OLD TRUMPET

Williamstown, Mass.—Williams College owns what is believed to be the oldest trumpet in the United States. Measuring three feet in length, the instrument dates to the 15th century. The bell of the trumpet has on it the letters SENA, the old spelling of Siena, a town in Italy, and the date of 1406 in Roman numerals. It is in the key of a modern A which may have been the C or G of that day.
