is permitted in the areas covered by the code.

Christ on Campus To Be Theme for Society Meeting
 "Christ on the Campus" will be the title of the program to be presented at a meeting of Woman's Society of Christian Service Tuesday, January 28, at 1:30 p.m.

The Rev. Louis Miles, director of the Wesley Foundation at Southern Oregon college in Ashland, will tell of the student work being carried on in the new Wesley Foundation building on that campus. The Wesley Foundation is a part of the organization known as the Methodist Student Movement, which is organized on a state and national basis. There are 600 student groups in Methodist colleges, Wesley Foundations, and other university centers which make up the MSM.

The remainder of the program, to be presented by Mrs. Verne Wilson, secretary of student work for the Woman's society, will focus attention on higher education, one of the quadrennial emphases of the Methodist church, and will present an overall view of the institutions of higher learning sponsored by the Woman's Division of Christian Service, both at home and overseas. Mrs. Wilson states that the Woman's Division maintains 31 educational centers in the United States and there are 117 colleges and secondary schools related to the board of education of the Methodist church.

Miss Joan Laurila and Miss Marsha Minshall will assist Mrs. Wilson in presenting a dialogue titled "The Christ of the Burning Bush." Mrs. Carroll Adams, secretary for the Woman's society, will lead the afternoon devotions.

The prayer circle will meet at 10:30 a.m. in Meeker chapel followed by the business session at 11 a.m. in the Schweitzer room. Luncheon will be served in the dining room at 12:30 p.m. by Circle 2, under the leadership of Mrs. G. L. Mayfield. A nursery will be provided all day for the pre-school children. Any interested persons are invited to attend.

Kraut Slaw
 Add variety to your salad course and treat the family to a crisp and colorful kraut slaw easily made by combining one 1-pound can kraut, drained, one medium-sized apple, coarsely grated, and 1 1/2 cups coarsely grated carrots. Mix thoroughly. Add 1/4 cup mayonnaise; mix lightly but thoroughly. Chill. This is nice with ham steak.
