

Star Has Quadrangle Life; Is Also Shorthorn Raiser

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
New York — Never thought we'd see the day that Greer Garson delivered ecstatic lines about a herd of cattle.

But lady-like Miss Garson has become a gentlewoman farmer.

Miss Garson, beautiful as ever with her orange-red hair, is in town for a few months, during her first Broadway role as the star of "Auntie Mame." This is just one angle of what the 45-year-old actress calls her "quadrangle life."

Part of the time, she and her third husband, Col. E. E. Fogelson, a geologist who became wealthy through Texas oil, live in Dallas. Part of the time, they're in Hollywood where the star still owns a home and used to make a lot of movies, and part of the time, at their ranch in the general vicinity of Pecos, N.M.

Purebred Cattle
It's at the Pecos ranch that Miss Garson described as "quite a chunk of scenery" that Miss Garson's cattle-raising activities center. Several years ago, she imported seven purebred all-white Shorthorns from Perth, Scotland.

"I wanted one corner of the ranch all white," said Miss Garson. "Well, the Shorthorns have bred true to color, despite what some experts predicted. But our calico cat up the scheme... she had a batch of kittens all colors."

Now, the actress has joined with Clint Murchison, another wealthy Texan, in crossing Shorthorns and the Brahman strain in an effort to develop a new, hardy breed.

Wants Active Life
"I prefer to be a farmer on the side which seeks to improve the breed," said the actress. "I always feel sorry for the range herds, knowing

Club to Observe Lincoln Birthday
Medford Townsend club will celebrate Lincoln's birthday and also observe Saint Valentine's day Wednesday, February 12 with a potluck luncheon at noon at Carpenter's hall.

The program will consist of patriotic readings and songs and a "grab-box" of valentines. The Alexander string band will furnish music in the afternoon. Everyone is invited to bring a valentine and a dish for a potluck luncheon.

At last week's meeting two new club members were enrolled.

Mrs. Mary Shelly, Salem, Ore., was a visitor.

Visitors are always welcome.

Yugoslav Student To Be Speaker

Dusan Pasic, student from Yugoslavia attending school at Southern Oregon college, will speak at a meeting of Lone Pine Parent-Teacher association to be held Tuesday, February 11, at the school. He will be introduced by H. Chandler Drew.

The student is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Drew, who arranged for him to come to this country to study.

A "silent" white elephant sale will be held during the evening, and proceeds will go to the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers tuition scholarship fund. The fund enables selected young men and women to continue their education in order to enter the teaching field, and is considered one of the most vital programs of the PTA in Oregon.

Mrs. Wilbur Fish is program chairman for the evening. Refreshments will be served by mothers of children in the sixth grade, under the direction of Mrs. W. W. Strawn.

Nursery care will be provided. The program was outlined at a meeting of the Lone Pine PTA executive committee held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Roberts road, February 7.

Josette Harris Guest of Honor

Miss Charlotte Riley was hostess yesterday for a kitchen shower which honored Miss Josette Harris. Miss Harris is to be married March 7 at First Presbyterian church to Roy Steele, and Miss Riley will be her only attendant.

East Germans Finally OK Capitalist Tipping Item

Berlin — East German Communists reluctantly okayed the capitalist practice of tipping today in an effort to give customers a chance at decent restaurant service.

For years the Communists denounced tips as incompatible with the dignity of labor, and for years in Soviet zone eating places virtually no-tips existed.

A new etiquette book disclosed the new party line on tipping today. It said tipping still is not a must, but it no longer is considered anti-social.

Speech Contest Set for Students

Representatives of Hedrick and McLoughlin junior high schools and Medford high school will be among the 1500 high school and college students who will compete in speech contests at Linfield college in McMinnville the next few weeks.

These students will meet first at the 26th annual Intercollegiate Forensic Tournament of Champions on Feb. 20, 21, 22. The college speakers take over the 28th annual Intercollegiate Forensic Tournament of Champions on March 6, 7, 8.

Early Actress, Herbert Hoover Are Club Topics
Mrs. Ray K. Bailey and Mrs. Don R. Edwards gave the program for the last Wednesday Study club meeting.

