

Luncheon Announced

Plans for the annual May Fellowship luncheon, sponsored each year by Medford Council of United Church Women, were discussed and outlined by council officers at a board meeting held during the past week. The first Friday in May is reserved by the several churches of the city for this observance. This year's Fellowship day is to be held May 2 in First Presbyterian church. A noon luncheon will be served.

A feature of the luncheon will be a recognition service honoring outstanding women of the affiliated churches. Each church is asked to select a woman over 65 who has been active in her church and community over a long period of years. Mrs. E. Ronald Rice is in charge of this program.

The program for the day will be held in the church sanctuary and a nursery will be available at the First Methodist church for small children.

Theme for the day's program is "A Place To Live." Mrs. Everett Faber, president of the council, presided for the business session following a brief social period. Officers gave reports of the work in the various departments which they head and Mrs. Grover Corum, who had been a delegate to the state conference of the Council of Church Women, gave a report on the sessions held there.

Mrs. Donald Bohnert, first vice president, stressed the importance of becoming vitally acquainted with the work of the YMCA and in giving assistance to that organization whenever possible.

Miss Elizabeth Burr and Mrs. Corum reported on local WCTU activities and the success endeavors of other cities to suppress the sale of liquor during conventions and during holy week. A senate hearing on the Langer bill which would prohibit interstate advertising of liquor over the air and on television was discussed. A large group attending the meeting signed a statement to be sent to congressmen before the hearing, scheduled for April 22.

Cotton bags, a long-time source of home sewing fabrics for many American women, come in up-to-date patterns such as this pretty rose print. The double-duty containers are used for packaging feed, flour, and other staple products.

Pythian Sisters To Meet Tuesday; Club Has Session

Pythian Sisters will meet Tuesday, April 15, at the Pythian building at 8 p.m. The refreshment committee will be Mrs. Walter Cummings, Mrs. Audley White and Mrs. Leroy Cline. A rummage sale will be held Friday and Saturday, April 18 and 19, at the Pythian building and members may bring their articles to the meeting if desired.

Past Chiefs' club of the Pythian Sisters will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harry Barneburg, 1297 Sunset avenue with Mrs. Don Anderson assisting.

Pythian club met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Bryant with Mrs. Ruth Dodge as co-hostess. Cards were played with prizes being won by Mrs. Cline, Mrs. Joe Cook, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. Helen Roseman and Mrs. Margaret Davis.

The next meeting will be held April 29 instead of the regularly scheduled meeting, at the home of Mrs. Teresa Schell, 154 Oak street, Ashland. Mrs. Margaret Cochran will assist.

Convention Announced For AAUW

The 33rd convention of the Oregon division, American Association of University Women, will be held in Grants Pass April 24, 25, and 26 according to an announcement made by Mrs. A. J. Johanson, president of the Medford Branch, following confirmation from Miss Maurine Labor, Oregon division president.

"The 1958 state division meeting will present a slightly different approach to problem solving," said Mrs. Johanson. Dr. Willard Spalding, professor of education at Portland State college will address the convention at the Friday morning session on the subject of the responsibility of college women for clear thinking in this period of first impact with the space age. Immediately following his talk, a laboratory experience in group dynamics will be provided the members. Under Dr. Spalding's guidance, state chairmen will lead discussion groups in their particular interest areas, report their group findings, and will hear an evaluation by Dr. Spalding.

Serving as discussion leaders will be Mrs. Paul Buck, Klamath Falls, education; Mrs. Archie Riekkola, Astoria, social studies; Mrs. Louis Sampson, La Grande, international relations; Mrs. Dale Hansen, Coos Bay, arts; Mrs. H. H. Shoop, Pendleton, fellowship; Mrs. Charles Sumski, Oswego, legislation; Mrs. Arthur Bergman, Oswego, publicity; Mrs. Joseph Ellison, Corvallis, communications (mass media); Mrs. Arthur J. Larson, Portland, status of women; Mrs. R. Willard Duncan, Klamath Falls, administration.

A "vacationland" theme has been announced by the Grants Pass hostesses, Mrs. Jane Basker, president of the Grants Pass branch, and Mrs. C. M. Durland, convention chairman. Friday evening, April 25, the Medford and Ashland branch will be hostesses for a Shakespearean banquet to be held at the Rogue Valley Country club, Medford. Mrs. James S. Cummins is general chairman for the banquet. Speaker at the banquet will be Mrs. C. D. Arnold, representing the national office of AAUW.

