

Red Raiders Tussle Owl Quintet Tonight

Ashland—Eyes of Oregon collegiate basketball followers will be on Ashland tonight.

Oregon Technical Institute and Southern Oregon college tangle in their fourth and final Oregon Collegiate conference fray of the season. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Red Raiders of Southern Oregon must win to keep in the running for a co-championship in the loop. OTI will sew up lone claim to the diadem by taking the contest. Raider hopes for a lone mantle were belted last week end when they lost two tangles to Portland State.

Four Overtimes

Memory of the last tussle here between the Owls and Raiders should draw a sizable crowd to the SOC pavilion this evening. That game ended with the Raiders on top at the end of four overtime periods. Oregon Tech has won the two scraps with the SOC crew on the Klamath Falls court. One score was lopsided and the other close.

The loss suffered here by OTI is its only one so far in the circuit.

Southern Oregon concludes league play with tonight's battle. OTI will have Oregon college yet to face and is heavy favorite over the Wolves who have taken only one conference victory.

Dave D'Olive, Norm Oliva, Bill Hollingsworth, Ron Maurer and Jim McAbee are possible starters for Coach Ted Schop's Southern Oregon club. For OTI Mentor Wally Palmberg may call on John Rhyme, John McCutcheon, Truman Williams, Jerry Fasten and Charley Bogle.

Steelhead Found Near 16th Hole

Portland—A biologist and a hatchery superintendent startled golfers Tuesday by netting 40 migrant steelhead in Crystal Springs creek near the 16th hole of the Eastmoreland golf course.

The fish represented a successful experiment by the state game commission that began two years ago when 10,000 winter steelhead were released in Crystal Springs creek to see if they would return.

Kenneth Cochran, local game fish biologist and Percy Southwick, superintendent of the Roaring Springs hatchery near Seio, netted the 5 to 9 pound fish and took their eggs. The fish were later released and put in the lake above a small dam that forms Crystal Springs lake.

Red Sox Sign Two Pitchers

By UNITED PRESS

The Boston Red Sox signed two pitchers today, both up from the minors, and pitcher Al Worthington renewed his bond with the San Francisco Giants for 1958.

Signing contracts with the Red Sox were Murray Wall and Jack Spring.

Wall was purchased from Dallas of the Texas League late last season, and compiled a 3-0 record for Boston in relief roles. Spring had an 11-9 for San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League.

Worthington planned to leave with his family today for the San Francisco Giants' training camp at Phoenix, Ariz.

"I didn't get what I originally asked but I wound up with a good contract," Worthington said. "I'm glad I'm in the fold and I'm anxious to get going."

Worthington posted an 8-11 record with the Giants last season.

LOWELL DEAN HEADS MEDFORD WITH 212

To say the least, the Medford high school basketball crew is somewhat crippled as it faces its week end basketball series with the Ashland Grizzlies.

Lowell Dean, the club's leading scorer and rebounder through the season, is sidelined because of a foot infection. Bilbee Lane, second high in total points is no longer on the squad.

Tom Hamlin, No. 3 in scoring, missed drill yesterday because of illness. Don Bowling, who has done some fine work as a reserve but has been favoring one foot because of a pre-season fracture has a slight ankle sprain of the other limb.

Medford is host to Ashland on Friday and goes to the Lithia city on Saturday. Right now, concerning possible starters for the series, Coach Frank Roelandt says, "Your guess is as good as mine."

The mentor has brought Calvin Dean, twin brother of Lowell, and Jerry Shults up from the jayvees this week to drill with the varsity. They will suit down with the varsity for the Grizzly games but

Campanella Report Due

Glen Cove, N. Y.—The baseball world was to receive the first "official" word on Roy Campanella's future today—and the news doesn't promise to be good.

Dr. Robert W. Sengstacken, the neurosurgeon who operated on the Los Angeles Dodgers' catcher after he suffered a broken neck in an auto accident Jan. 28, said he would issue "a complete report" that probably will indicate whether Campanella ever will walk again.

Dr. Sengstacken gave no hint of the details in the report but he previously had said Campanella's chances of walking again were "slim" and he has not contradicted that statement since.

Complete Appraisal

"The bulletin will be a complete appraisal of Roy's condition and progress since he entered the hospital three weeks ago," the surgeon said.

Campanella has had no visitors other than members of his immediate family from the time he entered Community Hospital here shortly after he suffered his injury.

"He talks about his teammates, fellows like Don Newcombe, Gil Hodges and the others quite often," Dr. Sengstacken said, "but he doesn't care to have any visitors outside of his family right now."

Figuring at $250 for a box for the season and $180 for a reserved seat, the ticket sale so far totals $1,760,000.

Parrott said the response has been more than twice as heavy as any pre-season sale in history at Ebbets field.
