New England Gets Record Rainfall; Snow Covers Texas

By UNITED PRESS
Snows followed up record rains in New England today and authorities kept a wary eye on flooding rivers. In Texas, heavy snows were hailed as a godsend to parched rangeland. Authorities said the Neponset river in Massachusetts already had crested two feet above flood stage. The nearby Charles river, also fed by the heaviest January rains in 80 years, was expected to crest today.

Record for January
Rainfall in the area brimmed at 9.29 inches for January. Official records showed that the nearest figure to the record amount was 7.60 inches during January, 1878. Also, an accumulation of 21.64 inches since the first of November showed that rainfall amounts in the last three months was more than in the 10 months preceding.

Northwest Pelted
The Pacific Northwest took another wild barrage from the heavens as rather general rainfall pelted the area from Northern California into Washington. Relatively light amounts of rain were spattered across the Gulf Coast from Eastern Texas to Florida's northwest edge during the night.

One of the Plymouths above is fresh from the assembly line. The other, a veteran of the toughest test run of all time: 58,000 continuous miles in 58 days. A thousand miles a day through 37 states. We put both cars through the same exacting tests. Acceleration. Gas economy. Handling ease. Braking efficiency. The results: The Plymouth that had driven 58,000 miles—the equivalent of 6 years on the road—could hardly be told

Top Republican Raps President's New School Bill

Washington—The top Republican on the House Education Committee charged today that the Eisenhower administration's new school bill is misnamed, misleading, dumfounding and demoralizing. In addition, Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn (N.Y.) said, it won't cure the present educational "crisis" but will create "another crisis—federal control."

Gwinn blistered the administration's four-year billion-dollar plan to bolster scientific education in a speech prepared for House delivery. "Audacity Dumfounding" "The audacity of this bill is dumfounding," he declared. Gwinn said a key proposal for 10,000 college scholarships a year for four years is "nothing more than a smokescreen." "More than three quarters of the money authorized by this measure is to be doled out to the states to pay salaries of high school mathematics and science teachers," he said.

"It's real time should be the teacher pay bill of 1958, and its vote-getting possibilities." Gwinn said the federal government sought to grab credit for boosting teachers' pay by advising the states to "drag their feet" on pay increases until the bill's outcome can be determined. He called this a "demoralizing offer" and advised the states to disregard it.

Dramatic braking test made before top automotive editors. The Plymouth on the right had just completed a 58,000-mile cross-country run. Other tests included acceleration, ride smoothness, gas economy, handling ease. The 58,000-mile veteran performed like new!

What does it all prove? Just this: from the day you buy it, to the day you trade it in, your new Plymouth will take you to wherever you're going . . . faster, smoother, easier, safer. You get more value now . . . and you look forward to more dollars when you trade. Why not see your Plymouth dealer now? He'll give you a fair appraisal of your present car. Then you'll see how easy it is to own America's biggest automotive value.

Plymouth stays young and proves it!