Chairman Talks For Last Session District Nurses

Dr. Arthur Kreisman, chairman of the Humanities division, Southern Oregon college, told the registered nurses of District Four, Oregon Nurses association, at their last meeting that professional people are marked by the fact that they must give more than they receive in their work. He said that it is a responsibility of a professional organization to protect the quality of service which the public receives and that only to the degree to which a professional nurse shares in this work and responsibility, can she consider herself to be truly professional.

The greatest progress has always been made in those states where professional organization has been strongest, he said. Dr. Kreisman believes that self interest as well as concern for the health care of the public makes it mandatory that every registered nurse in Jackson county be an active member of her professional organizations.

The association met at the nurses residence Camp White. Dr. Wallace Pianka, chief medical officer, was a guest. Members were invited to attend the Cancer committee's silver tea at Hillcrest orchards April 18 from 2 to 4:40 p.m. They were also invited to attend a class to be held in the classroom at Camp White April 30 at 1:45 p.m. Mrs. Evelyn Cohelan, instructor in nursing from the University of California at Berkeley will speak on the "Nurse-patient relationships in the care of the chronically ill and the aging."

Gold Hill—Members of the Sams Valley Extension unit favored a plan to finance a 4-H boy or girl from the Sams Valley, Beagle or the Meadows area, following a discussion held on the subject at the March meeting. It was held in the home of the president, Mrs. Edgar Pleasant.

Mrs. Herman Priem, Mrs. Jack Korner, and Mrs. George A. Loftin were named on the nominating committee. Mrs. Pleasant was selected candidate from the unit for the county advisory committee.

Mrs. J. R. Shope assisted Mrs. Pleasant with the demonstration on meats. Guests were Mrs. B. M. Burreson, Mrs. Charlie Sanderson, Mrs. E. J. Kelly, all Sams Valley, Mrs. W. R. Thompson and Mrs. V. R. Bonham, Beagle and Mrs. H. S. Mussen, Central Point.

Mrs. Victor Croxton will be hostess for the next meeting of the unit at her home Tuesday, April 15, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Coordinated wardrobe will be the topic for the lesson on that date.

The April luncheon committee is Mrs. W. R. Thompson, Mrs. Don Elder, Mrs. George A. Loftin, Mrs. R. H. Southard, Mrs. Ralph J. Ellis,

New Yorkers Raise Money With House, Garden Tours

By Gay Pauley
United Press Women's Editor
New York — Spring these days brings out a new type of tourist—the one who'd rather gape at art treasures of his neighbor than those in the Louvre.

From now until hot weather sets in, Americans will be rubber-necking other people's houses and gardens, and paying for the privilege. The tours are the latest method by which charity organizations, foundations, clubs and other groups raise funds for other causes.

For the price of a ticket, usually $5 or up, the curious may peer into the kitchens, gardens, residences generally and the art collections of the other half.

Everyone's In Act
Mrs. Roger Hull, president of the New York City Garden club, says her group was one of the first in the country to use the tours as a means of raising funds. It held its initial

Home Economists To Hold Meeting On OSC Campus

Corvallis—How home economics can best meet the challenges in home and community living will be explored at the statewide meeting of the Oregon Home Economics association April 25 and 26 at Oregon State college.

Nearly 300 home economists from business, homemaking, teaching, extension, research, communications, institutional management and administration, along with home economics students, are expected to attend the meeting.

The program theme, "Home Economics — Opportunities Unlimited," will be developed through tours, visits to classes, talks by guest speakers, and informal discussion groups. Definition of home economics goals and how they can influence family life will be discussed. Values of home economics training will be shown in a "careers" symposium.

Program speakers will include Dr. A. L. Strand, OSC, president; Mrs. Vera Berney, women's personnel supervisor, Crown Zellerbach corporation; and Dr. John James, professor of sociology at Portland State college and Portland Extension center.

Strengthening public relations within home economics and its publics will highlight the Saturday afternoon session. Dr. James will open the subject with "What Is a Cultured Woman?"

An Oregon home economist who has given "long and faithful service to her profession, contributed to family and community life and world fellowship" will be honored as home economist of achievement at the Saturday night banquet.
