All-Out Effort Set By Jakarta To Down Rebels

Singapore — Rumors circulating in Jakarta Saturday said Loyalist transports are loading troops and equipment, presumably for the long-awaited amphibious attack on rebel-held Central Sumatra.

Neutral observers believe the Jakarta regime is preparing an all-out effort to wipe out the rebels before the Moslem holy month of Ramadan ends April 21.

The Loyalist army announced Saturday it has "mopped up" rebels in the Donggala area of Celebes Island, dominating the narrow neck that separates insurgent held North Celebes from the rest of the island.

The communique made no mention of new fighting on Sumatra, saying only that Loyalist troops are advancing into the "neutral" province of Tapanuli, straddling the northern approaches to the rebel capital at Bukittinggi.

Loyalist forces have been halted for days at the northern border of Tapanuli, seeking permission to cross the province.

The Jakarta regime reiterated denials that it has made any arms deal with the Communists, but informed sources said some 20 Soviet-built MiG jet fighters are expected to arrive in Jakarta next month.

The United States has refused so far to sell weapons either to the Loyalists or to the Rebels, but it is supplying the Jakarta regime with amphibians for air-sea search and rescue work.

The first five of an initial order of eight Albatross amphibians have already arrived here. Reports circulating here said the government plans to order additional amphibians and probably some helicopters as well.

Underwater Firing Seen Possible For Missile

Washington — The Navy's Polaris ballistic missile Saturday assumed a new importance in the U. S. defense picture with the disclosure it can be fired from an underwater "pop up" launcher and carry a compact hydrogen bomb to distant enemy targets.

Dramatic facts about the submarine-borne Polaris were revealed Friday by Rear Adm. W. F. Raborn, director of the Polaris program.

He told a news conference development of a megaton warhead for the 1,500-mile range Polaris was a "major breakthrough" by the Atomic Energy commission. A megaton warhead would carry the explosive force of one million tons of TNT.

A model of the Polaris was unveiled Friday at a seapower symposium conducted by the District of Columbia Navy league. Although the size of the warhead was not disclosed, viewers estimated it at under 20 inches in diameter and about three feet long.

The Polaris model shown was about 28 feet tall. Raborn revealed the Navy has fired a full-scale model of its Polaris from the revolutionary "pop up" launcher submerged in the Pacific off the California coast. He said the launching occurred Mar. 23.

Secrecy Charges Set On Ag Dept.

Washington — Rep. Henry S. Reuss (D-Wis.) has accused the agriculture department of a "deliberate attempt to keep secret comments by farmers that might not support Secretary Ezra T. Benson's policies."

Department officials admitted to a house investigating subcommittee April 3 that it had burned 2,500 copies of a report it didn't like on why farmers are going to the city. It turned over to the investigators a few copies that escaped the flames.

The officials said the report was destroyed because it contained "misleading" quotations from comments of 125 farmers, selected from 2,700 who answered a department questionnaire.

Reuss, a subcommittee member, asked to examine the remaining 2,575 comments. But he said Acting Secretary True D. Morse told him Thursday their contents must be "treated as confidential."

Guerrilla Raid Held In Algiers

Algiers — Guerrilla raiders have kidnaped 120 Moslem men, women and children from a community farm in East Algeria and took them across the frontier into Tunisia, French army officers reported Saturday.

Few details of the alleged mass abduction were known. The French said it happened near the town of Munier, 25 miles southeast of Bone, late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

Officials here said the guerrillas crossed the border from Tunisia. Military headquarters has frequently reported Arabs kidnaping Algerian Moslems and taking them to Tunisia for training in the rebel army.

Two grenade attacks on soldiers and civilians in towns near Constantine were reported Friday night. One person was killed and six wounded in one attack.
