

GP Cavekids Tip Crater Frosh Quint

Central Point—Grants Pass Cavekids won 38 to 34 in overtime last night to hand the Crater high freshmen their second basketball loss of the current campaign in 16 games.

The victory evened the count for a 28 to 26 setback at the hands of the Comets last month. Hamilton and Harris put in buckets in the overtime for GP. Count at the end of regular playing time was 34 each.

Grants Pass led at the intermissions 7 to 3, 15 to 13 and 27 to 23 but Crater pushed on top a couple of times in the final quarter.

The Comets were victims of cold shooting. They made just 13 of 71 tries from the field for 183. GP took only 36 shots but put in 14 for 389. Crater had 39 to 28 edge on the backboards with Bryson LaCasse getting 12 rebounds. CP Eighth Wins

Hamilton had 15 points and Harris 12. Dave Foote topped Crater with 13 and Tom White had 12.

In other frays with Grants Pass teams Central Point eighth grade won 38 to 28 and the seventh grade lost 30 to 24. Central Point eighth headed at the quarter 10 to 7 and at the three-quarter stop after a 15-all midway knit. John Champ put in 12 counters for the Pointers and Ausland nine for the Cavekids.

Grants Pass seventh had 11 to 1, 16 to 9 and 24 to 15 period advantages and was paced by Pippin with 13. Gary Wald scored nine for Central Point.

Yank Slat Stars Practice Hard

Bad Gastein, Austria—The Sally Deaver of Philadelphia and Bud Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., made final practice runs today in preparation for a week end both hope "will give the United States at least one title" in the world ski championships.

Miss Deaver finished 24th in Thursday's downhill for women but has drawn the No. 1 starting position for Saturday's giant slalom. Werner, trailing badly in the combined ratings, believes he can win Sunday's downhill event for the men.

No other American has a chance—barring a miracle—as the week-long competition draws to a close.

In the combined standings, Austria's Toni Sailer leads the men with a low score of 36, followed by Josi Rieder of Austria at 2.90. Frieda Daenzer of Switzerland leads the women's combined standings with 3.21 followed by Austria's Putzi Frandle with 3.39.

Collazo Picked Over Joe Lopes

Syracuse, N.Y.—Substitute Damaso Collazo of Havana, Cuba, was a surprising 7-5 favorite today to beat lightweight contender Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., in tonight's nationally-televised 10-round bout at Syracuse War Memorial auditorium.

Collazo got the nod from the oddsmakers for the bout because of his sharp punching and despite Lopes' sixth-ranking in the lightweight class.

Collazo, 29, will be filling the shoes of fifth-ranked contender Paolo Rosi who bowed out Wednesday because of an injured right heel.

Observers at Madison Square garden, where the Cuban has built a reputation for an unorthodox style, says Lopes may be in for a rough night. The unranked Cuban has abandoned the bob and weave tactics for an old-fashioned but effective upright stance.

PETTIT LOSES CAST

Philadelphia—The cast on St. Louis Hawks' star Bob Pettit's injured left hand will be removed today. Hawks owner Ben Kerner and team physician Dr. Stanley London flew in from St. Louis to supervise the removal. Since Pettit's injury the Hawks have broken even in 22 games. Before the injury they won 20 of 30 games.

Bone Fracture Sidelines Heard Of Talent Club

Talent—Talent high's Jackson County B league pacing basketball squad apparently has lost one of its regulars for the season.

Buzz Heard suffered a broken collarbone in the St. Mary's fracas at Medford last Tuesday. The break occurred at the same place that Heard fractured the bone in football last fall.

Talent's Bulldogs are idle tonight, drawing a bye in the circuit. They are unmarred in 12 loop games.

Roadking Quint At Eagle Point On February 11

Eagle Point—Unveiling, perhaps his greatest basketball team in the past 26 seasons, the Harlem Roadkings, Bobby Grund's mirth-provoking zany basketballers tangle with the Big Y Market quintet at the Eagle Point high gym on Feb. 11 at 8 p.m.

Winning games are a habit with the Roadkings and last season they hung up a record of 149 wins with but 7 losses and in that span ran up 58 straight victories before a loss. But turning the game into a circus of laughs, magic tricks with the ball and uncanny shooting is the trademark of the team.

And speaking of comedy, the hilarious Bob Golloway of the Roadkings, will display his court jesters that keep the fans in an uproar throughout the game. Golloway's crazy antics along with his superb basket shooting marks him as one of the outstanding professional players in the country today.

The Roadkings have also come up with a new, sensational "dribbler" in Sonny Mitchell of Louisville, Ky. Mitchell can make the ball do everything but talk and think as he goes through his dribbling stunts. Besides his dribbling chores, Mitchell was the high point getter for the Kings last season.

The "rookie" of the year for the Roadkings was Ulysses Grant, 6-4 center also from Louisville, and just out of high school. A fine rebounder, he picked up the clever routine of clowning his first season.

Big Y won the Medford Independent Basketball league crown.

McLoughlin Sweeps in Hoop Tilts

McLoughlin Junior high hoopers made it a clean sweep over Hedrick quintets in basketball games yesterday. The ninth graders evened the count for a previous loss by tapping the Hornets 38 to 34 in a well-played mix. Bulldog eighth was 42 to 23 victor and the McLoughlin seventh topped its Hornet counterpart 26 to 21.

Third quarter scoring turned the tide in the ninth grade ruckus. McLoughlin, in front 17 to 15 at the half, ran up 15 points to Hedrick's eighth in the third stanza for a 32 to 23 advantage. First period standing favored the Bulldogs 11 to 6.

Quinney Has
Bob Quinney with his 14 markers and Dick Ragsdale with his floor play spurred the McLoughlin five. Dan Sieg had 10 points for the Hornets. Cadilli Spoils Aceves Record

Los Angeles—Veteran Gil Cadilli, 128, San Francisco, spoiled Enrique (Hank) Aceves, unbeaten record Thursday night with a seventh round knockout of the hard-hitting Los Angeles featherweight at the Olympic auditorium.

Cadilli, veteran of 44 professional fights and a 10-7 underdog going into the 10 round match, dropped his 128½-pound opponent for a count of nine in the first round.

Gutty and determined, Aceves fought back and pressed the San Francisco boxer, until Cadilli caught up with him at one minute of the seventh with two left hooks to the head.

The loss was Aceves' first in 14 professional bouts.
