

LA, San Francisco Start To Claim Gold of Moves

By JOHN GRIFFIN

The Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants are starting to mine the gold they struck in California, a United Press survey of pre-season baseball ticket sales disclosed today.

Fifteen of the 16 major-league clubs reported their advance sales for the 1958 season are running even or well ahead of last year, with the Chicago Cubs the lone exception. But the transplanted Dodgers and Giants were bidding to "out-Milwaukee" those fantastic Braves' crowds.

"At this date our sales are about twice what they were in Brooklyn on opening day," exulted Dodger ticket manager Harold Parrott. The Giants will be playing in 25,000-seat Seals Stadium instead of the 55,000-seat Polo Grounds, but even so a Giant spokesman reported sales are approaching $2,000,000 — "at least twice" what they were in New York a year ago.

"The park is smaller," he admitted, "but we'll just sell out here oftener, that's all."

Last Friday's Medford Police Athletic League-Talent Boxing club card at the Veterans Administration domiciliary has stimulated interest in presentation of amateur bouts at the VAD on a regular basis. If such arrangements can be made, the VAD see the possibility of having its own portable ring and staging the fights at its stadium in the summer months as well as in the new auditorium during the colder or cooler part of the year.

It's possible several other ring clubs could be formed in the valley and they could take advantage of the VA facilities as well as have cards in their own communities. Medford PAL is an example of what can be done in the larger towns of the valley. The Talent venture should serve as an encouraging model for the smaller towns.

SAME SONG
In the Grants Pass Courier, sports writer had this to say about Medford high's win Friday over the Grants Pass basketball team:

Portland Adds Height Before Meeting Chiefs
Portland—The Portland Pilots, strengthened by the addition of 6-9 freshman center Ray Scott and bolstered in stock by an upset win over strong Bradley, tangle with Seattle's Chieftains at Seattle Thursday and Friday nights.

Seattle has won a pair over the Pilots here earlier. Portland edged Bradley last week, using but six players in the game. Coach Al Negratl said the addition of Scott, an all-star from Pennsylvania, would give the Pilots needed height, although Scott was not expected to start.

West Virginia Holding Solid First in Poll

TOP SPRINTERS MEET
New York—Dave Sime and Ira Murchison, two of the best sprinters in the world, will meet at Madison Square Garden Feb. 8 in the 60-yard dash of the Millrose Games. Sime won two out of three races from Murchison Saturday night in the Washington Evening Star meet.

THEY WERE FULL
A contribution we received the other day for the sports section mentioned "a capacity filled crowd." Just what the spectators had to fill them to capacity, wasn't specified.

CHRISTIAN SIXTH
We don't see Scholastic Coach magazine but word has been passed to this department that Wayne Christian, Eagle Point, high, is the only Oregonian listed on the magazine's 1957 track All-American squad. His javelin throw of 193 feet plus last spring ranked sixth in the country.

WILL NORTH BE HELPED?
We can't help wondering whether the action being the state track meet back two weeks to May 30-31 this year is aimed at improving the chances of the schools in the northern part of the state against those of southern Oregon. It's been felt that the advantage in weather, permitting teams to round in to top flight shape more quickly. Just the same we've seen some wet meets here.

Boots Cops Dog Trial Open Stake

Boots, owned and handled by Claude (Shorty) Miles, was winner in the open stake Sunday, in the first picnic trial of the season conducted by Rogue Valley Retriever club.

The event was staged at the military bridge site on the north side of Rogue river. Participants had favorable weather for the trial and a large crowd was on hand to watch the dogs and handlers.

Hillman Miller's Tug took the qualifying stake and Leonard Lilya's Imp the derby. Puppy stake was won by Lee Settel's Topsy.

Members agree that the dogs worked well after the lay-off period since last summer. Some fine performances were turned in.

Frank Carter and Tom Rickard judged the open, Ken Ritter and Ray Ritter the qualifying stake, Gene Hunt and Ira Parrish the derby and Mrs. Hunt and Dr. Gene Meyer-ering, the puppy event.

