

They'll Do It Every Time By Jimmy Hatlo

THAT REALLY ISN'T ENOUGH WORK FOR TWO SECRETARIES, MISTER BIGDOME—AND I'VE BEEN DOING ALL OF ROSIOLA'S WORK SINCE SHE GOT ME THE JOB HERE—IT SEEMS SUCH A WASTE...

HARRUMPH! RIGHT! YES, INDEED! I'VE BEEN THINKING OF CUTTING DOWN— TAKE A MEMO TO THE OFFICE MANAGER...

STILLET'S BEEN AFTER ROSIOLA'S JOB FOR MONTHS AND FINALLY SUCCEEDS IN KNIFING HER OUT OF THE FIRM ALTOGETHER...

LETTING YOU GO? THAT BIGDOME OUGHT TO BE TARRIED AND FEATHERED! IT'S A CRYING SHAME! I FEEL LIKE QUITTING RIGHT NOW! THIS IS TERRIBLE—OH, DEAR...

DIDN'T JA HEAR STILLET'S TWO NIECES ARE COMIN' TO WORK HERE? I KETCH!

SO WHO PLAYS CHIEF MOURNER WHEN THE AXE IS DROPPED? RIGHT YOU ARE—

I JUST CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT—

THANK AND A TIP OF THE HATLO HAT TO "HOT SQUAD," NASHVILLE, TENN.

Back Stairs: Bowling Alley in Use

By MERRIMAN SMITH

United Press White House Writer

Washington — Back stairs at the White House: Former President Truman might be interested to know that his old bowling alley with the automatic pin-setters still is in good White House service.

The alleys, given to Truman when he was in the White House by a group of friends, were removed from the basement of the west wing of the White House some time ago and transferred to the old State Department building. White House police have an active league of regular players on the alleys these days.

Every recent President seems to have left some sort of recreational legacy at the White House. Coolidge introduced the electric horse and a later model still is in the presidential gym. The swimming pool came in with

BULLETIN LISTED

Corvallis—A new bulletin giving detailed information on the use of commercially applied pesticides in Oregon has been published by the Oregon State college agricultural experiment station.

On display at the Bank of Illinois Valley is an ancient metal strong box which was brought around the Horn in 1852. It was brought by mule train from Crescent City to Safford Diggins, then the county seat, and was used by James Elwain, a local merchant who was also the first county treasurer.

Illinois Valley High school speech students and their instructor, Don Brown, will go to Ashland Friday and Saturday to participate in the annual Southern Oregon college speech tournament.

Five debate teams from the local high school are scheduled for the tournament, as well as entrants in oratory, impromptu and extemporaneous speaking, and poetry reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Mellow (the former Clydus Knight) arrived Monday morning in Cave Junction to visit Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Knight, Andy's mother, Mrs. Isabel Mellow and other relatives.

The couple will return to Santa Rosa Thursday, where Mellow is attending junior college.

Dick Holt, department deputy inspector, was a visitor at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4390 meeting recently.

The auxiliary held a social night Thursday, inviting the men in after their business session for refreshments. Mrs. Al Mellow provided a large cake for the occasion.

Nancy Hamline is the name chosen for the new daughter in the Glen R. Davis family. The baby, born Jan. 19 at Josephine hospital, has two brothers, Ronald and Russell, a sister, Sally, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. David Loooper, of Cave Junction and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis of Myrtle Creek.
