Oregon State Dean Says Scientists Made of Curiosity

Corvallis — What makes a scientist and how can young people know if they have the "makings?" Scientists are made from curiosity, energy, and education, Dr. F. A. Gilfillan, dean of science at Oregon State college, says.

Lane Still Shaking Cleveland In Hopes of Higher Finishing

By HAL WOOD United Press Sports Writer Tucson, Ariz.—Frank Lane has only started to shake up the Cleveland Indians and before he's finished, it's a safe bet he'll have them back in the first division of the American League.

Lane has a history of moving teams up wherever he goes. He did it with the White Sox and the Cardinals, and now he's busy doing it with the Indians, who finished sixth last year.

The Indians now are well set in the outfield with Minnie Miñoso in left, Doby in center and either Roger Maris or Rocky Colavito in right.

Pitching Decisive In the long run, however, the Indians' pitching will decide how high they finish this year.

Herb Score, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia will be three of Cleveland's starters. Ray Narleski and John Mossi are a pair of excellent relievers but Manager Bobby Bragan may be forced to start either one or both from time to time.

Mudcat Grant, who was 18-7 with San Diego last year, may prove capable of taking a starting turn.

That would still leave Cal McLish, who was 9-7 last year; Pete Wojey, recently acquired from Detroit; Dick Tomaneck and possibly Hal Woodeschick for relief.

The infield is Cleveland's weak spot and the situation wasn't helped any when first baseman Vic Wertz suffered a broken ankle last Sunday. Fortunately, Lane acquired dependable Mickey Vernon from the Red Sox so the problem isn't as acute as it might have been.

Rookie Billy Moran, up from San Diego, has impressed so much with his hitting and fielding this spring that he has virtually won the second base job. Veteran Chico Carrasquel will be at shortstop and either Bobby Avila or Billy Harrell at third. Fred Hatfield is the number one utility man.

Russ Nixon has stepped in and taken over the regular catching job and Hal Naragon and J. W. Porter are available to back him up. Dick Brown, with the club last year, is due out of the Army later this month.

The Indians' sixth-place finish last season was their lowest in 11 years, but now that Lane has taken over, things are definitely looking up again.

Businessmen Pledge Money To Replace Tam O'Shanter

Chicago — An offer by five Chicago businessmen to put up $50,000 — possibly $100,000 — to replace the Tam O'Shanter golf tournament was in the hands of the Professional Golf Association today.

The group sent the offer to the PGA Wednesday night, and proposed to back a major tourney at the Glen Eagles Country Club near suburban Lemont, Ill.

An answer to the proposal was expected from a meeting of the PGA later today in Augusta, Ga., where the Masters golf tourney is under way. John E. McNulty, a co-owner of Glen Eagles, said he and the other Chicago men would back the proposed tourney there with $50,000 or "possibly $100,000" depending on the reaction from PGA.

The proposal followed by two days an announcement by George S. May that the World and All-American tournaments at Tam O'Shanter were cancelled because the PGA had demanded all entry fees from the two top-money events.

Chet Posson, who handles the two Tam tourneys, said the next move was up to the PGA and that Tam O'Shanter was still "willing" to put up $21,000 in prize money.

McNulty said that if PGA turns down the offer of his group, it would start a move to hold a top tourney at Glen Eagles next year, when Chicago is host to the Pan-American games.

SO League Baseball Scrapes Friday on GP, Ashland Fields

Grants Pass and Ashland will be the scenes of skirmish Friday when Southern Oregon conference baseball aggregations vie in the first counting games of the season.

Crater will play at Grants Pass and Klamath Falls at Ashland in afternoon twinbills. First games in each case will go into the conference standings, with the second tangles being kings-x conflicts.

Both Grants Pass and Klamath Falls go into the district diamond scrapes within two weeks after participation in the state A-1 basketball tourney.

A good number of the GP players, nevertheless, have been drilling for some time under the helm of Coach Mel Ingram. The Cavemen have 12 lettermen back from their 1957 district title squad. Among these only three were delayed in turning out because of late basketball action, Jim Smith, pitcher, Pete Proctor, first baseman, and Dick Hayes, pitcher-in-fielder.