Mrs. Bailey, guest speaker, reviewed the new book, "Lady of Fashion," by Eric Barnes. The story is that of a young girl, Anna Cora Mowatt, who, having a flair for the theater, liked to put on amateur plays. As she matured, her love for the theater increased, but as acting was frowned on in the best circles in those days, over 100 years ago, she could not accept money for her acting. Later, however, turning professional, she became the first American actress, appearing in all of the large cities in America and Europe.

Mrs. Edwards gave excerpts from a book by Eugene Lyons, "Our Unknown Ex-President," Herbert Clark Hoover. Born August 10, 1874 at West Branch, Iowa, the second son of the village blacksmith, his parents were of the Society of Friends, as the Quaker Faith is officially known. Orphaned when a very young boy, he was raised by relatives in Iowa and later came to Newberg, Ore., to live with an uncle. His first job at seven years of age was picking potato bugs at one cent per hundred. He worked his way through college doing odd jobs, graduating in May, 1895, the youngest student of the first graduating class at the new Stanford university at Palo Alto, Calif.

Mrs. Edwards stressed little side lights of his boyhood and as a young man rather than his accomplishments as a great geologist and mining engineer and his having been elected to the highest position our nation affords.

Dinner Set
Applegate — Upper Applegate Grange plans a valentine dinner Sunday, February 16, at 1:30 p.m. at the Grange hall. A turkey menu will be served.

School News

Representatives from the state schools of higher education talked to MHS students Wednesday morning. Speakers encouraged any student with a "C" average or better to consider attending college, or a trade or technical school.

Seniors went to the auditorium at 8:30 a.m. and at 9 went to various places to meet with representatives of the particular college in which they were interested. Also at 9 a.m. the sophomores went to the auditorium where they heard a short talk and asked questions.

Colleges represented were the University of Oregon, Oregon State college, Oregon Technical Institute, Southern Oregon college, and Portland State college.

Results of the Teens Against Polio campaign were announced Monday. The sophomore class was on top with $1,227.16, the senior class was second with $762.27, and the junior class raised $238.68. Altogether the school raised $2,413.11 in the fight against polio.

The Future Homemakers of America plan a bowling party Feb. 12 at the Medford Bowling alley. After bowling, the members will report to the school cafeteria for refreshments.

The General Aptitude test battery was taken this week by 52 Medford High seniors. At the beginning of the year all seniors filled out an information sheet on their plans after graduation. Those students who indicated that they were not going on to college and had not found a steady job after graduation were called upon this week to take the G.A.T.B.

The test, given by the Oregon State Employment service, is divided into two parts. The first part consists of a two hour written test and the last part is a test to determine skill in using the hands. After the tests have been completed an interview will be arranged for each student.

Auditions for the 1958 Kiwanis Kapers have been getting under way this week, with auditioning being held after school in the band room. This year's big musical production will be directed by Bob D'Arcy.

The honor roll for the first semester was issued Feb. 3. The junior class had 60 on the honor roll, or 16 per cent of the class. Senior were next with 37, or 14 per cent, on the honor roll, and the sophomores had 59 students on the honor roll, or 12 per cent. This was a total of 156 students, or 14 per cent of the entire student body.

The senior class play "Father of the Bride" is to be presented Feb. 13 and 14 in the MHS auditorium. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. for both productions.

The play is directed by Mrs. Lenore Zapell, and features Jim Corum, Sue Johnston, Pam Cooksey, Mike Forbes, Joe Lewis, and Richard G. Corum.

Tickets are now on sale each noon in the cafeteria. Prices are $1 general admission, 50 cents for students and 25 cents for children.

General elections for Student Government Day were held Friday before school, during all noon hours, and after school. The elected officers will appoint officials necessary to carry out city business. They will run the city council meeting Thursday, Feb. 20.

Those elected were Frank Albert, mayor; Sonya Lea and Tom Hamlin, councilmen, ward I; Pat Rushton and Bob Gee, councilman, ward II; Curt Cook and John Jones, councilmen ward III; and Hank Courtney, councilman, ward IV. The second councilman for ward four will be elected by St. Mary's.

