Mrs. Bash Named County Chairman For Mark Hatfield

Mrs. Frank Bash of Medford has been named Jackson county chairman for Mark O. Hatfield's campaign for the Oregon Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Hatfield, now secretary of state, announced his candidacy for governor last month. Mrs. Bash has been prominent in political and civic work for a number of years. In accepting the appointment, she said:

"I am happy to be associated with Mr. Hatfield in his campaign for governor, since I feel that he is the best suited candidate in either party. His work as secretary of state, as well as his past service in the Oregon House of Representatives and in the Senate, has proved him to have exceptional executive ability and knowledge of government, and to be a young man dedicated to the well being of his state. Despite a chaotic situation in Salem, brought on by months of petty political maneuvering and indecision by the present administration, I am sure that he will return dignity and strong leadership to the office of governor in Oregon."

Mrs. Bash said that she would complete the county organization within a few days. "Since we cannot match other candidates in the expenditure of money, we must depend on many volunteer workers to carry on a successful campaign here," she said.
