Eugene — One of the most interested observers of the Oregon-California basketball game here tonight will be Coach Slat Gill of Oregon State.

Gill's Beavers, fresh from a pair of key victories against Southern California and UCLA, still trail the Golden Bears by a full game as the PCC chase draws to a close. After the Oregon game, California has dates with UCLA, Idaho and Oregon, all on its home court.

If somebody doesn't trip up the Bears, they are in as the PCC champ. Oregon State still must meet Southern Cal and Washington State at home and the Cougars and Idaho on the road.

California, using the "stall" only to speed up its drive toward a second straight Pacific Coast Conference basketball crown, led the loop by a full game today while Seattle apparently had broken down in its own campaign to rate an NCAA tournament bid.

The Bears, who can enter the tournament automatically taking the PCC laurels, won their third game of a road trip Saturday as they downed lowly Washington State, 59-48. They emphasized ball control and froze the pumpkin during the last four minutes of play to come out ahead.

Seattle, an independent which had announced it would shoot for one of the "at large" berths in the NCAA conclave rather than the National Invitational tournament, took a 71-68 beating in overtime from Idaho State despite 32 points by Elgin Baylor. This followed a one-point squeaker over Montana State two nights earlier.

OSC Batters Bruins
Both seceding UCLA and Southern California were stunned by conference "puritans" in Long Beach. Oregon State bounced the Bruins out of second place by thumping them, 77-61, behind Dave Gambee's 30 points. And Stanford, which holds surprise wins over University of San Francisco and Oregon State this year, did it again by dropping Southern California, 69-61.

Tonight California is at Oregon in a bid to sweep all three games of its road trip while Washington plays at Washington State. The Dons of USC can win the West Coast Athletic Conference title and breeze into their latest NCAA tourney if they beat erratic St. Mary's on Tuesday.

California's victory went into the books as a legitimate team win with Don McIntosh their high man with only 10 points. The Bears were safely ahead most of the night.

Baylor retained its national scoring lead by bucketing 32 against Idaho State but the Bruins, who are headed for the NCAA titanic themselves, never trailed. The game was pushed into overtime, however, when Gail Sieman teamed up with Lloyd Harris to score free throws that stashed away the victory.

Gambee Sets New Mark
Gambee's spurge against the Bruins raised his three-year conference record to 858 and set a PCC career scoring mark. During the opening game, Stanford's Paul Neumann scored five field goals in the last seven minutes of play to ignite a rally and defeat the Trojans, 69-61.

Idaho belatedly Washington, 85-63, as Gary Simmons meshed 30 for the Vandals and Doug Smart vainly countered with 28.

Fresno State bopped St. Mary's 73-53, in a non-conference title while USC was idle. Dick Sigaty of the Gaels was cut off with three points by the sharp Bulldog defenders.

Pepperdine downed San Jose State, 68-67 and College of the Pacific beat Loyola, 57-53, in a brace of WCAC games.

Chico State beat San Francisco State, 62-58, to tie Nevada for the Far West Conference diadem. The Wolfpack lost to Sacramento State, 75-70. They will meet in a playoff Tuesday night.

SOC Clips Nazarene Court Quint 57-45

Ashland — Southern Oregon college turned the tide with a 10-point spurt in the final half and went on to clip Northwest Nazarene 57 to 45 on Saturday in its final home basketball game of the season.

Victory made it a two-game sweep for the Raiders who won Friday also, 58 to 51.

Bill Hollingsworth, Jim McAbee and Norm Oliva paced Southern Oregon into a 49 to 39 command after the score had been knotted at 39-all. Nazarene had its last lead at 34 to 33 but kept in the fight until the Raiders broke to the 10-point spurt.

Southern Oregon lagged most of the first half. It tied up the count at 22-all and had its only lead at 24 to 22 before the Crusaders took a 29 to 26 midway advantage.