Other Lettermen The other lettermen are

Bill Dolmage, Richie Condray and Lee Holmes, second basemen; Gary Honeycutt, catcher-infielder; Jack Williams, third base; and Don Jaquette, Fred Murschall, Ollie Woolsey and Marvin Chandler.

Smith and Hayes loom as the leading pitchers. Whether they're ready to go will be seen Friday. Another hurler, in addition to Dolmage, is Merrill Nay.

Catchers for the Crater games may be Reed Daugherty and Rudy Dieks. Proctor at first base, Condray at third, Jack Williams at second, Honeycutt at shortstop could form the infield with Woolsey, Murschall and Jaquette in the outfield.

For Crater in the league game Wayne Allen is expected to get the pitching bid of Coach Bill Piche. Bob Fowler may throw in the second mix. Bill Anhorn will be on hand for possible relief.

Alan McKinnis may be sent to the hill by Grizzly Coach Snuffy Smith for the counting ruckus with the Pelicans. Pete Stemple could see chucking service in the second game.

High Wire Artist Injured in Fall

New York — Harold Alzana, "the most daring and death-defying" high wire artist, slipped and fell 18 feet to the floor of Madison Square Garden Wednesday night at the opening performance of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus.

The performer, billed as "The Great Alzana," broke a wrist and a leg bone but apparently received no further injury, it was reported at St. Clare's Hospital.

Alzana had earlier danced, turned somersaults and skipped rope on a wire high under the roof of the Garden. He was descending a wire at about a 45-degree angle when he lost his footing and fell onto a rubber mat over the solid floor.

Cohen Faces Jury On Assault Charge

Los Angeles — Ex-mobster Mickey Cohen today faced a federal grand jury indictment on charges of assaulting Howard Chappell, chief of the Los Angeles office of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics.

The indictment came Wednesday as Cohen was embroiled in defending himself against charges of battery and disturbing the peace last Jan. 28 in a Sunset Strip fracas with a waiter.

If convicted, Cohen would receive three years in a federal prison, a $5,000 fine or both. He already has served a sentence on an income tax evasion conviction.

Bees Set Final 7 Contests

HOCKEY

By United Press Goalenders Marcel Paille of Providence and Claude Evans of Springfield are directly responsible for their teams still being in contention today in the American Hockey League semi-final playoffs.

NATIONAL LEAGUE Boston — The Boston Bruins resume their savage Stanley Cup semi-final playoffs with the New York Rangers at the Garden tonight both clubs aiming for a vital third win in the best-of-seven series.

The first four games in the National Hockey League final series prelude have been free-wheeling, bitterly fought, and often vicious affairs — with every indication that tonight's scrap will be more of the same.

Del Norte Tops Ashland In First Track Meeting

Ashland — Del Norte high school from Crescent City rolled to a 67 to 60 track meet victory over Ashland high school here Wednesday afternoon on a wet track at Southern Oregon college.

Although the pole vault pit and run-ways had up to two inches of water standing, no rain was recorded during the meet. Cold weather accounted for several slow times, according to officials.

Top man at the meet was Del Norte's Duane Tiller who collected two first place wins and one first place tie for a total of 14 points.

Jim Thomas of Del Norte took a second in the javelin, throwing the spear for the second time in competition. Thomas threw the first time at Crater on Tuesday. (The California school does not compete in the toss).

Eagle Point Defends Little Rogue Title

Phoenix—Eagle Point high enters the Little Rogue relays here this Saturday bearing the championship banners of the past two seasons and holding almost all the records.

The Eagles hold the records in nine of the 11 events on the program for the third annual tussle among Class A-2 schools. Henley and Illinois Valley set the standard in one event each. These three record-holding schools are among the five invited by the Pirates to vie in the Saturday track and field affair. The others are Glendale and Brookings.

Events Listed All field events will be individual point contests and all traces will be relays. Field action will be in the pole vault, the shot put, the discus, the high and broad jumps and the javelin. On the track will be the 440 and mile relays, the distance medley, the sprint medley and the shuttle hurdles.

The meet opens at 1:30 p.m. and the first race, the distance medley is set for 2:40 p.m.

Competitors will be permitted to enter a total of only four events and not more than two relays or more than three field tests.

An individual meet record holder performing will be Wayne Christian, Eagle Point, in the discus and javelin. He set the marks last year and later took state A-2 championships in both events.
