The Medical Roundup

by Walter Alvarez

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic
Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

THE RISK OF A HEART ATTACK

Dr. Sidney Peil and C. A. D'Alonzo, of Wilmington, Delaware, say that in the medical division of the DuPont Company, a study was made of 90,000 employees scattered throughout the country—people ranging in age from 20 to 64 years.

The doctors found that while the incidence of heart attacks for women was only 0.2 per thousand that for men was 2.9 thousand.

The doctors estimated that the risk of a so-called myocardial infarction, or heart attack, is increased about 50 per cent by over-weight and about 70 per cent by high blood pressure. Taking the persons studied, by age groups, one finds that men between 25 and 34 years of age had only one case in a thousand; in the next decade the incidence was 1.8, in the next, 5.7, and in the last decade studied, from 55-64, it was 11.3 per thousand.

One hundred and thirty-seven out of the 207 persons affected recovered. Most of the men were out of work for from 80 to 100 days. Curiously, the men in the two salary groups with the highest degree of responsibility had the highest incidence of heart attacks, or 3.7 per thousand. Those on the wage roll with the least responsibility had an incidence of only 2.3 per thousand.

Laymen Know Quite a Bit About Medicine

Recently, Pratt, Seligman and Reader in the American Journal of Public Health for October, 1957, told about 214 patients at a medical clinic who were given a questionnaire containing 36 items. A typical question was: Is tuberculosis of the lungs due to (1) prolonged exposure to cold; (2) infection with a germ; (3) anemia and vitamin deficiency; or (4) don't you know? The patients correctly answered 55 per cent of such questions.

Then the doctors in the clinic were interviewed and, interestingly, they had a tendency to underestimate their patients' knowledge of medicine. This had unfortunate results, because the doctors who thought their patients were too uneducated medically to understand what they might be told were disinclined to explain either the diagnosis or the treatment. Only those doctors who saw that they were dealing with intelligent and well-informed patients tried to explain what the trouble was, and what should be done about it.

Dr. Alvarez hopes his readers will understand that it would be impossible for him to answer requests for information or to attempt to diagnose by mail.