Friday at 3:10 p.m. Medford High students participated in a car parade to work up spirit for the games against Klamath Falls. The car parade was substituted for the usual pep rally.

"Raunchy Rumble" was the theme of the dance held after the game Friday night at the YMCA. A large crowd of Medford and Klamath students attended. This dance was sponsored by the senior Tri-Hi-Y.

Additional names of students who placed on the honor roll for the third six weeks period are Sharon McDowell, Charla Jo Meyer, James Nelson, Lawrence Roberts, Julia Rhodes, and Mike Shelley, all eighth grade, and Mary Daniels of the seventh grade.

Eighth grade students earning straight ones were Jeff Anhorn and James Nelson. Judy Patterson, Judy Roberts, and Carole Crenshaw of the seventh grade earned ones.

Seventy-two bags of clothing were collected by children in grades three through eight for the World Clothing Drive. This was a county-wide drive to collect clothing for children around the world. Bags for the clothing were provided by the Christian Children's Fund, Inc., which will distribute the clothing throughout the world.

A total of $241.71 was collected for the 1958 March of Dimes by the Central Point Junior High and Elementary school during January. The students had a variety of activities and also contributed to raise this amount.

Cameras clicked and flash bulbs popped as Camera Week was observed Feb. 3 to 7 at Central Point Junior high school. The purpose of Camera Week was to gather pictures to put in the school annual. Deadline for submitting pictures is Feb. 17.

A skating party will be held by the junior high students Feb. 10 at the Grants Pass skating rink. They will leave the school at 5:30 and be back about 9:30 p.m.

Valentine's Day will be observed by the showing of a film. A representative from each room met with Charles A. Meyer, the principal, on Feb. 4, to decide on the film to be seen. The first choice was "Destination Moon," and the second choice, "The Bob Mathias Story." There will be a Valentine exchange in each room.

The Pointers played Grants Pass Thursday night with the seventh grade losing by a score of 18-17 in an overtime. The eighth grade won by a score of 38-23.

Central Point plays McLoughlin Junior High Feb. 13 at McLoughlin, in the season's final contest.

Crater High School
By JUDI DAVIS

Queen Helen Hoed of the senior class reign over the March of Dimes dance held after the Medford game last Saturday night. The dance climaxed the March of Dimes drive at Crater, and was sponsored by the sophomore class. Queen Helen's court were candidates from the other three classes. They were Patty Taylor, Karen Larson, and Sharon Thompson. The dance was attended by a large number of both Crater and Medford students.

The final total for all of Crater High was $1,257. The junior class took top honors in class competition with more than $500. Medford High topped Crater in a challenge with more than $2,000.

There were many activities which helped Crater reach its total. Some of these were cake and pie sales, numerous car washes, window washing, octopus dolls sold, bottle drives and scrap iron drives.

and the selling of tickets for the March of Dimes Queen Candidates.

The drive is one of the biggest undertakings of the year for all of the schools in the county.

Thursday's balloting climaxed the campaigns for many students participating in the elections for Students Government Day. Coming out on top in the elective office positions were for circuit court judge, Joe Teeter; for treasurer, Sandra Guss; for assessor, Jim Estremado; and for circuit court No. 2, Gerry Kime. The appointive officers were chosen by the class advisors. They are deputy legal; Jocky Cameron, laboratory technician; Leslie Kellow, veterans service; Richard Evans, assistant juvenile officer; Lyle Bigham, extension agent; Sharon Coffman, girl 4-H agent; and Bill Callender, civil defense.

The students will take office during the Student Government Day, and follow along with the routine of work with their official counterparts. Several other schools in the valley will also be participating in SGD.

In the past week, several vocational speakers have been at Crater to talk to students interested in following their line of work. Some of these different types of talks have been on forestry, journalism, and the Civil Air patrol.

A large number of students have shown interest in this type of program, and it will be continued with many other types of vocations included.

College is always a big topic of discussion among the seniors about this time of the year, and many questions that have arisen were answered when the representatives from Oregon colleges were here Tuesday. A lot of the senior class attended this special meeting and were glad to have a chance to talk to representatives from the schools in which they were interested.