The trial will be on Feb. 23. Dogs taking honors and their owners were:

Open—1st, Boots, Shorty Miles; 2nd, Kip, Ken Denman; 3rd, Velvet, Dr. Charles Versteeg; 4th, Muffin, Dr. Gene Meyerering; 5th, Rip, Gene Hunt; 6th, Leonard Lilya; 7th, Flann, Weldon King; 8th, Otto Lilya; 9th, Kara, Leonard Nelson.

Patterson to Make 2 Title Defense Bouts

New York—Manager Gus D'Amato declared today that "only Sabotage" could prevent Floyd Patterson from making two defenses of the heavyweight crown before July—in the United States in April and in London in late June.

Stocky D'Amato, with the gray crew-cut, said he was so fearful that the International Boxing Club or its allies would try to block an American defense in April that he would not announce the challenger, promoter or site "until everything is under contract, secured by guarantees."

And he said promoter Jack Solomons of London, whom he described as "an associate of the IBC," was already trying to stymie a Patterson defense against Joe Erskine, British heavyweight champion, at London in June by offering huge guarantees to Erskine for other bouts.

Solomons is a rival of London promoter Harry Levene, who flew to New York over the weekend and made a joint announcement with D'Amato Monday that there had been "an agreement in principle" for Patterson to defend against Welshman Erskine in London's huge Wembley Stadium, seating more than 80,000 for a fight.

The announcement pointed out, however, that Erskine would be the challenger only if he wrested the European title from Sweden's undefeated Ingemar Johansson at Stockholm, Feb. 21.

Dodger's Playing Days May Be Over, Says Doc
Glencove, N.Y.—Los Angeles Dodger star catcher Roy Campanella suffered a broken neck in an automobile accident early today. He is "paralyzed from the chest down," his wife told newsmen.

An operation to relieve pressure on his spinal cord and determine the extent of injury was begun at 8:15 a.m. (e.s.t.). Doctors at Glen Cove Community Hospital said it would not be completed for several hours.

A doctor, who declined to be identified, said, however, that "his playing days may be over."

Jinx Said Cause for First Loss

West Virginia's first defeat of the season was attributed today to a "home court jinx" and "the Carolina air" among other things, but the plain, unvarnished truth is that Duke's inspired Blue Devils simply out-foxed and out-ran the mighty Mountaineers.

By upsetting top-ranked West Virginia, 72-68, at Durham, N.C., Monday night, the Blue Devils snapped the Mountaineers' 14-game winning streak and maintained their record of never having lost to the West Virginians in Duke's indoor stadium.

Unheralded Houston topped sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, 70-64, ending the Cowpokes' 12-game winning streak at Houston, Tex. Georgia Tech engineered another upset in engineering 10th-ranked Kentucky, 71-52, to move into a tie with the Wildcats for the Southeastern Conference lead.

Ohio State edged Purdue, 75-73, and Northwestern turned back Minnesota, 85-76, in a pair of Big Ten games.

Xavier of Ohio won 76-65 over LaSalle of Philadelphia and North Texas State earned a 59-57 decision over favored Tulsa, while Marquette defeated Toledo, 85-55.

Wheaton College, the nation's No. 1 small college basketball team, crushed Wayne State University, 88-54. Elgin Baylor's 23 points sparked Seattle to a 75-67 triumph over Santa Clara.

New York — High school basketball is the answer to United States world supremacy in the sport, St. John's coach Joe Lapchick asserted Tuesday, and there's no possibility of Russia or anyone else "catching up" in the near future.

"Those extra four years are the reason that our boys retain their edge in international competition," explained the original Celtics. "It gives us an edge, which, plus a superb level of intercollegiate competition, figures to keep us on top."

Lapchick, a modest man who still calls "em as he sees 'em, figures that the five poorest players on our Olympic team could win the title at the international games in Rome in 1960.

English Teacher Coached
"It used to be that anybody at all taught high school basketball," Lapchick said. "They would take the English teacher, as example, and tell him to buy a book and coach basketball."

RED MEMBERSHIP DRIVE
Rome—Italy's Communists, trying to regain the membership lost during their worst postwar crisis, threw the party's doors open to any repentant rebels today. Number two man in the party, Luigi Longo, announced the policy before leaving for Moscow Monday. He said "the doors of the Communist Party are always open to those who in a moment of confusion abandoned its ranks and now honestly recognize the error they made." The party has lost an estimated 200,000 members during the past year.
