

Stanford Surprises OSC; Opposes Oregon Tonight

Eugene—Stanford, surprise 69-57 victor over Oregon State at Corvallis Saturday night, meets the Oregon Ducks here tonight in a Pacific Coast conference basketball game.

A Stanford win would put the Indians ahead of Oregon in seventh place. Stanford currently is in eighth place, half a game behind Oregon and half a game ahead of Washington State.

Accuracy at the free throw line gave Stanford its win over Oregon State Saturday. The Indians hit 33 of 41 free throws while Oregon State made but 11 from the charity mark.

The defeat was a costly one to OSC's title hopes. The Beavers now have a 5-3 record compared to 5-1 for UCLA and California and 5-2 for Idaho.

Lee Harman standout Oregon State guard, missed the game with a shoulder injury and may be out of action for two weeks.

Dave Gambee of Oregon State led the scoring with 23 while Ken Nanson had 20. Gerry Thuesen and Paul Neumann had 18 for Stanford.

SIGN FOR MEET
South Bend, Ind. — Notre Dame and Southern California have signed for football games in 1961 and 1962, athletic directors Ed Krause and Jess Hill announced today.

HOWARD WINNER
Howard grade school varsity rang up its fifth win against no defeats Friday by topping Ruch 24 to 15 as Wayne Cowan put in 10 points. Howard won the junior varsity hassle 18 to 8.

Space Age Fair Suggested Now

San Francisco — Attorney General Edmund G. Brown, a candidate for governor of the state, has suggested the legislature study the feasibility of a space age, atomic and electronics fair.

In letters to Assemblyman Lester McMillan (D-Los Angeles), chairman of the State Assembly Committee on Industrial Relations, and Donald Doyle (R-Lafayette), chairman of the Assembly Education committee, Brown outlined his proposal.

Brown said the purpose of the suggested space age fair should be to provoke greater public awareness of the subject and to arouse Californians, particularly young people, to the vast new scientific revolution.

He said a feasibility study might determine that public underwriting of the project could be kept to a minimum. Brown urged that the fair be planned so that it could be moved about to Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Fresno, Sacramento, San Jose and other cities in the state.

Park Commission To Meet Feb. 21

Sacramento — The State Park commission will meet in Monterey Feb. 21 to hear recommendations for operating the Hearst-San Simeon state historical monument.

State beaches and parks chief Newton B. Drury said the commission will be asked to approve a $2 admission charge for adults and $1 for children 6 to 12 years of age.

Autoist Dies at Wheel in Portland

Portland — A 67-year-old Camas, Wash., man, Frank Marchbank, slumped over the wheel of his auto and died Sunday as he was driving through Portland en route to Arizona on a vacation with his wife.

The Multnomah county coroner's office said it believed death was caused by a heart ailment.

Mrs. Marchbank grabbed the steering wheel and maneuvered the car to a parking lot. She said a week ago a doctor ordered her husband to avoid strenuous activity because of the heart condition.

Ken Venturi Golf Champ

Phoenix, Ariz. — Ken Venturi, with his new crown of "King of the Golfers" firmly in place, leaves today for Tucson, Ariz., and a shot at his third consecutive championship on the winter tour.

With his self-admitted "toughest victory" behind him after scoring a one-stroke win in the $15,000 Phoenix Open, the 26-year-old San Francisco shot-maker is in a position to follow out his design, which is:

"Win 'em all."
The youthful fairway artist now is the only pro on the regular circuit who has shown anything resembling mastery of the crown. He is the only man to win two major tournaments in a row this year.

He beat Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and the fast-closing Walter Burkemo, Franklin Hills, Mich., by a single stroke with a 274.

Burkemo and Hebert tied for second each. At 279 came John McMullin, Alameda, Calif., and Bill Collins, Grossinger, N. Y., a pair of dark horses, each collecting $950.

Portland Considers Transit Problem

Portland — The Portland city council met again today to wrestle with the transit problem and to consider an emergency ordinance to grant a 25 cent fare to Rose City Transit Company.

The firm has served notice it will suspend service after Feb. 28 if a fare boost is not given by Thursday.

The council last week turned down an emergency ordinance to grant the fare hike immediately. A unanimous vote is needed.

Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton said he probably would not have an opinion until Tuesday on whether Public Utility Commissioner Howard Morgan has authority to review any rate increase which might be granted. City officials planned to go ahead with the meeting today anyway.

