Glendale, EP, Brookings Victors in 6A-2 Tourney; Semi-Finals This Evening

Ashland — Four teams which made it a tight finish in the Rogue league enter semi-finals this evening in the District 6 A-2 southern division basketball tournament at the Southern Oregon college gym in Ashland.

Glendale will take on Rogue league champion Phoenix high at 7:45 p.m. and Eagle Point faces Brookings at 8 p.m. Rogue River and Henley have a consolation conflict at 6:30 p.m. Illinois Valley has a bye in the consolation bracket.

In tussles last night Glendale downed Rogue River 36 to 28, Eagle Point clipped Henley 53 to 42 and Brookings dropped Illinois Valley 47 to 36.

Tournament finals will be on Saturday. Championship game is at 9 p.m. with consolation game at 6:30 p.m. and third place play-off at 7:45 p.m. Division champ will play Douglas high next week end for the full district banner.

EP Show Best

Eagle Point and the Hornets of Klamath county put on the best show of the night. The Eagles came from behind and took command with a 13-point surge in the fourth quarter. Glendale, tense and missing a lot of shots, nevertheless piled up a substantial lead on Rogue River. But the Pirates of Douglas county had to withstand a Chieftain comeback in the closing period. Brookings ran up a wide bulge over the first three stanzas and then coasted home.

The Eagle-Henley hassle was tied seven times and the lead also switched on that many occasions. EP went into the final canto on top 34 to 31 and Bill Hubbard made it 35 to 31 as the stanza began. Then the Hornets went on top 36 to 35 on two gifters by Burrell Gober and a field bucket and free shot by Lee Kaylor. Paced by Bill Turner's 10 markers, Eagle Point roared back with its 13 points before Henley could find the hoop again and took control 48 to 36.

Henley, which outscrapped the Eagles in the first half and had the edge under the boards, took an 11 to 8 first quarter lead after EP had jumped in front 5 to 0 at the start. At halftime the count was 21-each. The Hornets went ahead in the third session 25 to 21 but Eagle Point fought right back and the fray saw-sawed through the chucker.

Turner Has 24

Turner, the Eagle scoring artist, had 24 points for the night and Ron Veach of the EP club had 10. Jim Herringshaw with 11 and Gober with 10 topped Henley.

Glendale pulled ahead of Rogue River 11 to 5 in the first quarter 11 to 5 and led 24 to 9 at the half. Coach Bob Stolz had his Glendale reserves in action for 5 1/4 minutes of the third quarter and the Pirates picked up only two points in the period to lead 26 to 14 at the intermission.

Regulars for Glendale had a hard time getting back into stride and the Chiefs threatened in the final minutes, cutting the gap down to six points on a couple of occasions.

