Plan for Medical Part Of CD Told at Luncheon

A plan is being considered for organization for the medical portion of the Jackson county civil defense program, according to Dr. James C. Luce. He spoke at the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce roundtable luncheon on Monday.

Dr. Luce recently returned from a meeting in Chicago, Ill., of county directors of the medical branch of civil defense. He told the group he was the only person attending from Oregon and one of three from the west coast. He was sent to the meeting by the Jackson County Medical Association.

He said the medical section of the civil defense should be built up not only to meet national defense but for national disasters. He told the group if medical facilities had been available several years ago during the Rogue River flood they would have greatly helped.

Grange News

Eagle Point Grange
Nat Etzel, vocational agriculture teacher from Eagle Point High school, spoke before the members of the Eagle Point Grange at a meeting Feb. 18. He gave a short talk on the agricultural course given at the school and also on the adult classes held there in the evenings.

He introduced Howard Wilde, a student at Eagle Point, who gave his speech being prepared on water conservation for the FFA speech contest which will take place at Cave Junction on Feb. 28. After his talk, he answered questions anyone had concerning this subject. Group singing and games led by Lecturer Gertrude Stanley concluded the literary program.

Worthy Master Cliff Moore then opened the Grange. On agriculture, C. C. Hoover reported that livestock prices were still holding good. Mrs. Lester Wertz, on legislature, told of the way of tagging cattle to prevent grazing of lands and she also said new range laws have gone into effect about controlling the different type of animals allowed to roam at large.

A. T. Wattenberg, reporting for the roads committee, said that roads are in fair shape considering the wet weather and time of the year but there are some roads that have bad spots which will be taken care of as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Roberts were visitors from Roxy Ann Grange, Roberts, who is steward from the Oregon State Grange, was conducted as a distinguished guest to the Master's Station. He gave a talk on Grange Insurance and as he had been appointed insurance agent for the Eagle Point Grange, he asked that anyone having insurance problems to get in touch with him at his office in Medford or call him and he will see the matter is taken care of.

C. C. Hoover and candidates night to be held in Eagle Point on Mar. 21. The Parade will be held in Medford during the afternoon to accommodate the old time cars which will take part in it. Gov. Holmes has accepted an invitation to be present at that time as well as other candidates who have been contacted.

Reports were heard from the committee appointed to look into the remodeling of the kitchen and a discussion was held concerning this matter.

Mrs. Gertrude Stanley explained the display table which was made up of articles of a patriotic nature, these included a flag which had 46 stars, a purple heart medal, and a regimental banner from the Fifth Cavalry Division.

A. T. Wattenberg announced that the Sams Valley-Beagle Soil Conservation District would hold their annual meeting at the Eagle Point Grange hall Monday, Mar. 17, at 8 p.m. Ladies were asked to bring pies for refreshments.

Those serving refreshments following the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. John Huffman, Mrs. Lottie Cingade, and Mrs. Nevah Clifford.

Are you a hero to your family?

when it comes to supplying them with cash

As the man who brings home the bacon, you may think you've won your hero's medals already. But if you want the everlasting respect of your entire household, show them you know a thing or two about managing money as well as making it. Let them see you aren't exactly blind to the possibility of earning extra income through a few well-planned investments. Here's how the conversation might go:

Your wife: Why do so many people own stocks?
You: Perfectly simple. When you own stock you become part-owner of a company and you share in any profits that may be paid as dividends. If the company grows, your money may grow, too. Or you can buy bonds and be paid interest. Either way your money has a chance to earn more money for you.

Your son: If I want to buy some stocks, where do I go... to the Stock Exchange?
You: No. You drop around to a local Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange here in town. They place your order for you through their representative on the floor of the Exchange, who finds a seller when you want to buy, a buyer when you want to sell.

Your wife: Doesn't it take scads of money?
You: Not a lot of money... but a lot of common sense. Two out of three shareowners nowadays have incomes under $7500 a year. But stocks don't always pay dividends and their prices go down as well as up. Smart people always get the facts and steer clear of tips or rumors. And of course nobody should invest before being sure the bills are paid and there's money for family emergencies.

Your wife: Well, then, why don't we own securities?
You: I was just coming to that. As a matter of fact, I have a little booklet here called "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS" that gives the record of more than 300 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange, that have paid dividends every year from 25 years to more than a century. Maybe you'd like to look it over because it tells about a pay-as-you-go Monthly Investment Plan that would allow you to invest as little as $100 every three months up to $400 a month.

Your wife: Hmm!
At this point you can safely pause to let your information sink in. And sometime soon you can drop in at your nearest broker—making sure he's with a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. He'll help you plan investments in line with what you want to spend. He may recommend stocks or bonds or both. And he'll be glad to give you your free copy of "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS" if you haven't already read it. Or mail this coupon now.

Today lots of average Americans are finding it's possible to have two incomes... one you earn yourself... and another one your money earns for you.
