Northwest Democrats Look To Gulliver Of Senate for Help on River Projects

By A. ROBERT SMITH
Mail Tribune Correspondent
Washington — The man to whom Northwest Democrats are looking for help in getting more money for John Day dam and other river projects this year is known as the Gulliver of the Senate — Allen Ellender (D-La.) who is chairman of the Senate Public Works Appropriations subcommittee.

Last fall Ellender tramped alone into Siberia to see what the Russians were up to on their great rivers, and he returned with 10,000 feet of film on Soviet dam building to support his conclusion that the U. S. isn't doing enough to match the Russians in this field. It was through Ellender's backing that $1,000,000 was added to last year's budget to start John Day dam, a $310,000,000 undertaking. Fairly regularly, Ellender plays handball in the Senate gym with Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.). The wisecrack going the rounds now is: "If Dick doesn't get John Day dam speeded up he won't dare win a game of handball for over 100 years."

Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) had the feeling he was being followed all last week, and for a man who has been warned by local police to carry a gun for protection, this is nothing to laugh off. His feelings were right, for a reporter-photographer team from Life Magazine tailed him for six days, shooting up some 750 films for a spread on "the congressman for Latin America."

HORN BROOK Women's Society Meets

By MRS. H. H. CHAPMAN
Hornbrook — The Women's Society of the Methodist church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. T. D. Killingsworth. Devotions were led by the hostess. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Ernest Adams, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harry Chapman.

Members present were Mrs. L. C. Walsh, Mrs. Henley Clawson, Mrs. Clara Howard, Mrs. George Brautlecht, Mrs. Cecil Bowman, Mrs. Bertha Bradley, Mrs. Ardon Burns, Mrs. S. D. Haworth, Mrs. Minnie Bloomingcamp, the Rev. and Mrs. Ted Hargreaves and daughter Denise.

Two visitors also attended the meeting, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Arlie Clyburn, both of whom became members. Final plans were made for the annual Valentine Silver Tea to be given Feb. 13 at the church. It was requested that all who have clothing to be donated to the Church World Service program have the clothing at the church on or before Feb. 27, at which time it will be boxed and sent to the World Service headquarters for shipment overseas. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Clawson showed color movies of previous meetings and events of the Women's Society.

Because of the heavy rain and snow and the subsequent hazardous condition of Highway 99 last Thursday, none of the Grange members from here was able to attend the benefit card party at the Greenhorn Grange hall south of Yreka. Consequently, at the regular meeting of Hornbrook Grange on Friday, a collection was taken up and sent to Gazelle Grange, for whose benefit the party had been scheduled. The money will be applied to the fund they are raising to replace their hall which recently burned.

Mrs. Laura Swinnerton gave a dinner party at her home Wednesday honoring her daughter, Mrs. Dave Holland, on her birthday. Other guests were Dave Holland and Mrs. Bertha Bradley. Later in the evening they were joined by the Holland's son, Bill, who arrived home from Chico, Calif., to spend a week's mid-term vacation from Chico State college.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Swinnerton entertained the Contract Bridge club at Mrs. Holland's home. Others playing were Mrs. Fred Mills, Mrs. Lester Nye, Mrs. Duane Hamner, Mrs. Bertha Bradley, Mrs. Henley Clawson and Mrs. John Griffin, the latter two substituting for regular members who were unable to be present. Mrs. Mills held high score, and Mrs. Nye, second.

Mrs. Milo Dilley and daughter, Betty, of Reno, Nev., were in town last week on a trip to combining business and pleasure. While here, they visited at the Ardon Burns and Frank Bear homes, and Betty visited two days at the Hornbrook grammar school with her former classmates here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley and son of Napa, Calif., and his sister, Mrs. Zella De Martino and daughter, Colleen, of Oakland, Calif., were weekend end visitors at Mrs. Bertha Bradley's.

A telephone call Sunday morning to Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jeter from their son, Bill, at Ft. Ord, Calif., advised them he was leaving by plane out of San Francisco that night for his new assignment at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where he will be in the U.S. Army Signal school.

Overnight guests at the L. E. Jeter home last Monday were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler. They were en route to visit relatives of Mrs. Fowler's at Seattle, Wash., from where they will begin their journey home to Ft. Scott, Kan.

Recent Sunday dinner guests at the Ed Smith home, besides their son, Bob, of Roseburg, Ore., their daughter, Dorothy, and their other son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. Smith and son of Orland, Calif., were Mrs. Dora W. Marlahan, Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Burton and son, Ernest, Mike Marlahan, all of Ft. Jones and Dr. and Mrs. George Kleaver of Yreka.

Word has been received by his parents here that A/2C Frank Fick is on a 90-day assignment at Wheeler Air Base in Tripoli from his home base at Wethersfield, England. Frank is with the 55th fighter bomber squadron.

The next in the series of card parties being given by the Hornbrook Grange is

Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.), is running so hard for reelection this year he has pressed his wife into work.

Every night when Norblad comes home from the office, he has an armload of paperwork — the day's returns from a questionnaire he has been mailing to 85,000 residents of northwest Oregon.

Mrs. Norblad's job is to help tabulate the answers Oregonians have given to the list of questions of how they feel about everything from foreign aid to taxes.

Those confounded robots in the bowels of the Senate office building have once more confounded Oregonians who receive Sen. Wayne Morse's newsletter.

Several months ago, the machines that stuff envelopes got fouled up and stuffed Morse's envelopes with a letter of congratulations to high school graduates from Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.). More recently, they mixed up the big stacks of newsletters that go through the folding room every week and sent some of Sen. Pat McNamara's letters to those on the Oregon senator's list.

The latter incident should aid in giving Oregonians a "liberal" education, since McNamara is of the same wing of the party as is Morse. But if those robots ever slip in some of the material of Sen. Harry Byrd or Sen. James Eastland, automation will be doomed.

PLAYWRIGHT DIES

Newark, N.J. — Miss Antoinette Quinby Scudder, 72, playwright, poet, and co-founder and president of the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, N.J., died at her home Monday, apparently of a heart attack. Miss Scudder painted many landscapes, especially of New England scenes and her work was shown widely in the East. She wrote more than 30 plays and several volumes of poetry. She bought the Paper Mill Playhouse, which opened in 1937 with the presentation of straight dramatic plays. In 1940, it began to put on revivals of musicals.

scheduled for next Saturday, Feb. 1. Attendance has been increasing at each of these parties, and an evening of fun is promised by the Grange officers.