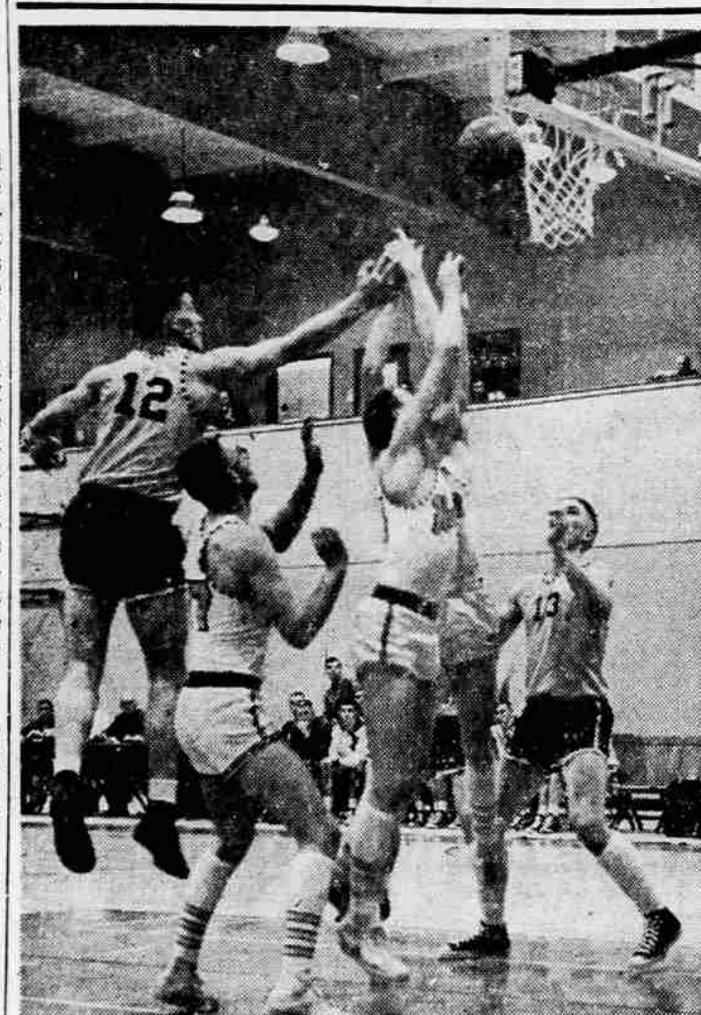

Tom Munyon had 12 points and Troy Reynolds 10 for Glendale and Joe Kirkley 10 for Rogue River in the ragged action. Inability to hit the hoop hurt the Chiefs who made only two of 15 free shots while Glendale put in six for 11.

Lead Up to 38-19

Brookings jumped off to a 7 to 0 lead on Illinois Valley but the Cougars caught up, knotting the score at 7-all and 8-all. Jerry Fox tallied on a fast break shot and the Bruins headed 10 to 8 at the quarter. Brookings stayed on top through the rest of the evening. At the half it was 21 to 15 and after three sessions the score stood 34 to 19.

The Bruins increased to 38 to 19. IV then closed the gap to 38 to 28. Brookings reserves managed to choke off the challenge although the Cougars got as close as 42 to 34.

Fox had 13 points for Brookings and Marv Bullock

GO FOR REBOUND—Eagle Point and Henley High school hoopers battle for the ball after a missed shot on their District 6 A-2 southern division tourney game at Ashland last night. Eagle Point players are Wayne Christian (12) and Bill Hubbard (13). In the air for the Hornets are Gary Curry and Alvin Born. Preparing to leap is Lee Kaylor. Eagle Point won 53 to 42 and plays Brookings tonight in semi-finals of the playoffs at Southern Oregon college in Ashland.

nine while eight each by Doug Lewis and Mike Hanby were tops for IV.

Ed Bailey Likened To Rare Gem

By STEVE GERSTEL
Knoxville, Tenn. — Ed Bailey is like a rare diamond—easy to covet but hard to get.

Several teams, notably the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants, have expressed interest in the 26-year-old receiver to no avail. The price is high — and it should be because Bailey is possibly the best catcher in the National league.

Picking up the paper and reading that the Giants are offering Johnny Antonelli as trade bait or the Dodgers are dangling Don Newcombe in front of red officials, doesn't bother Bailey. "I've been in baseball too long," the Strawberry Plains, Tenn., ace says, "to believe I've been traded until I'm notified."

"One year, someone from the newspaper called up and told me I'd been traded. The story originated in Houston and it got mixed up somewhere along the line. I wasn't traded."

Plans No Change

Despite an off-season last year which saw his batting average slip from .300 to .261, with an accompanying decrease in home runs and runs batted in, Bailey plans no radical change in spring training.

"I've been doing a lot of thinking about it this winter," he said. "It's just a lot of bad habits you pick up that hurt."

Bailey called his slump last summer "a good one and I never pulled out of it. It was just a bad year."

The strapping catcher sees a four-team race this season with the Dodgers, Milwaukee, the Redlegs and the Cards all in contention.

Giant Pitchers Have Batters Fanning Breeze

Phoenix, Ariz. — The pitchers got down to business at the San Francisco Giants' training camp here Thursday and the batters — who had been rattling the fences all week — found themselves swinging at air.

Marv Grissom, the Red Bluff, Calif., veteran who'll be 40 next month, set the example for the young hurlers. He was bending tosses in for 10 minutes that even had Willie Mays kicking up dirt.

Manager Bill Rigney said there was little doubt that the aging reliever would make plenty of late inning appearances during the regular season.

However, Rigney didn't give the pitchers all the credit. He pointed out that stiff and sore muscles always bring a letdown in the first week of drills.

"But the bounce will be back by the end of the week," the manager said.

BEAVERS SELL BAICH

Second round play opened today on the damp country club course with a weather-man's promise of possible rain.
