

Bethel Announces Coming Events; Inspection Set

A variety of future activities were discussed at the last meeting of Bethel 14, International Order of Job's Daughters, held under the direction of Miss Sue Knight, honored queen.

The next regular meeting of the group, which will be March 5, is considered an important one, combining a number of outstanding events. To be celebrated is the Bethel's birthday month, and past queens of the organization will be honored. The Bethel was instituted March 1, 1934. All past honored queens who have not already been contacted are requested to call either the Bethel guardian, Mrs. Robert Morris at Spring 2-6873 or Miss Knight at Spring 3-3298.

Mrs. J. W. McGill, grand guardian for the state of Oregon, will make her inspection visit at this meeting, which will include the initiatory work.

Reports from various committees were given and the membership was reminded of the rummage sale to be held Saturday, March 8, from 9 to 5 p.m. at the Fehi building. Any type of rummage is to be collected by the girls.

Miss Knight announced Sunday, March 9, as her go-to church Sunday, with the girls to attend First Presbyterian church. They are asked to be outside the entrance at 10:45 a.m. and enter in a group.

Other meetings which were brought to the group's attention were a guardian council meeting February 26 at the home of the honored queen, 2115 East Jackson street, and the change in dates for the second regularly dated meeting in March which falls during spring vacation. In place of the March 19 date, the Bethel will do ceremonial work Thursday, March 27, for the members of Reames chapter, Order of Eastern Star, the sponsoring body.

Men's clothing through the ages was portrayed at a meeting of Central Point Parent-Teacher association Thursday at Jewett school. The event observed Founders' day, and was attended by about 150 parents and teachers. James Glenn of Crater Department store is garbed as a well-dressed caveman, and C. A. Meyer, principal of Central Point Junior High school, wears the robes of a Greek scholar. Mrs. William Colley was program chairman, and George Johns served as commentator for the show.

Retired Teachers Tell Experiences

Retired teachers were on the program for the last meeting of Epsilon chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, held at Girls Community club. Speaking were Mrs. Mae Richardson, Mrs. Blanche E. Canode, Miss Mary Robeson, Miss Ethel Reed, Mrs. Bertha Baughman, Miss Eugenia Carson, Miss Grace Lytle and Mrs. Alice Willis. Each related some of the interesting highlights of her teaching experiences. A total of 350 years of teaching was represented.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Ivah Dobbs Murray under the title, "Anticipation Unlimited."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Esther Fliegel, Mrs. Mae Richardson, Mrs. Ina Freeman, Mrs. Frances Klein, Mrs. Elsie Turner and Mrs. Eugenia Carson.

The March meeting of the sorority will be held March 13 in the cafeteria of Medford High school and will be a dinner honoring members of the Student Education association, Future Teachers of America and foreign students.

Dad's Day Observed At College

Ashland—Dad's day activities at Southern Oregon college this past weekend featured campus tours, a repeat performance of "Cinderella," election of officers, a banquet, an evening basketball game, a dance, and a tea for the accompanying mothers.

G. W. Kellington, Medford attorney and president of the SOC Dad's Club, was succeeded by Jack Henry, Klamath Falls, in that office. Dick Joy, Ashland, was elected vice-president replacing P. M. Lee, Roseburg, and Dr. Loren E. Messenger, SOC faculty member, was re-elected secretary-treasurer for the group. President Elmo N. Stevenson spoke during the meeting upon the expansion of SOC in terms of buildings, faculty and enrollment pressures.

Featured banquet speaker, Francis J. Kelly, SOC psychology instructor, addressed the group upon the educational problems concerning American youth today in terms of the responsibilities of the parents, the community, and the school. The evening event was conducted in the Plaza cafe in downtown Ashland beginning at 6:00 p.m., concluding in time for the game between the college and Northwest Nazarene college at 8:15 p.m.

After the game, students, faculty and parents attended a dance in the new Britt Student center.

Music for the mother's tea was provided by the SOC chamber ensemble directed by Glenn T. Matthews of the college music department. This event took place while the Dad's club conducted its annual business meeting.

A number of the parents also attended the first concert of the year featuring the SOC choir, directed by Oscar C. Bjorlie; the band, by Glenn T. Matthews; and ensemble, by Louis O. Clayton, which was conducted Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. in Church Hill Hall.

men's sponsoring scholastic honorary society, reported that nearly 150 parents had registered for the weekend, and expressed thanks to all chairmen and committee members for the high degree of cooperation leading to the success of the annual event.

