Jayne Mansfield Named in Petition

Hollywood — Actress Jayne Mansfield's former husband, Paul J. Mansfield, today opposed the blonde beauty's efforts to take their 7-year-old daughter, Jayne Marie, to Europe.

Miss Mansfield petitioned the court for permission to take the girl to England between April 26 and Sept. 30 while she works on a picture there.

Mansfield, now living in Chattanooga, Tenn., opposed the petition and asked that Jayne Marie be permitted to join him and his second wife while the actress is out of the country.

He also asked that his daughter be permitted to visit him six weeks each summer, adding that he had not seen Jayne Marie since Christmas, 1956.

Miss Mansfield, now married to Mickey Hargitay, divorced Mansfield Oct. 23, 1956. She agreed then not to take her daughter out of California without court permission.

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle set April 16 for a hearing on the matter.

Speculation on Khrushchev Visit

Budapest, Hungary — Western sources speculated today the visit here by Nikita Khrushchev may be aimed at shaping a new policy of co-operation between Russia and the East European bloc.

Reports circulated in Vienna that a full East European satellite conference will be held in Budapest after the April 4 ceremonies celebrating Russian "liberation" of Hungary from the Germans in World War II.

The talks were opened Wednesday by Khrushchev and Hungary's top party and government leaders. Further talks were called for today.

Khrushchev arrived here only a week after he became Soviet Premier in addition to his old job as Communist Party leader, and four days after disclosure of a meeting between Hungary's First Party Secretary Janos Kadar and Yugoslav President Tito.

Diplomatic sources believed Russia and Yugoslavia had joined forces to back up the regime of Kadar who had been reported facing internal party trouble from various factions pushing for more power.

Reed Graduate Gets Prison Term

San Francisco — Lee Forbes Hosford, 34, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Reed college at Portland, Ore., has been sentenced to serve five years to life for his role in the holdup of an exclusive sweet shop here last November.

Superior Judge Walter Carpenesi sentenced Hosford Wednesday, noting that the 1947 Reed graduate had spent most of his time betting on the horse races and living off his estranged wife since 1951.

Also involved in the $350 holdup of Blum's Candy Store were Andrew Bickl, 35, and Frederick Ransom, 19. Bickl was sentenced to the maximum term of five-to-life as was Hosford, but Ransom was placed on probation after serving 15 week ends in jail for turning state's evidence.

It was Hosford's passion for horse-playing that brought about the trio's quick capture. Police collared them at Golden Gate Fields race track the day after the holdup.

Interviews Slated By Crater Company

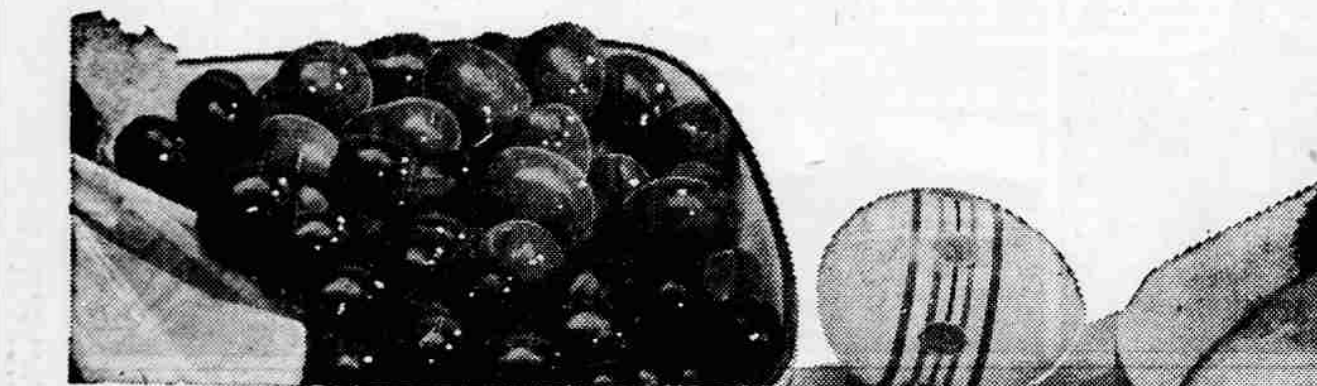

Ashland — Interviews will be held April 8 at Southern Oregon college for all students interested in working for Crater Lake National Park company.

Harry Smith, manager of Crater Lake National Park company, and his wife, will hold interviews Tuesday at the registrars' office for all students interested in a summer job at Crater Lake. Types of positions available are waitress, cashier, bellhop, desk clerk, housekeeping, clerk, storeroom, and others. Applicants, either men or women, must be 18 years of age.

Students must pick up application blanks and sign up for a scheduled interview with the registrar.

MINESWEEPER HITS PIER
Charleston, S.C. — A Navy minesweeper apparently lost power while going up the Cooper river Wednesday and crashed into a pier. Henry F. Young, 47, a pier worker, was killed in the crash.