Beck Trial Set For Continuance

Tacoma — U. S. District Court Judge George H. Boldt Friday continued from April 14 to May 5 the income tax evasion trial of Dave Beck, former Teamster president.

Boldt granted the delay to give Beck's attorneys additional time to prepare his defense.

The attorneys asked for a six week continuance and also requested a transfer of the trial outside the state. The latter was denied.

Beck is accused of failing to pay taxes on about $280,000 in unreported income.

The stage was set today for a mid-season showdown battle between California and UCLA next weekend when the Bears invade the Southland in quest of sole possession of first place in the Pacific Coast conference basketball race—something the Bruins are also after.

Both clubs, now tied for the PCC lead with 5-1 records, were given some breathing space Saturday when Stanford pulled its second major upset of the season by handing Oregon State a 69-55 defeat at Corvallis. The Indians had previously beaten the San Francisco Dons, currently ranked third in the nation.

Idaho (5-2), Oregon State (5-3) and Southern California (4-3) are far from out of it yet but California is currently in the drivers' seat for a possible berth in the Western regional in March. UCLA, still on probation, is ineligible for the title and NCAA playoffs.

Free Throws Kill Beavers
Although outscored from the field, 23 to 18, Stanford put on an amazing show at the free throw line to dump the Beavers, who seem to have mastered the knack of beating some of the best teams on the Coast while losing to some of the weaker clubs.

In the only other game involving a PCC team Saturday, California easily defeated Santa Clara 54-46, in an afternoon tilt at Berkeley. Bear regulars sat out most of the second half but the Broncos were never able to more than hold their own after falling far behind in the first period.

Only two games were played in the West Coast Athletic conference Saturday night and Pepperdine probably wishes it hadn't been in one of them.

USF Sets School Record
A dead-eyed San Francisco quintet ran wild to hand the Waves a 105-59 battering as the Dons racked up their fifth straight conference victory. USF was unbeatable at a better than 50 per cent clip. Guard Gene Brown and forward Mike Farmer led the winners with 22 and 17 points respectively.

St. Mary's upped its WCAC record to 3-0 as the Gaels coasted to an easy 63-50 victory over Loyola. Tom Donahue had 20 points for the Lions while Dick Sigaty scored 15 for the Gaels.

Alexandria, Egypt — An Egyptian woman, Naima El Said, gave birth to triplets—two boys and a girl—here Saturday as Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Syrian President Shukri El Kuwaty were proclaiming the new Syrian-Egyptian union.

She named the boys Nasser and Kuwaty and the girl Unity.

Inquiry Launched On Singer's Acts
Rome — Sen. Angelina Merlin, sponsor of a bill banning prostitution passed by parliament this week, now wants to know whether the behavior of singers like Maria Callas is hurting opera in Italy.

The 68-year-old ex-school-teacher demanded a government statement on the "Callas episode" in connection with a proposal for a guarantee of "the proper functioning of state-subsidized opera houses."

She was referring to the American-born singer's failure to appear for the second act of "Norma" on the opening night of the Rome Opera this month.

Delany Captures BAA Mile Run

Boston — Unbeatable miler Ron Delany's Irish brogue is fascinating but confusing.

At least that's one explanation of why it was generally understood that the 22-year-old Dubliner, via Villanova, was out to set an indoor mile record Saturday night in the Boston AA meet at the Garden.

Delany didn't establish a new mark, nor did he come close to his own best time, winning easily with a 4:05.3 clocking.

But he said quite matter-of-factly after the race that he had never meant to go for a record.

Jones Nabs 2-Mile
Charles (Deacon) Jones of the University of Iowa passed Yugoslav Velisa Mugosa on the last turn and won the two mile in 9:01.1 with two feet to spare.

Western Michigan university sprinter Ira Murchison won the dash. Charlie Spratt and Charlie Jenkins captured the hurdles and 600, respectively.

Dave Scurlock of the University of North Carolina won the 1,000 with a time of 2:11.1 only one-tenth second off the meet record set in 1950 by Roscoe Browne.

Defenders Win Hollywood Golf
Hollywood, Fla. — The defending champions' "jinx" in the Hollywood Women's Amateur Four-Ball golf tournament was buried today under the congratulations received by veterans Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore and Marge Lindsay of Decatur, Ill.

The pair beat the cold wind, descending darkness and the formidable team of Marlene Stewart Streit of Toronto, Ont., and Anne Casey Johnstone in a tense 38-hole match Sunday.