Medical Crusader Subject of Book

Mrs. O. A. Welsh and Mrs. H. H. Robertson presented the program for the last Wednesday Study club meeting.

Mrs. Welsh reviewed, "The Cry and the Covenant" by Morton Thompson, a fictionalized true story of a brilliant medical crusader, Dr. Ignaz Philipp Semmelweis.

The locale was Vienna, Austria, and Budapest, Hungary, and the time was the late 17th and early 18th century, when Dr. Semmelweis waged his great struggle against the incredible ignorance and stubbornness that turned Europe's hospitals into death traps. Antisepsis was unknown and one in three women died with puerperal or child-bed fever, and eight out of ten babies died of septic poisoning.

The title of the book is symbolic of the "Cry" of the women and the "Covenant," was Dr. Semmelweis' promise to himself and to God that he would find some preventive to this tragic condition. The author states that the great revolution in obstetrics and surgery is the result of his findings, the need for sanitation and antisepsis, and to this great son of Hungary, medicine owes much.

Mrs. Robertson gave a biography of John Foster Dulles and excerpts from the book, "John Foster Dulles," by John Robinson Beal, covering his career as attorney-at-law and secretary of state.

Baked Bananas
Bananas give interest and good taste to winter menus when baked in wine. Spread four peeled ripe bananas with apricot jam and pour over a mixture of equal parts of Sherry, melted butter, brown sugar and a bit of lemon juice. Bake in a moderate oven 20 to 25 minutes, basting occasionally.

Mrs. Howard Bleu, Mrs. Neal Curry and Mrs. R. L. Palmer were named to the nominating committee.

Mrs. Reid was chairman for the program, a style show during which members modeled clothing made themselves. Current styles were discussed, sewing discussed.

The chapter plans a rummage sale March 1 at the Fehi building.

Refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Rae Bostwick.

Professor Talks For DAR Chapter

Dr. Arthur S. Taylor of Southern Oregon college was guest speaker for the February meeting of Crater Lake chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at the home of Mrs. Glen O. Taylor, 1334 Reddy avenue.

Dr. Taylor spoke on Lafayette, Frenchman who came to the aid of the American colonies in their fight against England for freedom. He based his talk on the book by David Loth, "The People's General." Dr. Taylor stated that General Lafayette being a man of unlimited means, organized a small army of his own and paid them from his own funds.

Mrs. Effie Kurtz, a guest, sang three solos. Mrs. Eva Marsh accompanied her.

Luncheon preceded the business meeting and program, Mrs. Taylor was assisted by Mrs. H. S. Chirgwin and Mrs. John Sansone.

Butte Falls Club Has Discussion On Native Trees

Butte Falls—A round table discussion on native trees was held at the last meeting of Butte Falls Garden club. Participating were Mrs. Harry Dalton, Mrs. Frank Carson and others. Some of the trees discussed were pine, fir, oak, redwoods and dogwood. Native trees and shrubs needed for planting at the new Jackson County Juvenile Detention home were also discussed.

Additional wild flower paintings were viewed by the group and plans made for framing them before presenting them to the Jacksonville Museum.

Mrs. Robert Wells and Mrs. Leonard Richman were welcomed as guests.

Mrs. Howard Simmonds led the devotions using "Trees" as the theme.

The club voted to plant appropriate flowers or shrubs at both of the city's churches, with the approval of the churches.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. William B. Edmondson.

Talk on Insects Given for Group

Don Berry, county agent for horticulture, spoke at the last meeting of Grove Garden club. Mr. Berry stated that there are at least a million different species of bugs, including 30,000 different beetles.

The speaker explained the difference between good and bad insects, and told how to eradicate undesirable ones from a home. He stated that the subterranean termites are the most destructive of all insects. He displayed literature on insect control which may be obtained from the county agent's office in the courthouse.

The meeting was held at Oak Grove school, with a dinner preceding the program and business session. Tables were decorated with cherry trees, red hearts and small red hatchets.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Arnold were the dinner committee.

The March meeting will be an afternoon session at the home of Mrs. Lyle B. Thurman 3379 Jacksonville highway.
