

When Junior Service league members and guests model for the annual style show February 13 and 14, they will wear clothing selected by well known Medford business and professional men. Phillip Lowry, attorney and state senator, here approves a navy blue and white spring frock which Mrs. Richard Hensley tried on for his approval at Jean Hart's shop.

"Hmmm," says Robert C. Taylor, car dealer, while he decides if Mrs. Walter Graff should wear this coat from Frances' Furs for the annual Medford Junior Service league spring fashion show February 13 and 14. The coat is a handsome silver mink in a comfortable fingertip length. Ten well known business and professional men of the city are taking time out from their busy schedules to help league members choose just the right clothing to interest guests at the coming show.
